Russia's Reply.
Thanks, Sir Henri.
Soul and Body One.
Quite a Budget.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

A WASHINGTON correspondent says Secretary of State Stimson was surprised to learn that Russia considers our meddling in China "not a friendly act."

Considering that we have refused to recognize the Russian government, putting on airs, calling ourselves superior, and then having the effrontery to tell Russia what Russia should do in China, what could we expect?

RUSSIA, in territory, is bigger than the United States. In population, she is greater.

In ability she is not inferior.

Who are we, with all our money, that we should tell Russia what to do?

WE don't allow Russia to dictate to us. And the Russians show common sense when they tell us to do what we don't know enough to do, namely, TO MIND OUR OWN BUSINESS. Russia did not tell us what to do, with our Marines in Nicaragua.

SIR HENRI WILHELM AUGUST DETERDING, head boss of the Royal Dutch Shell Company of Europe, is perhaps the greatest oil man, excepting our own John D.

Sir Henri's descent upon the United States oil industry, taking in everything, from wells to wagons, did not please American oil men. It was too much like the descent of Atilla on western Europe.

BUT if American oil men will take the advice that Deterding gave them in Chicago on Tuesday, they may save, in the future, a great deal more than Deterding's extraordinarily able competition is costing them today.

Deterding warns American oil operators against our dangerous waste and overproduction.

He warns the people of the United States that they are now recklessly squandering, and lavishly exporting a precious product that they will be compelled to buy back later, at higher prices.

The fact that Deterding's companies, invading the United States, have become the most aggressive factor in the American oil industry, should not keep American oil men from accepting Mr. Deterding's warning.

They may not enjoy his competition. They should value his common sense.

ONE of the most important institutions in America is the new psychiatric unit of the medical center at Columbia College.

Dr. Butler, of Columbia, Dr. Kirby, and all promoting that important scientific center, including the New York State authorities, are to be congratulated.

AT the dedication on Tuesday, Dr. Eugene Bleuler of the University of Zurich, explained to a hundred and fifty assembled scientists that acquired characteristics are transmitted through successive generations. Average intelligence realizes that.

PROF. BLEULER says the body and soul are one.

Billions upon billions of individual cells make up the human body. They are the inhabitants of a great republic, one human being. Each cell has its spark of consciousness, the total being a human mind.

THE human body and mind are the two great marvels of our small world.

Don't fail to read "The Universe Around Us," by Sir James Jeans, published by the MacMillan Company. After you have read that book you will gasp, and you will know more.

YOU will also feel greater respect for Prof. Millikan, California scientist, who told the world about cosmic rays, which, coming from distant space, far outside of the galactic circle, bombard our earth.

IT MAY interest you to know, on the authority of Prof. Jeans, one of the greatest living scientists, that those Millikan rays "break up millions of atoms in each of our bodies every second."

But thus bombarded we go on living. How many atoms must we have?

LUCKILY for us our "to solid flesh" is in reality only an aggregate of electrons, little particles of electrical energy, each revolving around its nucleus.

YOU ought to read that book "The Universe Around Us," if you have a fairly good mental digestion This entire column will be devoted to it presently.

This is mentioned that department stores and book stores may be prepared to meet a demand.

PRESIDENT HOOVER presents to Congress a budget of three billion eight hundred and thirty million and a few odd hundred thousand dollars.

It seems a great deal as compared with the days before the war when the government spent one billion in two years and everybody yelled "what extravagance!"

HOWEVER, thanks to Secretary Mellon, President Coolidge and President Hoover, the amount that we are going to spend next year is a great deal less than we have been spending.

The income tax will be cut $160,000,000, if plans go through.

LOST FLIER FOUND DEAD IN CRASH

Body Discovered by Hunter Few Miles From Cleveland, Destination of Mail Pilot

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The body of Pilot Thomas P. Nelson and his air mail plane, badly shattered, were found this afternoon by a hunter near Chagrin Falls, 35 miles southeast of here.

Nelson met death early Monday morning while flying the air mail from Bellefonte, Pa., to Cleveland, in a heavy, blinding snowstorm.

Nelson's body had been hurled by terrific impact of the plane against the ground, about 25 feet from the wreckage.

THREE-DAY SEARCH

The body was found by Joseph Vincent, of Chagrin Falls, a hunter, ending a three-day search made by Nelson's fellow pilots over most of Northeastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had led 15 airplanes all this morning, covering the section between Cleveland and Youngstown, north to Lake Erie, in frantic search for Nelson, not knowing whether he was dead or alive.

The wrecked plane was in a ravine hardly 25 feet from state highway 422, but was concealed

Cold Spell Broken For Rest of Week

Pittsburghers can put away their ear muffs for a few days, for, according to the local weather bureau, there isn't going to be any more near zero weather for a while.

The frigid wave of the last three days is gone, the local forecaster declares, and for three or four days moderately fair weather will prevail.

For tonight and Friday the local forecast is "Fair, not much change in temperature. Lowest temperature tonight between 30 and 35 degrees."

House Speeds Up Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Consideration of the administration-sponsored tax reduction bill was begun today in the House with leaders prepared to expedite work in the hope of sending the resolution calling for a 1 per cent cut in the income rates for individuals and corporations to the Senate before adjournment.

SENATE VOTES ON VARE TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Senate leaders reached an informal understanding today to vote late in the day on the Vare case, disposing first of the Wilson-Vare election contest and immediately afterwards voting upon the Norris resolution to exclude Senator-elect Vare, of Pennsylvania, on account of his campaign expenditures.

LEGALLY ELECTED

The decision was reached after Senator Waterman, (Rep.), of Colorado, chairman of an elections sub-committee which spent two years investigating Vare's election, reported to the Senate that the Republican leader of Philadelphia had been legally elected in the 1926 election. If all the votes in every district challenged by his Democratic oppo-

Wonder Dolls Await Girls To Give Them Homes

By THE DOLL LADY.

We feel right at home here in Pittsburgh.

It didn't take us long to get settled either, and my dolls are as happy and contented as if if they had been here a week instead of just a day.

Doll Lady

My doll-babies are eagerly looking forward to seeing many of the little folks who attended our reception Wednesday and chose their own dollies from among my big family of famous dolls.

There were many mothers at our big party Wednesday afternoon, and I was so glad to see them, as I know with the help of the mothers, the little ones will be able to have one of my dollies very, very soon.

The dollies love the little children as much as the children love them, and they make such wonderful playmates for little girls. They may dress and undress a famous singing doll. take her to parties and school, and my doll-children are chums worth having, and chums of which every child is always proud.

At the party on Wednesday, I talked to one of the little girls who got her doll for her own. She told me all about the pretty silk dress her mother is going to make for the dollie, and she also

Wives of Slain Bigamist Meet for First Time At Death Inquiry

David J. Sturtz was murdered and his two wives met for the first time today in the office of George W. Murren, chief of county detectives.

Mrs. David J. Sturtz, wife No. 1, mature and kindly, walked into the office and took a chair beside the slight form of Mrs. David J. Staylor, wife No. 2.

"Do you know who she is?" Chief Murren asked wife No. 1, the mother of the slain man's two children, David, 10, and Gene, 4.

Sturtz or Staylor

She nodded and smiled.

"I'm sorry for you," Mrs. Sturtz said quietly, "sorry because the man you loved was murdered, and because you found out that he was not your husband.

"I feel badly for you. You're such a little thing."

BREAKS INTO TEARS

Nineteen-year-old Mrs. Hazel Staylor, who for 19 months thought she was the legal wife of the murdered Sturtz, broke into tears.

Questioned by Detective John Burke, for three hours they sat immobile, now and then sobbing, helping as they thought they could to shed light on the mysterious murder of their former mate.

Dismissed from questioning, a

Letters Threaten Mrs. Mott's Child

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—Letters threatening to harm her 9-year-old daughter, Denise, have led Mrs. Dee Furey Mott, recently-divorced from Charles S. Mott, General Motors vice president, to abandon all future plans and remain in seclusion, she said today.

Mrs. Mott attributes the threats to "fanatics" who apparently were inspired by publicity given her divorce in which a settlement of nearly $1,000,000 was made upon her and her daughter, Denise is under constant guard of private detectives.

Lou Tellegen's Wife Gets Final Decree

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Mrs. Isabel Craven Tellegen, actress, today held a final decree of divorce from Lou Tellegen. She also was given custody of their 5-year-old son, Rex. The Tellegens were married in 1923. Mrs. Tellegen said her husband admitted infidelity, making similar charges falsely against her. The decree was granted yesterday. Tellegen previously was married to Geraldine Farrar, opera singer.

CRIME WARNING LAW IN TEST

LEWISBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—A test in Pennsylvania of the ancient statute providing for a fine of $500, three years in jail, or both, for having knowledge of the commission of a felony and failing to report it, in connection with prohibition enforcement, will result from charges filed against three men by prohibition agents here.

The three men against whom the charges were brought are Samuel Marks, of Danville;; Leon Lebo, of Lykens, and Louis Wentzler, also of Lykens.

All are associated with the Lykens Brewery and Ice Company, of Lykens, and all have also been charged with transporting liquor and with bribing prohibition agents.

Co-defendants in the transporting and bribing charges are Dan Britton, of Lykens, and Leo Moerschbacher, of Sunbury.

The prosecution under the law of 1796 is believed to be the first in Pennsylvania in connection with the failure of witnesses of prohibition law violations to report them to the authorities.

Woman Bootlegger Drops Bottle in War Department

WASHINGTON, Dec 5.—(INS.)—An attractive young woman delivering liquor to her customers in the War Department fled precipitately this morning when a bottle of her wares slipped from under her coat and crashed on the stone floor of a corridor in the department.

She quickly disappeared.

The bottle was dropped near Room 53, which is occupied by the Enlisted Personnel Bureau.

An investigation was immediately begun, but all the occupants of that bureau denied the liquor was intended for them.

Nobody was able to furnish a description of the girl.

RESCUE CREWS SEEKING VICTIMS BELIEVED BURIED ALIVE

Four persons were killed and more than 40 injured, several probably fatally, by a gas explosion which wrecked the Munhall postoffice, Eighth avenue and Ravine street, Munhall, early this afternoon.

Half a dozen persons in the postoffice and three in an apartment on the second floor were caught in the blast.

Passengers on a crowded street car of the Pittsburgh, Homestead and East Pittsburgh line were injured by flying glass as windows were shattered by the explosion.

BLOWN INTO STREET

Debris from the wrecked building, a two-story brick and frame, was blown into Eighth avenue, blocking all traffic.

Four ambulances were rushed to the scene.

Mrs. Martha Thirkel, 38, wife of George Thirkel, who occupied apartments above the postoffice, was the first victim identified. Her body was found in the wreckage. Nearby, her husband was taken from the ruins and rushed to the Homestead Hospital.

A Mrs. Gray, a sister, visiting Mrs. Thirkel at the time, was injured. A son of one of the women also was reported injured. So many were injured that the Homestead Hospital was unable to care for the rush of victims and three ambulances were ordered to the scene from the Braddock General Hospital.

DIGGING FOR BURIED

Workmen of the Homestead Steel Works began digging in the ruins within half an hour after the blast, hoping to rescue alive those buried under the debris.

An expressman and two other postal employes were reported to have been in the postoffice, along with three other men, when the explosion occurred.

John Conway, Munhall postmaster, and Edward Riley, superintendent of the postoffice, were caught in the blast. Both were taken to Homestead Hospital, the extent of their injuries being undetermined.

A gas leak appeared as the probable cause, according to Daniel Armstrong, assistant postmaster of the Homestead postoffice, of which the Munhall postoffice was a sub-station.

Armstrong reported that Riley detected a gas odor in the building this morning. The odor appeared to come from beneath the floor, Armstrong quoted Riley.

Mrs. James Gibson, 23, Homestead Park, a passenger on the street car, severely bruised in the crush of passengers, said:

"The car was crowded. The explosion blew in the windows, scattering glass over everyone. I saw one woman with her nose almost severed. All was confusion, with the women screaming and struggling to get off the car. My arm was hurt, but I was lucky

RAILROADS PLEDGE HOOVER $1,050,000,000 EXPANSION

RESIDENT ADVISES 'WORK'

rd, Young and Schwab At Parley of Industrial Chiefs to Boom Business

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—have no desire to preach, I y, however, mention one od old word—work!'"

Addressing some 400 cap- ns of American business d industry today, among m such outstanding figures Henry Ford, Owen D. Young, arles M. Schwab, James A. Far- , and the heads of the great lroads and utilities systems of country. President Hoover ded out this homely formula work"—as the best means of mulating business and enabling to overcome the slackening eatened by the stock market bacle.

ENS CONFERENCE

The President's address opened National Business Conference, bilized by the United States amber of Commerce at Hoo- 's request to carry on the k initiated at the more per- al White House conferences. Reports of heavy expenditures itemplated by various indus- s followed the speeches of the sident and several businesss ders.

The major railroad systems of country plan a billion-dollar ital expenditure program dur- 1930, R. H. Aishton, president the American Railway Associa- n, said.

"In the past 10 days," said shton, "every class one rail- ad in the United States has refully revised its program d the aggregate of their bud- ts for the year 1930 follows: "Equipment, $370,000,000; adway and structures, $680,- 0,000; total, $1,050,000,000.

EAR RECORD

"The situation on October 1 owed a greater authorized ogram of railway improve- nts and capital expenditures der way than in any similar riod for the past five years. "In addition, the railways are pending this year $1,300,000,- 0 in purchase of supplies for aintainance and $3,000,000,000 wages to railway employes."

The public utilities of the na- n will spend $1,400,000,000 dur- 1930, an increase of $110,000,- over the expenditures this ar, Matthew S. Sloan, president the National Electric Light As- iation, announced.

The electric utilities alone plan spend $865,000,000—$65,000,000 ove the figures for 1928, he said. R. C. Marshall, representing the sociated General Contractors, imated that construction work the United States next year uld involve expenditures of 000,000,000.

RUCTURE STRONG

The basic business structure of country is strong and healthy, President declared, and the ncipal dangers to guard against pessimism and fear, which, in n, produce retrenchment and imately unemployment.

t is up to business itself and its ders, he said, to carry on the vement that the government lf has initiated in increasing struction and prudently ex- ding necessary programs.

"All of these movements," he id, "have one end—to assure ployment and to remove the ar of unemployment."

The employment situation has n considerably strengthened l stabilized already, the Presi- t said, through the assur- es given him by leaders of ustry that they would not take antage of the present situa- n to initiate wage cuts, and responding assurances by la- leaders they would not agitate e increases.

Mr. Hoover described the con- uction industry as the great ance wheel of the country's nomic structure for the build- of homes, of factories and of uctures of all kinds has ramifi- tions that extend into the thermost recesses of the gen- l industrial system.

Alfonso Approves $49,000,000 Loan

MADRID, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—King onso last night signed a decree proving an interior loan of 350,- 0,000 pesetas (about $49,000,- 0) at 6 per cent, to be launched January 1. The proceeds will used to repay credits made by eign banks, principally of the ited States and Great Britain.

Speaker Defends Films Against Moral Charge

Man must choose to be moral and motion picture censor- ip will not aid him, Dr. Clinton Wunder, of New York and chester, asserted at a joint luncheon of the Inter-Club Coun- today in the Fort Pitt Hotel.

"The only effective form of nsorship I have been able to scover is that registered at the x office when you buy or fail buy a ticket for a particular ow," the speaker pointed out upholding the trend of screen roductions.

Dr. Wunder, ordained a Bap- t minister and builder of the 000,000 Baptist Temple and vscraper office building in chester, has devoted 15 years to tdying motion pictures. His ad- ss, entitled, "The Truth About llywood," was heard by mem- s of the Aero, Co-operative, Ro- y, Lions, Monarch and Merca- clubs, as guests of the Ki- wanis Club of Pittsburgh. He has been a social worker, reporter, author, day laborer and World War veteran, chaplain.

With a liberal view towards the screen, he said in part:

"Movie morals are just like the morals of the audience which sees the movie. Our sins and sorrows, our vices and virtues are here reflected.

"We don't go wrong because of what we see. The weak, the mentally subnormal, the criminal born will always seek to violate our laws. We don't make man moral by laws or censorship."

that I wasn't more seriously injured."

Windows in the Star drug- store adjoining the postoffice, in the H. G. Patterson hardware store, the Munhall Real Estate office and in an A. & P. store several doors away in Eighth ave- nue, were shattered.

TARDINESS SAVES LIFE

Cecelia Olson, 18, of 815 Brown street, Munhall, escaped probable death in the Munhall explosion because she was late.

"Mrs. Thirkel was a good friend of mine," Cecelia re- lated. "I had promised to wash her windows this afternoon. I was late getting there. She lived on the second floor over the postoffice.

"As I got within 50 yards of the building I heard and saw the explosion. It staggered me. The noise was terrific and my eardrums seemed to burst. Everything seemed to flatten out. Glass showered all around me.

"After the explosion I walked to the wreckage and the first thing I saw was the body of my friend—Mrs. Thirkel."

Miss Mulcare, returning to her position in the Homestead Steel Works office from a lunch at the Whitaker Methodist Church, stopped off to visit her friend, Mrs. Thirkle.

The two were in the Thirkel apartment only a few minutes when the blast occurred.

BUILDING SHATTERED

The postoffice building was lit- erally blown to pieces. The brick walls were torn away and the framework reduced to splinters.

The entire police force of the Homestead Steel works was en- listed to keep back the crowds while 200 firemen dug in the ruins.

Hundreds of persons crowded against the rope barriers on the streets near the scene. Oothers looked on from poles, roofs of nearby buildings and the hill- side overlooking the place.

Two assistant physicians, at the emergency hospital, Homestead Works, Carnegie Steel Company, Dr. George R. Sipple and Dr. A. K. Lewis, went to the Homestead Hospital to aid the staff physi- cians of that institution.

Miss F. V. Ludekens, superin- tendent of Homestead Hospital, called 12 staff doctors and 40 nurses. As each patient was brought in a doctor and nurse was assigned.

The Pittsburgh chapter, Amer- ican Red Cross, sent an ambu- lance and four workers to the scene.

Lobbyist's Death Of 'Grief' Laid To Senator

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The United States Pot- ters' Association today had con- demned Senator Thaddeus Caraway, of Arkansas, for an attack upon the late William Burgess, lobbyist of the Potters' Association.

Burgess, said a resolution adopted by the potters' at the final session of their convention yesterday, died last week in his New Jersey home from "a broken heart induced by Cara- way's unwarranted attack."

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—William Burgess died at his home in Morrisville, Pa., just across the Delaware River from Trenton, November 20, after several days' illness of pneumonia contracted in Wash- ington where he had been at- tending sessions of the Senate lobby investigation.

Order Martial Law In Republic of Haiti

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Martial law has been declared in the republic of Haiti, the fed- eral government was advised to- day in official dispatches.

The situation which led to this action is believed from informa- tion available to have grown out of a strike among the school teachers of the republic, which apparently now has become rather widespread in other lines.

American marines now occupy Haiti and the gendarmerie there is officered by Marine Corps offi- cers.

Two Prostrated By Monoxide Gas

W. D. Wilkinson, 32, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lottie W. Wil- kinson, 34, both of 513 Emlin street, North Side, were overcome by carbon monoxide today. Wil- kinson was visiting his sister-in- law in her apartment. Dr. A. M. C. Huston, city physician, had them removed to the Allegheny General Hospital. They are ex- pected to recover.

G. O. P. Chairman Sued for $88,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—Claudius H. Huston, of Tennes- see, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was named defendant today in a suit filed in District Supreme Court by Guy M. Standifer, described as a New York shipper.

The bill claimed the plaintiff lent Huston $88,000 last year and has received no repayment.

Stomach Analysis Of Student Ready

MULCTS VETS, PAROLED

Pleading guilty to collecting ex- cess funds from five World War veterans for aiding them in se- curing government compensa- tions, Bruce B. Hatfield, of East Ninth street, Washington, D. C., was paroled today for two years by Judge R. M. Gibson, presiding in Federal Court.

Judge Gibson ordered Hatfield to remit to George O'Brien, fed- eral parole officer, the sum of $800. Hatfield, himself a veteran of the World War, had collected $150 each from John Jrupa, But- ler street; Clyde McClinpock, of New Lexington, Pa.; Loyal Mc- Clinpock, of Fort Hill, Pa., and Abbison Strong, Dunbar, Pa. From Willis O. Green, of Summerfield, Pa., a sum of $200 was collected.

Hatfield was arrested under an act of Congress prohibiting any- one from collecting more than $10 for aiding veterans in securing compensation.

U. S.-RUSSIAN CLASH CLOSED INCIDENT

Secretary Stimson Indicates No Reply Will Be Made To Litvinoff's Rebuke

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The sharp exchange of notes between Secretary of State Stimson and Maxim Litvinoff, the foreign minister of Soviet Russia, over Sino-Russian hos- tilities in Manchuria, was pro- nounced a closed incident by the State Department today.

Although surprised and some- what indignant at the "rebuke" which Litvinoff administered to the State Department for its ac- tion in reminding him of Russia's duty under the Paris peace pact, there will be no reply by Secre- tary Stimson.

Stimson said today he consid- ered his statement late yesterday, in which he denied that any "un- friendly motives" actuated him in addressing Russia, fully answered the Soviet foreign min- ister, and that the incident is closed.

Congress took some recognizance of the situation today, however, when Rep. Morton Hull (Rep.), of Illinois, introduced a resolution giving President Hoover power to forbid export of arms or ammu- nition to either Russia or China.

nent, William B. Wilson, were thrown out, the committee re- porte through Waterman, Vare would still be the victor by a mar- gin of 19,049.

On the whole, Waterman said, the election in Pennsylvania, which provoked the three-year battle over Vare's seat, was fair and just.

The committee, Waterman ex- plained, listed 53 Philadelphia voting districts, in which evidence of fraud was produced. In 20 of them there was only a duplica- tion of names on the voting lists. In 13, names of voters were never identified. The other instances involved more apparent frauds.

REPORT ON FRAUD

Touching on Wilson's charges of frauds in Pittsburgh, Water- man reported that the committee had found but 31 districts "in which fraud may also have oc- curred." He said the committee had disproved Wilson's charge that "widespread fraud through- out the city of Pittsburgh" had resulted in a "conspiracy to de- feat Wilson."

"The total number of ballots affected by these 31 Pittsburgh districts," Waterman explained, "as shown by the recount, is 3,689, of which 531 were counted for Wilson and 3,158 for Vare.

"So all the ballots affected, both in Philadelphia and Pitts- burgh, in the districts where fraud may have occurred, amount to 20,086, of which 2,158 were claimed by Wilson and 17,928 by Vare."

The result, he said, of throwing out all the ballots in these dis- tricts would merely reduce Vare's 200,000 plurality by 20,000 votes.

Nomination of officers and board members of the Springdale Chamber of Commerce will be held at its annual meeting Tues- day, December 10, in the chamber headquarters, Uhlinger building, Springdale. Important business pertaining to the borough will be transacted.

PROBE GARBAGE CONTRACTS

Charges of irregularities in garbage contracts made by At- torney H. O. Evans to the district attorney's office several days ago, were still being investigated today following a report by Harry J. Phillips, assistant district at- torney.

Phillips reported to District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner that so far he has been unable to find any law covering such cases, which would enable him to make information. He will continue his search, he said, in the possi- bility that some statute governing such procedures might be discov- ered.

WONDER DOLLS AWAIT GIRLS

said that her mother was so de- lighted with the dress her doll wears now that she is going to have one just like it. Won't that be fine? I do not wonder, as my dollies certainly wear the prettiest dotted Swiss dresses.

They are so dainty, washable, and are exactly the thing for a doll to wear—or for a little girl to wear — when they play to- gether all day long. Every little girl who has a famous Sun-Tele- graph doll of her own is always happy, always busy, never fretting or crying, because she knows her doll-baby is always, happy, too, and is ever ready to recite and sing. Who could be naughty with such a playmate?

Tomorrow I shall tell you of more of the little girls who are going to be devoted mothers to my doll-children. Some of the dolls are going out into the country to live, and they tell me they love it where there are many cats, dogs and chickens. They love the cool, fresh air, and will be delighted with the country life, especially where they can have a sleigh ride.

I am always so pleased when one of my children finds a good home, and whether it is in the country or the city, I shall be contented.

Read my stories every day, as I have so much to tell you about my big family, and all the little children who visit with us each day.

Don't forget that the Doll Lady is at Hahn Furniture Company, 6285 Frankstown avenue, and Hahn Furniture Company, 809 Federal street, North Side.

Navy Officer Called In Doheny Lease Suit

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Commander R. F. Landin, United States Navy, was summoned to take the stand today in the gov- ernment's suit against Edward L. Doheny and the Pan-American Petroleum Company seeking can- cellation of three oil leases val- ued at $15,000,000 in the Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil reserve.

Landin was supervisor of all naval oil reserves in California in 1921 when they were trans- ferred by the late President Hard- ing from the Navy Department to the Department of the Interior under Secretary Albert B. Fall.

Ex-Governor Hart Dead at Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Louis F. Hart, former governor of Washington, died at a hospital here last night while sleeping.

He entered the hospital a few days ago to rest prior to having his teeth removed. He went to sleep at 11:30 p. m. and died a few minutes later. Physicians attributed his death to apoplexy.

GRUNDY HELD LIKELY VARE SUCCESSOR

Failure of Wilson's Claim Pleases State Leaders; Renewed Fight Probable

By W. I. GRUNDISH.
Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—The decision of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections not to sustain the claims of William B. Wilson, Democrat, to the senatorship from Pennsylvania, was re- ceived by Gov. John S. Fisher and other political leaders of the state here with relief.

While they have been prepared for months for news that William S. Vare, Republican, has been barred, they were worried over the possibility that the Demo- cratic-Independent coalition in the Senate might decide to seat Wilson in the place of the Phila- delphia leader.

GIVES FISHER CHOICE

As the matter stands now, the re- jection of Vare will enable the Governor to appoint a Senator to serve until he or another is nom- inated and elected next year.

There is little doubt but that Joseph R. Grundy, head of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' As- sociation, will be Fisher's first choice.

It is not certain that Grundy will accept. Nor is it certain that he will be accepted by the Senate in the event that he is nominated by Fisher, not only because of his statements on the stand during the recent investigation into the activities of lobbyists, but because of his admissions as a witness be- fore the Reed committee seeking information as on the money spent in the Pennsylvania pri- mary of 1926.

GRUNDY SURE OF OFFER

That testimony revealed that the ticket headed by George Wharton Pepper and Fisher, with Grundy-Mellon support, spent considerably more money than either Vare or Gifford Pinchot, and that Grundy was active in raising a portion of it. That the Governor intends to offer Grundy the place does not seem to be speculation but fact, although Fisher himself is maintaining silence.

With the exceptions of the principals, those most interested in the affair at Washington are the score or more of candidates for governor.

VARE MAY RUN AGAIN

Vare, if rejected, may decide to run again next year against who- ever the Governor might name, or he may insist on the right to name his successor.

If the organization choice for Senate is from Philadelphia or en- virons, the governor may come from the West. This is encourag- ing to friends of Gen. Edward Martin, who seems at least a passive candidate, Harry B. Scott and others from west of the mountains.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, also credited to the West, also figures to gain an advantage by a Philadelphian running for Senate on the same ticket. He is being boomed in Pittsburgh by Commissioner Joseph G. Arm- strong.

Record Price Paid For Champion Steer

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—A new world's record price of $8.25 a pound was paid today for Lucky Strike, the grand champion steer of the 1929 international live stock show. Elliott Brown, the 20- year-old farm boy of Rosehill, Iowa, whose steer won the premier award of the exposition, will re- ceive nearly $7,700 for his 930- pound animal. J. C. Penney, chain store operator, again was the successful bidder at today's auction. Last year Penney pur- chased Dick, the grand champion of the 1928 show, at a new record price of $7.00 a pound. Clarence Goecke, of State Center, Iowa, was Dick's owner.

Wealthy Widow, 69, Adopts Student, 27, as Son

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Because she is lonely and feels the need of a protector in her old age, a 69-year-old widow who has $750,000 in property and a yearly income of $25,000 has adopted a 27-year-old college student as her son.

Mrs. Lisa W. Sandford, a de- scendant of an old New York fam- ily, said the adoption of Baronig Baron, an Armenian, had the full approval of her daughter, now on her way home from abroad. She explained the daughter would continue to be the principal bene- ficiary at her death.

Baron, who came to America in 1921, said his parents and an elder brother had been massacred be- fore his eyes by Turks. He is a student at Columbia University and became acquainted with Mrs. Sandford through the Rev. Dr. Sidney Ussher, Episcopalian min- ister at Welfare Island, where Mrs. Sandford was engaged in philanthropic work.

"Why I should wish a son and a protector can be understood by any woman who is alone in the world at my age," she said.

Her petition for adoption was presented in Orphans' Court at Hackensack, N. J., and promptly granted. In it she listed her wealth. She resides in an elabo- rate apartment house in Central Park West. Her husband died in 1921.

PROSECUTION CONFESSES WEAKNESS

State's Case Fails in Face Of Witnesses' Hostility; Judge Instructs Release

By JAMES L. GILGALLEN
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—George A. McManus walked out of court today a free man, Judge Charles C. Mott, Jr., dismissed the indictment against McManus charging him with the murder of Arnold Rothstein because of lack of evidence.

Judge Mott directed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty." McManus, his dark face lighted with a smile, stood up and faced the jury as the jurors arose in the jury box and rendered their verdict.

The judge said the state had failed to produce evidence linking McManus with the crime and that he, therefore, took the responsibility of the verdict from the hands of the jury.

STATE ADMITS WEAKNESS

McManus was warmly congratulated by friends as he left the courtroom. He walked over to where his wife sat with his sister and kissed both of them. He left the Criminal Courts Building amid a booming of flashlights.

"I am very glad and very happy," said McManus. "I don't know what to say. Give me a chance to get my bearings. I'm going up to see my mother as soon as I can get out of here."

The courtroom was thronged when the session opened this morning, many women being among the spectators.

Assistant District Attorney George N. Brothers addressed the court, explaining that "when we started this case we expected to produce evidence that would definitely link this defendant with the crime."

"Witnesses called by the state were, in many instances, hostile," said Brothers. "We have done our best."

The attitude of Brothers was construed as tantamount to an admission that the state's case had fallen flat.

"OATH FLAUNTED"

Judge Nott leaned forward on the bench and addressed the 12 men in the jury box.

"I recognize that what the state's attorney says regarding the witnesses is true. They have been hostile. In my opinion most of the witnesses were hostile. They were of an undesirable element and many of them demonstrated they did not have a proper appreciation of their duty as witnesses under oath.

"The district attorney's office was seeking the truth and no doubt did the best it could in performance of its duty. Of necessity, they had to take the witness stand where they could.

"Under the law it is not sufficient for the state to show the hypothesis that a man could have committed an act. The state must prove that he did commit the act."

"In this case I do not believe the state has produced evidence substantiating the indictment which charges that he committed the act.

"I do not feel, therefore, that the jury should have to take the responsibility of rendering the verdict in this case.

"The court will take the responsibility itself and instructs you, gentlemen of the jury, to return a verdict of not guilty against this defendant."

McManus was one of the four men indicted for the murder of Rothstein, a "big shot" Broadway gambler, who was mysteriously and fatally shot in the Park Central Hotel, November 4, 1928. The other three indicted were Hyman Biller, "John Doe" and "Richard Roe." All but McManus disappeared.

U. S. LEADERSHIP IN AIR LOOMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—A forecast that it is only a question of time until the United States will lead the world in air passenger traffic was made today in the annual report of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, submitted to Congress by President Hoover.

"America is producing the requisite technical knowledge," the report said, "to improve the safety and efficiency of aircraft so as to bring this about without direct cash subsidies, and for the further reason that the nation's great area will make an important factor of the time to be saved by air travel."

The country was shown to be leading in several phases of aviation, abreast of other nations in some respects, but lagging definitely behind in many developments.

America leads the world, the committee reported, in the use of aircraft for commercial purposes, in the extent and lighting of airways, in weather report service, in the development of radio communication and directional finding facilities, in air mail transportation, in crop dusting and forest patrol from the air, and in the development of cowling for air-cooled engines and engine starters.

Army Studies Cause Of Forced Landings

WRIGHT FIELD, O.—(AP.)—Forced landings, regarded by the Army Air Corps as more annoying than serious, and heretofore not reported to headquarters unless serious damage or injury resulted, are to receive close scrutiny with a view to their elimination.

Orders have been issued to air corps aviators that all forced landings, due to any cause, must be reported to air corps headquarters in Washington, with an analysis of the cause. The reports will be assembled by the inspection division and studied in an effort to find a way to eliminate the causes.

Air corps officials feel that there have been too many forced landings and that only a close study of causes will bring about their elimination.

May Force Blease To Testify in Death

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—The District Supreme Court this afternoon was considering whether compulsory proceedings shall be instituted to have Senator Cole L. Blease (Dem.), South Carolina, appear before the grand jury in response to a subpena. Blease was summoned last night as a witness in connection with a new inquiry into the death a few years ago of a local detective.

SOME OF THINGS SHERIFF REMOVED FROM HOME

EVICTED JUNK BLOCKS STREET

A pile of junk and refuse 200 feet long and eight feet high was blocking traffic in the vicinity of the home of R. V. Morgan, 55, a junk dealer, of 1714 Marquis way, today, while deputy sheriffs were figuring a way to relieve the situation, as the result of the eviction of Morgan from his house for alleged non-payment of rent.

Beds, mirrors, pots and pans and davenports added to the traffic problem.

Morgan, who is now unemployed, said officials of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company, renting agents, evicted him and his wife yesterday, although they wanted to pay their rent.

The agents said fear of fire from the junk and complaints of neighbors caused them to take drastic action in the eviction proceedings.

SMITH, FLORIST FOUNDER, DIES

First to realize the beauty and commercial value of poinsettia, Anthony W. Smith, Sr., 83, founder and president of the A. W. Smith Company, florists, died last night at the family home, 425 Boggs avenue, Mt. Washington. Mr. Smith also is credited with being the first florists to make extensive use of advertising.

Born in Akron, he was brought here by his family when a year old. Three years after establishing his first business in the Allegheny Market in 1872, Mr. Smith introduced the Mexican and South American shrub as a Christmas evergreen. Its popularity grew from year to year.

He outgrew his first business stand in 1893 and, following successive expansions, eventually erected a building at Smithfield street and Sixth avenue in 1924.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Eliza Jarvis Miles Smith, he leaves one daughter, Vera Miles Smith, at home; two sons, A. W. Smith, Jr., of Pittsburgh, and W. J. Smith, of Youngstown, and one brother, Joseph H. Smith, of Pittsburgh.

FLANNERY WINS ACQUITTAL

James J. Flannery, undertaker of 72 Chatham street, was acquitted today by a jury in Criminal court on charges of counterfeiting and conspiracy. The jury was out less than an hour. Flannery was directed to pay the costs on the conspiracy charge.

Flannery was accused of indorsing a check in the name of Anne Sunners, which was made payable to her by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, representing the proceeds of a policy for $1,000, of which she was beneficiary. Flannery contended the check was turned over to him by Daniel Heckman, for whom Schneider worked, and that the matter was done with the sanction of the Sunners woman and because she could not write. The court instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal on the conspiracy charge.

SUBPENA 20 IN FORNEY CASE

Twenty witnesses have been subpenaed by the district attorney's office for the trial of Alfred W. Forney, alleged slot machine king, scheduled for trial December 10, it was announced today.

The witnesses will be turned over to Assistant District Attorney Andrew T. Park for questioning preparatory to the trial, so he may be able to prepare for the trial.

The witnesses were subpenaed by county detectives during the past several days.

Forney was released under $5,000 bail by District Attorney S. H. Gardner last week, after he walked into the court house and surrendered. He had disappeared from Allegheny County nine months ago.

Charges of maintaining gambling devices and of being a common gambler are pending against him.

DENIES MARKET RAT MENACE

"It's absolutely false that there are any rats in the South Side market stands," Thomas A. Brennen, Jr., a butcher of the market, today answered to the declaration of Mrs. John M. Phillips, Carrick, that rats infest that market house.

"We have the cleanest market in the city," Brennen said, "and there are absolutely no rats in it. There are rats in the rubbish and garbage piles back of the market, and we try to poison or get rid of them frequently. The garbage is removed daily and the rubbish every three or four days."

Brennen's statement, made in behalf of all of the standholders, was in reply to Mrs. Phillips' complaint to Council concerning conditions at the market. Her complaint was followed by an order from Public Works Director Edward G. Lang for the employment of a rat exterminator.

Warren's Successor Not to Be Candidate

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Appointment of Patrick Sullivan, of Casper, Wyo., as United States Senator, was made with the understanding Mr. Sullivan will not be a candidate for election, Gov. 3 SHIPS SAVED IN WILD SEA

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Dec. 5.—(AP)—A heaving sea which still held the fate of a score of missing fishermen yesterday released its grip on three ships and permitted them to dock safely here after five days of battle with the winds, waves and snow.

During the afternoon a battered hero of the sea, the steamer Sagaiche, staggered into the harbor towing behind her the crippled Norwegian freighter Hertha, which for five days she had guarded from the fury of the storm. Somewhere behind them in the Atlantic were the bodies of three pilots who had gone to their aid from Cape Spear as the ships had struggled to reach safety a short distance away on Friday night.

Aboard the Saguache was Capt. Bendetti, who with the same crew heroically rescued the crew of the steamer Roeldrem in mid-ocean a year ago. Pride because of his latest victory over the seas was buried beneath his sorrow over the loss of the men.

"I would rather spend five years in prison than have such a tragedy happen near my ship," he said.

At dusk the small 50-ton schooner Watersprite, covered with ice from deck to masthead was towed into port, the first of a fleet of seven fishing vessels to be heard of since they left here homeward bound to Wesleyville, Friday night. Aboard were 10 men and one woman, the 20-year-old daughter of the captain, none of whom had a warm meal or any sleep since Friday night.

SENATORS SPLIT ON HOOVER'S COURT PLEA

Step Toward U. S. Entrance Seen by Some; Porter Cites Peril of Meddling

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Commenting on the President's message, Senator Sheppard (D.), of Texas, said:

"I believe the President's recommendation that the United States enter the World Court of the League of Nations is a step toward the League of Nations. Our entrance into the World Court would be a step further toward the league of which it is a part. Whether we enter the League of Nations is a matter for the people to decide. Of course I am an advocate of the league."

SENATOR M'KELLER (Dem.), of Tennessee—I disagree with the President about the World Court proposal keeping us out of the League of Nations. I think entrance into the Court ultimately paves the way for American entry into the League.

SENATOR CARAWAY (Dem.), of Arkansas—I hope adhesion to the Court will mean our entrance into the League. I shall vote for it with that hope in mind.

SENATOR BARKLEY (Dem.), of Kentucky—I think many people would regard it as a step in the direction of the League.

SENATOR PITTMAN (Dem.), of Nevada—I see no relationship between the Court and the League so far as we are concerned.

SENATOR CAPPER (Rep.), of Kansas—It won't take us an inch nearer the League. The people of this country are unalterably opposed to the League.

SENATOR GEORGE (Dem.), of Georgia—I don't think it moves us toward the League.

SENATOR HARRIS (Dem.), of Georgia—It doesn't necessarily mean any involvement in the League.

SENATOR SWANSON (Dem.), of Virginia (author of the original World Court resolution in 1926, which was adopted)—The League and Court are entirely separate. If our relations to the Court were entirely satisfactory, naturally it might aid in fostering a spirit of friendliness toward the League. But if, on the other hand, our relations with the Court were unsatisfactory, and the American people thought it meant danger for this country, this would tend to keep us away from the League of Nations.

REPRESENTATIVE STEPHEN G. PORTER (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said that if the United States were in the League of Nations, it would be bound to meddle in affairs abroad which do not concern this country. He said:

"The United States, strongest nation in man power and treasure, by remaining out of the League, is a free lance.

"It can act on the facts in each case as they are developed. If we had been a member of the League, I doubt whether we could have taken the initiative in the China-Russia dispute. We would have had to wait until the League acted and then we would be bound by the action of the League.

"The settlement of this controversy between Russia and China is only one of many instances where independent action by the United States has promoted the welfare of the world.

"Article 10 of the League covenant gives the League power to use force to compel compliance with its decisions. The nations which are to use the necessary force are to be designated by the League council.

"Inasmuch as the United States is the richest country and has such great man power, in most instances we would be assigned to do the enforcing. We have enough to do trying to enforce law and order in our own country without trying to force peace throughout the world.

"If the Senate had followed the recommendation of President Wilson that we accept a mandate over Armenia, our troops would still be there trying to preserve a stable form of government."

KING, QUEEN OF ITALY VISIT POPE PIUS

First Sovereigns of United Kingdom to Tread Vatican Soil; Simple Ceremony

ROME, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena paid their long awaited visit to Pope Pius XI this morning. The first sovereigns of United Italy to enter the Vatican.

The King and Queen journeyed to Vatican City, the newest political entity in Europe, with an imposing retinue of courtiers Minister of Foreign Affairs Dino Grandi, and Count De Vecchi, Italian ambassador to the Holy See.

Their majesties and His Holiness met in the Vatican throne room. They were alone there; doors were closed and guarded, and what they said was not disclosed.

APPROVE TREATIES

But their conversation, whatever it was, marked the tacit approval of both to the treaties which made it possible, those signed at the Lateran palace last February 11, ending the 60-year-old so-called 'Roman Question."

Hundreds of thousands of Romans and Italians from all parts of the country saw the royal progress through Rome in closed automobiles. There was some disappointment that the visit was not made in carriages of state as had been planned.

POPE ENTERS

Apprised of the arrival of the King and the Queen, the Pope entered the throne room from his private library. The door to the throne room opened and the King and the Queen stepped in, alone.

The Pope was walking toward the door. The King and the Queen walked forward. They met halfway across the room. The King and Queen bent and kissed the Pope's hand. The Pope raised them up. The door was closed.

Outside the closed door, the dignitaries of church and state conversed in whispers or did not speak at all. They could not hear even the sound of a murmur from inside.

Then the door opened. The little group outside marched in.

The King presented to the Pope Minister of Foreign affairs Grandi and then the members of his court who constituted the following.

The audience over, the Pope walked part of the way to the door with the King and Queen. The royal pair carried precious religious gifts presented by the Pontiff.

The King and Queen left the Vatican bearing with them priceless gifts from His Holiness. The Pope presented to the King a mosaic reproduction of Raphael's Madonna and a gold rosary, and gave the Queen a silver-framed autographed photograph of himself.

The royal visit to the Vatican was returned almost immediately by Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, acting on behalf of the Pontiff.

Ex-Pittsburgh Man Heads Oldest Class

Fred W. Eggers, a former Pittsburgh druggist, recently was elected head of Class No. 42, of the Central Presbyterian Church at Rochester, N. Y., according to word received by friends here. This Bible class is said to be the oldest organized men's Bible class in the United States. Mr. Eggers was an officer in the old Eighteenth Regiment of the National Guard and still holds membership in several Masonic organizations here.

Thieves Shatter Window, Get $200

Thieves early today threw a brick into a show window of the dress shop of Adolph Lefkowitz, of 519 Dixon street, Homestead, while a Pennsylvania freight train was passing, and stole hosiery and babies' dresses valued at $200.

Noise made by the train muffled the sound of the crash through the window. Men on their way to work discovered the robbery and reported it to police.

50-YEAR TERM FOR KIDNAPER

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—James Fernando, 29, convicted kidnaper of 9-year-old Jackie Thompson, today faced a term of from 30 to 50 years in the Michigan Branch Prison at Marquette. A term of 50 years was recommended.

Sentence was passed on Fernando by Recorder's Judge Charles L. Bartlett after a jury of four women and eight men had returned a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Grace Thompson, Jackie's and Fernando's wife, were here in court when sentence was passed. Detectives were stationed throughout the crowd to maintain order. When Judge Bartlett finished reading the sentence, Mrs. Fernando fainted and detectives surrounded her.

Counsel for Fernando announced that motion for a new trial would be filed, and if this was denied an appeal would be made to the State Supreme Court.

In passing sentence Judge Bartlett accused Fernando of callousness and said that throughout the trial he had not exhibited any signs of remorse. After sentence was passed Fernando reiterated his claim that he had entered the affair only to help out Henry S. Thompson, Jackie's father.

Jackie was kidnaped from in front of his home late on the afternoon of September 30 and was held prisoner until October 23.

His father paid kidnapers $25,000 for his release. The ransom was turned over at Fernando's home and the boy was returned to Thompson there. Throughout the ransom negotiations, a mysterious Italian, known as Joe Garbino, figured as an emissary of the kidnapers. Although mentioned at numerous times during the trial, he was never produced. It was this man who demanded $35,000 ransom from Thompson and told him that if the demands were not met his son would be buried alive or his head cut off.

NEW PROCESS AT STEEL HOOP

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 5.—Sharon Steel Hoop Company announces it has concluded negotiations with Krupp Nirosta Company, Inc., holders of the Krupp patents for producing highly alloyed and rust-resisting steels, for production and distribution of the patented steel products. Arrangements have been completed to secure from Ludlum Steel Company, of Watervliet, N. Y., alloyed ingots or semi-finished steel. Ingots will be reduced at Lowellville blooming mills of Sharon Steel Hoop. Sheets will be produced from this special steel at Hasleton Sheet Mills and strips at the company's Sharon plant.

Later Sharon Steel Hoop plans to produce its own steel requirements, which will necessitate installation of electric furnaces.

Production of finished steels by the new process will begin ..., 1930.

Gin, Whisky Seized In Forbes St. Raid

Confiscation of gin, whisky and beer, was reported by prohibition agents in a raid yesterday on an alleged speakeasy at 2214 Forbes street. Robert Tito, 24, arrested in the raid, told agents that he was the proprietor of the place, they said.

In raids on the homes of Victor Huber, at 1512 Fleck street, and Frank Murray, at 1108 Lincoln avenue, the dry officers said they found home brew. Both men were released on their own recognizance.

Plan for Election In Spain Denied

MADRID, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Conde De Bailen, one of the most intimate political friends of Premier Primo De Rivera, denied published reports that the premier was preparing a manifesto announcing general elections of deputies and senators. Six-Day Furniture Selling

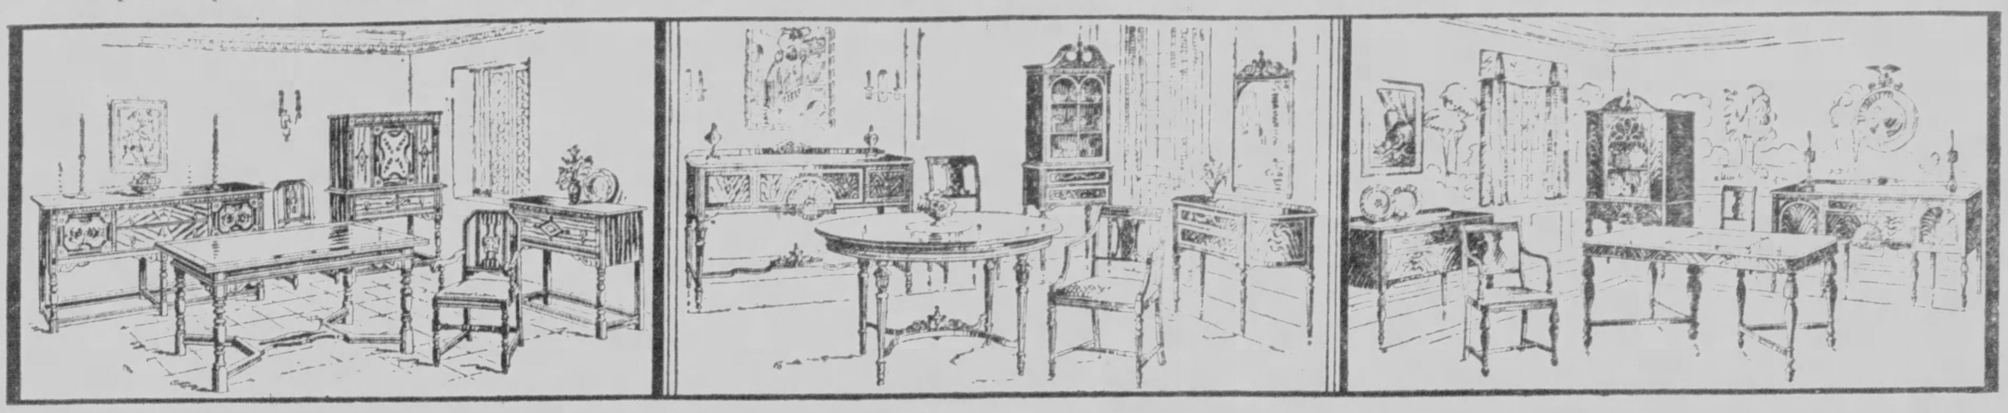
EVENT NO. 6

Tomorrow is the day of the dining room and sleeping room! If your home needs furniture, why wait until February? Kaufmann's endeavors to sell furniture at the lowest possible prices THE ENTIRE YEAR-ROUND. If, perchance, you don't know what this policy means to you in real saving—now is the time to shop for comparisons. We say it most emphatically—compare, compare, COMPARE. And tomorrow's Berkey and Gay event offers you an ideal medium for that comparison.



$398 Berkey and Gay Dining Room Suites $298

The Geoffrey A quaint Jacobean style adapted to present day use, lending itself with equal grace to simple as well as elaborate backgrounds. Tops and ends are of straight grained walnut, fronts of imported Koawood, hand-matched in diamond pattern. Ten pieces. $298.

The Graham This suite is a worthy revival of Sheraton's best style—its small size, so suitable to the modern home, is rich with the beauty of striped rosewood, straight grained walnut, maple burl and Faux Satine Crotch. The ten lovely pieces are priced $298.

The Tremont represents the dignity and charm that supplanted the rugged crudity of Earlier American forms. Here is an old world style translated into terms of the young culture. Figured crotch mahogany forms the larger decorated panels and back rails. Ten pieces. $298.

$398 Berkey and Gay Sleeping Room Suites $298

The Moorlands The Adam style as represented in the Moorland group has been modernized to fit in almost any room scheme. The true Adam delicacy and slenderness. All mahogany, using hand-matched crotched, swirl and mottle. Four pieces. $298.

The Chateau It was Marie Antoinette whose taste brought the charm of the Louis XVI mode into French furniture. In this suite we find her ribbon motif repeated in carved onlays of satinwood over English Elm. Walnut veneer is the chief wood. Four pieces. $298.

The "Doge" Though steeped in the spirit of Renaissance Venice, this lovely Berkey and Gay creation comes to us refined and Americanized, so that it fits most naturally and most beautifully into the American bedroom. Seven fine woods are used. Four pieces. $298.

TORTURE DEATH TALE DENIED

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Ben B. Williamson, attorney for five men charged with murdering and burning to death Claude Franklin, near here, last March, announced the defense would present several witnesses at the trial on December 16 to prove that Franklin has been seen alive after the night of the alleged torture murder.

Williamson said he had "ample witnesses" to prove Franklin was seen alive after the date of the alleged murder. The witnesses, it was learned, will be persons living in this section and also near Morrilton, Ark.

Simultaneous with Williamson's announcement, Deputy Sheriff O. L. Massey at Morrilton, revealed that he had statements of several persons living in that section that they had seen Franklin alive as recently as October 26.

On that night, Massey said, Elmer Wingo and members of his family, for whom Franklin was said to have worked in 1927, said Franklin stayed all night with them. Massey also quoted R. F. Philpot, a farmer in the same section, as saying Franklin was there about the same time. Franklin at one time went with a daughter of Philpot, who now is married, Massey said.

Massey said he obtained from Philpot's daughter, now Mrs. Alma Mae Rogers, a photograph of Franklin and took this to Mountain View where S. H. Greenway, father of Herman Greenway, one of the five accused men, identified it as that of the youth who, the prosecutor charges, was mutilated by a band of men and then burned to death last March 9, presumably to prevent his marriage to a country girl, Tiller Ruminer.

Sheriff Sam Johnson, of Stone County, who is largely responsible for gathering the evidence upon which was based indictments against Herman Greenway, Alex Fulks, Joe White, Hubert Hester and Bill Younger, discounted the statement of the defense attorney. Johnson now has some charred bones which he says he found in a heap of ashes in the vicinity of the alleged murder and which the state contends are those of Franklin.

Overbrook to Fesat Over Annexation

City and county officials will be honor guests at a banquet Wednesday night in Carrick Eagles Hall, which is held by Overbrook officials to mark the annexation of the borough to Pittsburgh. The annexation becomes effective January 6. Mayor Charles H. Kline, State Senator James J. Coyne, State Senator Frank J. Harris, Representative Michael A. Musmanno, Councilman James F. Malone and Controller-elect Daniel Winters will be among the guests of honor.

OLDER PROTECTS YOUNGER

The maternal instinct of the older woman again was manifest. Mrs. Sturtz threw her arms around the little girl to shield her from the cameras.

"You'll come over with me to Dave's house," she asked Hazel Taylor. "We're take her with."

David Frey, brother-in-law of wife No. 1, hastened to obtain for the friendless little woman who under the protection of one of whom she might expect the least—the widow of the man she loved.

Frey, who resides at 3454 Glass street, North Side, also had contributed his knowledge of the friends and enemies of the auto mechanic whose body yesterday was found behind a retaining wall along Yost boulevard, Braddock township.

BROTHERS CALLED

James Smith, a brother of wife No. 1, was present, but was not questioned.

Later, two brothers of the murdered man, E. J. and A. J. Sturtz, of 6619 Roane way, were closeted in Murren's office.

Detective Burke said today that [illegible] received immediately after the shooting when Stayler was seen riding the road and down over a 30-foot embankment.

NEW ABOUT OTHERS

Both wives last night told the stories of their lives with the man who shared his life between them. They were quizzed separately for several hours by Chief Murren.

Of course, I knew about his philanderings. There were Bet-Hazel, Dotty and oh, many [illegible] but what could I do? [illegible] Wife No. 1.

I knew he had been running around with this Hazel. I [illegible] have her picture," she complained bitterly, exhibiting a snapshot of Wife No. 2 with two babies in her arms on the back of which in a scrolled scrawl are the words: Me but not my kids."

"I didn't know they were married, though," she ended bitterly.

Wife No. 2, a mere slip of a girl of 18, stood as though stunned at the revelation of Stirtz's dual life.

"I can't believe it," she sobbed. "I loved him so and he was such a tender and thoughtful husband. He told me he had been married before. He said he visited his son when he went away over the week-ends."

She was asked if she would claim her husband's body for burial.

"I can't do anything with it. I have no money," she answered.

Mrs. Stayler said she would look for a position right away. She formerly attended school in Butler and had been out of school four years.

Stirtz visited his first wife and children usually once a week over Saturday and Sunday, taking food and presents for the youngsters to their little frame cottage in Penn Township, just off the Franklstown road near Rodi.

SLEUTHS SEEK AUTO

During the week Sturtz filled the position of mechanic foreman at the Vestal Motor Company, Forbes street, under his rightful name, and lived with his young bride as David J. Stayler in a two-room apartment at 5710 Baum boulevard.

In their attempt to unravel the mystery of the killing, detectives today bent every effort to locate the 1929 blue Essex coach in which Sturtz left his place of employment Tuesday night. O. E. Vestal, proprietor of the motor company, gave authorities a description of the machine which bore dealer license plate—X-1368. The car's serial number, Vestal said, is 785481, and the motor number 849191.

Vestal told detectives his foreman left the shop at the usual time, about 6 p. m., accompanied by a fellow-worker, Robert Zeak, who rode as far as Forbes and Atwood streets. Detectives have been unable to find any other person who saw him from that time until his bullet-riddled and battered body was found in a pile of snow where it evidently had been dropped out of an automobile along the Yost boulevard.

In regard to the pistol, Mrs. Sturtz said:

"Dave gave the gun to me because he said I ought to have it handy while he was away from home. He said he had to live in the city during the week so as to be near his work, but I knew he was philandering around.

"I knew he wasn't treating me right—I had to work all summer at a barbecue stand. But what could I do, with two children? I had to put up with it or else let the disgrace of a divorce fall upon my two children."

The frail little bride No. 2, standing beside her husband's form in the county morgue, sobbed out her pitiful tale.

"I still love him—I do! I do!" she repeated.

She met Sturtz, or Stayler as she knew him, about two years ago, she said.

SOBS OVER BODY

"He was good to me and we were married in Butler County in March, 1928. We lived for a while in Zelienople, where I had been living on a farm with a friend of our family since my father's death a number of years ago, and then we came to Pittsburgh.

"He bought me nice clothes—not many, but that doesn't matter when you're happy." Her voice broke at the memory.

"No, we didn't have much money—I worked for a while, but not for long and we managed somehow. We lived in the Baum Boulevard house and nothing ever happened to our happiness until now—this." She broke down completely, her body shaken with sobs.

Wife No. 1 looked upon her husband's body without a tremor.

"Ours was not a very happy life," she said, turning away, "but I do feel sorry for that girl—and my children."

BLIMP MOTORS FAIL; LANDS

GADSDEN, Ala., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Halted in a projected 1,100-mile exhibition flight from Akron, O., to Miami, Fla., by motor trouble, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's baby blimp, Defender, rested in the hangar at the company's southern plant here last night.

Ward T. Van Orman, chief pilot of the blimp, said the motors were losing compression and that the time required for rectification of the trouble was indefinite. If possible, Van Orman said, the trip will be resumed today.

The blimp developed motor trouble while in the vicinity of Knoxville, Tenn. The labor in the motors became so pronounced as the ship moved on toward Chattanooga that it returned for additional supply of oil. The fuel was taken aboard from the Knoxville Airport by rope and the flight continued. It landed here and was towed into the hangar at 2:15 o'clock.

Postal Worker Held As Bogus Lindbergh

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Gerald R. Gage, 46, a postal worker, was being held here today on a federal grand jury indictment charging impersonation of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his former aide, Donald E. Keyhoe, in efforts to sell a book on the famous aviator's life.

Gage was alleged to have arranged for publication of a book and represented to an Eastern publisher that Lindbergh would aid in preparing the material.

Later, government agents charged, Gage wrote the publisher and represented himself as Lindbergh.

Muscle Shoals Bill Proposes Disposal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—A bill for disposition of Muscle Shoals, embracing proposals of Senator Norris (Rep.), of Nebraska, and Senator Black (Dem.), of Alabama, was introduced in the House today by Representative Almon (Dem.), of Alabama. Nitrate plants would be leased for $1 a year each to fertilizer makers under restrictions, and the government would lease the power.

French Debt Pact Ratification Bill Up

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—A bill providing for ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement settling the war debt of the United States and France was introduced in the House today by Representative Hawley (Rep.), of Oregon, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. It probably will be taken up in committee next week. The total amount of the indebtedness to be funded is $4,025,000,000, the resolution states. Since the House has previously approved the pact, Hawley does not expect serious opposition to it.

Boy, Guardian Given Damages

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—A jury returned a verdict of $400 for Ralph A. Mathias and $250 additional for Emma Kline, his guardian, both of Mt. Pleasant, in their suit against Charles Kantorek of that place. The youth was injured last April 11, when run down by an auto.

Lost Mail Flier's Body Found Near Cleveland

PLANE IDENTIFIED

Vincent was so frightened by his discovery that at first he could not identify the plane, but airport officials quickly investigated and found it was Nelson's, while at the same time they found the body nearby.

Nelson's home was in Plainfield, N. J. He was employed by the National Air Transport Company and was a regular pilot on the Bellefonte-to-Cleveland run.

Officials said he was about 29 years old and had been an aviator nearly 10 years. He was not married.

NEAR DESTINATION

The finding of the plane at Chagrin Falls showed that Nelson had nearly reached his destination when disaster overtook him.

The region where the wrecked plane was found this afternoon is the same over which Col. Lindbergh was confining his search for Nelson.

The Lone Eagle was flying several miles away from the spot, however, when the discovery was reported to local airport officials. He could not be immediately notified since hisc plane was carrying no radio.

Lindbergh battled darkness and snowstorms to come here from New York early today to assist in finding Nelson, who was an old friend and companion during Lindy's days as a mail flyer.

Finally, as the body closed what probably was the most elaborate search in aviation's history. Fifteen planes, a base at Clarion Park, the two airplanes shifted yesterday to Cleveland. Many noted men and women pilots participated.

Confesses Killing Five Over Grudge

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Having confessed that he killed five members of one family to satisfy an old grudge, Antonio Bettares, 24-year-old San Fernando, Cal., truck driver, today was held in the county jail on a charge of first degree murder. He had beaten to death with a club Mrs. Helena Alvarez-Garcia, her son Charles Alvarez, 18, and two daughters, Carmelita, 12, and Elisa, 6, and then decapitated their bodies and buried them in shallow graves in Pacoima Canyon near San Fernando. He asserted he later traced Luciano Garcia, head of the family, to Azusa, Cal., shot him and buried the body.

Bellevue Burgess Urges New Signs

Burgess W. J. Longmore, of Bellevue, has recommended to Council that attractive signs be placed at the borough boundaries on the principal highways including the Avalon line, Ross Township, Brighton road and the High Bridge. The only sign the borough now has, the burgess points out, is "an unsightly affair" near Jack's Run.

THOMAS P. NELSON

SEVEN CITED FOR PADLOCK

Seven preliminary injunctions were granted by Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court today, restraining alleged proprietors of saloons from further alleged violations of the prohibition laws until a final hearing March 4, 1930.

The bills of complaint were filed by operatives of the Pittsburgh dry enforcement bureau.

Those named include: Jakov Dedalia and Louis Markovic, of 1150 Progress street; Patrick Corcoran, of 49 South Fifteenth street; Charles Stupkovic, Sr., of 1742 Eckert street; John Sitar, of 1600 Bingham street; Martin Tutich, of 3001 Penn avenue; Nick Rodovick, of 108 Chestnut street, and Edward Pauloski, of 123 South Twenty-second street.

Man Badly Burned By Exploding Tar

CHARLEROI, Pa., Dec. 5.—While coating a section of roadbed at Lover, James Petus, 36, of Fallowfield Township, was severely burned about the face and body as tar, boiling in a pot, exploded. Petus, covered with the hot mixture, was brought here for medical aid.

ASK BROAD DRY LOBBY QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Investigation of all associations or societies which appear before congressional committees either for or opposed to prohibition is suggested by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, if that organization is to be investigated.

This attitude was expressed in a resolution, adopted at the annual meeting of the board of managers and made public today. It suggested to Senator Caraway (Dem.), of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee, that this be done "in order that the United States Congress may not seem to give currency or sympathy to any unworthy motive."

Adoption of the resolution was a result of a statement by Representative Tinkham (Rep.), of Massachusetts, suggesting that the committee "unmask the indefensible political activities" of the Methodist board and of the Federal Council of Churches."

Sale started Monday—and the overwhelming response proved conclusively that Pittsburgh and all the towns for miles around know that when Rosenbaum's set out to do something they are in earnest about it. When they say a Sale is sensational it is positively sensational.

Rosenbaum Quality is stressed above everything else—and that means something—as it always has over a period of 61 years—and Rosenbaum Quality coupled with the sharply cut Founder's Week prices is the foundation for the term "Sensational."

People—in great multitudes—are filling the requirements of their entire Christmas Gift lists and saving many, many dollars in the procedure. Others are looking to the practical furnishing of their homes or to the personal apparel needs of themselves and families—and saving a substantial part of their money by these Founder's Week prices. It's an opportunity—the kind of opportunity you would naturally expect when Rosenbaum's virtually shout "The Greatest Sale in Rosenbaum's History."

Note These Remarkable Values—Merely Examples:

Imagine what it means to buy Women's Brand New $89.50 Winter Coats—Newest Silhouettes and Luxuriously Furred for $54.00 or imagine Women's and Misses' clever new $29.50 to $35.00 Dresses for every occasion at $19.00. Then think of Men's Shirts worth upwards to $3.50 at $1.45 and Men's Brand New Overcoats and Two Trouser Suits that normally would sell up to $55.00 at $32.50 and clever new long trouser, Two Trouser, Prep Suits for young fellows, 12 to 22 years, as well as Overcoats that are worth upwards to $40.00 at $19.75 also Women's and Misses' $395.00 Black Caracul Fur Coats, $295.00.

New and remarkable items and values added daily—and more of Women's $1.50 to $1.95 All Silk Hose at $1.10—and Women's $2.95 Imported Kid Gloves at $1.95. Also a nationally known $193.25 All Electric 8-tube Radio in magnificent cabinet, complete at $79.00, as well as thousands of Men's Genuine $1.00 Gift Ties at 65c. A great lot of Women's $5.00 nationally known Bedroom Slippers at $2.85. Then 500 more Women's Marvellous New "Pin Money" Dresses at $11.00—the greatest values in "Pin Money" Dresses ever shown.

You'll profit—in emphatic terms—by coming tomorrow morning, bright and early—and we'll promise you values that will positively amaze you!—everywhere in Rosenbaum's!

BANDIT KILLED IN HOLDUP

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—An alleged bandit was fatally wounded and his companion made his getaway under a fusillade of revolver fire laid down by two Lackawanna Railroad detectives in an attempted holdup last night at the Lackawanna station at Foster.

Peter Galanok, 32, Old Forge, N. Y., the wounded bandit, died at the State Hospital. He was removed to the hospital by Sheriff G. M. Darrow and District Attorney Edward Little, of Susquehanna County.

Galanok and his companion, according to the authorities, were caught in a trap by the detectives. They had been robbing country railroad stations for some time, it was said, and worked an old "consignment game" to gain their ends. Sheriff Darrow stated that they would consign a shipment of goods to themselves and call for the shipment in the early evening hours. After the station agent's attention was distracted in hunting for the goods, the bandits, authorities say, would pull guns and steal the cash receipts.

Suspect Confesses Killing 5 in Family

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Capt. William Bright, of the sheriff's homicide squad, announced here that Armando Boltares, 24, San Fernando, Cal., truck driver, who was arrested for questioning, confessed he killed the five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family, whose bodies were found in widely separated sections of Southern California last week.

1 OF 170 IN RUM PLOT FINED

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—Gabe J. Felsenthal, president and general manager of the Schenley Products Company, Inc., of Schenley, Pa., was fined $5,000 by Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers. Felsenthal pleaded nolle contendere to a charge of conspiracy to supply a bottling company with particles shaved from the inside of whisky barrels. The Joseph S. Finch Company, a subsidiary of the Schenley corporation, is one of the largest legal manufacturers of whisky in the country.

Other indictments in the case were dismissed. Deputy Attorney General G. A. Youngquist recommended the fine as a compromise measure. The case grew out of raids last winter in which 170 persons and corporations were charged with conspiracy to supply bottles, shavings and other paraphernalia to bootleggers.

Ohio Towns Short Of Municipal Funds

DENNISON, O., Dec. 5.—With salaries of city officials for the last half of November unpaid and an overdraft of $811 in the general fund threatened, the Eagles lodge here today started a bread, soup and coffee line for the city's poor. Councilmen, who recently slashed salaries, have not figured out a solution yet.

Uhrichsville, neighboring city, has enough money to pay salaries until January 1, but owes a street lighting bill of $1,500 and a water bill of $1,500.

Confesses to Killing Washington Girl

DENNISON, O., Dec. 5.—Paul Hibbs, 19, alias Paul Gerard, who was sentenced August 31, 1928, to Mansfield Reformatory for entering and stealing wearing apparel from the home of the Rev. F. H. Randall, Dennison, has confessed to murdering Thelma Young, 16, at Washington, Pa., on December 19, 1927, authorities were notified by reformatory officials.

The girl's body was found in a field near Washington. Gerard's parents live at Jacksonville, Ill.

Publisher to Fight Boston's Book Ban

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—(INS.)—Found guilty on two occasions of having sold a copy of Theodore Dreiser's banned "An American Tragedy," Donald S. Friede, New York publisher, was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 by Suffolk Superior Court Judge Hayes. Friede appealed the sentence on a bill of exceptions and execution was stayed. Friede flew here from Newark, N. J.

Friede's sale of the book was a test of the book banning activities of Boston police.

Proposes Fathers Visit War Graves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Fathers of soldiers, sailors and marines of the American overseas force now interred in European cemeteries would be enabled to make pilgrimages to these cemeteries, under an amendment introduced by Representative Williams, Democrat, Texas, to the act of Congress approved last year which applied only to mothers and widows of the war dead.

Cannon Will Fight Wage Failure Charge

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 5.—(INS.)—Maj. R. M. Cannon, who claims he is a son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia, has prepared to fight a charge that he failed to pay wages at the military school which he commands.

Cannon declared the charge part of a plot by students and instructors to oust him. Cannon and his wife spent several hours in jail before they obtained bail.

Newell Man Held On Liquor Charge

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 5.—Patrick Tranum, Newell, was committed to jail in default of bond on a charge of violating the liquor laws.

BROWN-DORRANCE

You'll simply fall in love with...
Playmayd

For your home, and for other discriminating homes, a low priced PORCELAIN electric washer by ABC

EVERY housekeeper who wants a real electric washing machine will want the brown and buff porcelain Playmayd.

Priced almost unbelievably low, it has everything that even the most highly expensive washer of its type could have. It has workmanship and mechanical precision that twice its low price couldn't better.

Inside and outside, its capacious tub is porcelain—everlasting and flawless—made in special ovens at the great factories of ABC.

$99.50 TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED

You try it — FREE

We have seen plenty of washing machines but none that even remotely approaches the Playmayd for money's worth. Certainly the ABC people have gone the limit in value-giving in producing this machine to sell at such a price.

But no advertisement could possibly describe Playmayd with justice. You must come in for yourself and see it. You must allow us to send it to your home to do one washing free.

See all the A B C's

Besides porcelain Playmayd, we also carry a full line of other ABC models—the wringerless ABC Spinner—the finest there is—that not only washes but rinses, starches, blues and dries; and the Companion, a large wringer-type ABC washer now sold at a new low price.

Note these PLAYMAYD features

1. IT'S FAST—and nevertheless gentle because of smoothly rounded, finger-like, 6-fin ABC agitator.
2. IT'S PORCELAIN—its capacious tub, inside and out, is real porcelain, made with extreme care in the great ABC plant.
3. IT'S STRONG—built of finest grade metal solidly welded and joined.
4. IT'S COLORFUL—richly colorful with its appealing, durable buff and brown.
5. IT'S NEAT—specially designed all-porcelain splash rim keeps suds and water in the tub.

GETS 4 MONTHS IN DOPE SALE

Robert Bagget, alias "Pie" Bagget, 20, Negro, of 210 Elm street, convicted in Federal Court of violating the Harrison narcotic act by unlawful sale of morphine, was sentenced by Judge Nelson McVicar to serve four months in jail. Mrs. Jane Easley, 27, of 149 Elm street, a co-defendant who pleaded guilty and testified for the government, was sentenced to one month in jail.

A young woman testifying for the prosecution said she purchased 225 grains of morphine from Mrs. Easley on August 20 and 230 grains on August 30, paying $65 and $70, respectively. Mrs. Easley admitted the sales. She said she received the drug from Bagget, and her share of the two transactions was $25.

Before sentence was pronounced on Bagget, Assistant United States Attorney Zeno Fritz said it was the belief of government narcotic agents that Bagget was a runner for a "plant" in the Hill district, but like several others arrested recently for peddling "dope" in that section, refused to divulge the source of supply.

Two Plead Guilty, Sent to Workhouse

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—Ray Beeler, of Waynesburg, was fined $100 and ordered to serve four months in the Allegheny county workhouse after he entered a plea to sale and possession of intoxicating liquor. It was his second appearance on the same charge. Rocko Merino, of Poland, was ordered to serve from three to six months in the workhouse after he pleaded guilty to breaking into the railroad station at Poland.

New Rural Route Out of Confluence

CONFLUENCE, Pa., Dec. 5.—Effective December 16, the Confluence postoffice will have three rural delivery routes instead of two. The postoffice at Harnedsville has been discontinued and Confluence Rural Station, No. 1, with a clerk in charge, has been established. William H. Zufall will be in charge. A 10-foot extension is being placed on the rear of the Confluence postoffice, the improvement being required by the additional rural route.

Crippled Children Will Be Treated

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—The second free clinic for crippled children at the Greene County Memorial Hospital this year will be held Monday, when Dr. James Wallace, of Pittsburgh, will treat a group suffering from orthodopic ailments. The clinic will be held under auspices of the Greene County Crippled Children's Society.

To End a Cough Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Stops them all!

P. R. R. CONTROL OF B.-M. SEEN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The Providence Journal today says that Acting President Thomas Nelson Perkins, of the Boston and Maine Railroad, in an interview said that the Pennroad Corporation, a holding company organized by the Pennsylvania Railroad interests, had acquired an amount of stock in the Boston and Maine which involved control of that railroad.

The Journal says that Perkins declared that President W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, had admitted to him late in October that the Pennroad Corporation had acquired between 15 and 20 per cent of the preferred voting stock of the Boston and Maine.

This block of stock, with the 28.3 per cent of the Boston and Maine stock owned by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, is sufficient for control of the Boston and Maine, the paper says.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

BEDFAST FOR 6 WEEKS; KONJOLA BROUGHT HEALTH

Complication Caused Intense Suffering; But Pittsburgh Man Now Is Back at His Work

"Konjola put me back on the job." Time and again this happy statement has been made by former sufferers who found relief and new health through this new and different medicine. Think of the thousands of dollars saved for wage earners and business men and women of America by this new medicine's amazing victories over stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles; rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness! Call upon the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh. Get the facts about this modern compound that has become the most talked-of medicine in the nation. The fame Konjola enjoys is based not upon theory or speculation, but upon the bedrock foundation of verified results; such results as are described in the following statement recently made to the Konjola Man by Mr. Joseph Norton, 10 North Diamond Street, N. S., Pittsburgh:

MR. JOSEPH NORTON

"I feel it is my duty to tell what Konjola did for me, for the benefit of others who may be suffering as I did. I was afflicted for two years with stomach and kidney trouble, neuritis, and nervousness, and my suffering was terrible. I was unable to eat enough food to gain strength and carry on my work. When I did eat I suffered for hours afterward, and a nervous condition resulted. My kidneys were in a very bad condition, and at nights I would have to get up one time after another. A satisfactory night's sleep was out of the question. Then neuritis appeared, affecting my ankles, hands and wrists. My ankles became so swollen and sore that I could not walk. My wrists and hands were in such bad condition that I could not dress myself. Finally I was forced to remain in bed, where I lay for six weeks.

"It was Konjola that got me out of bed and gave me the health I enjoy today. A friend advised me to try this medicine, and it soon showed results. I kept on until I had taken seven bottles, and by that time I was again on the job, working every day. I feel like a different man; eat anything I desire, and sleep soundly all night long. Neuritis is entirely gone. No wonder I am enthusiastic about this wonderful medicine."

A typical example of Konjola in action! A sincere tribute to a medicine of merit! All Konjola asks is a chance to make you well.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where daily he is meeting the public, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine. Konjola is sold also at all Dow Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

ALCOHOL FRAUD INQUIRY BEGINS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—United States District Attorney Calvin S. Boyer, announced that investigation of reports that hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of alcohol had been illegally diverted at the plant of the Glenwood Industrial Distilling Company during the last two months was under way.

Mr. Boyer refused to confirm or deny rumors that several politicians were involved in the case. He said the federal grand jury had adjourned until January 21 to allow Samuel O. Wynee, prohibition administrator for this district, to complete his investigation.

Wynee declared that 23 carloads of alcohol released on permit to the distillery for denaturing and industrial use, had found its way into bootleg channels. He said the contraband was worth more than $1,500,000, and that bribery and falsified records had made possible its diversion.

Falls Skating, Skull Fractured

John Klein, 20, of 1503 Berkshire street, was in Presbyterian Hospital today, the first victim of the skating season on Lake Elizabeth. He suffered a probable fracture of the skull when he fell on the ice last night, police said. His condition was regarded as serious.

Mountain Mail Route Worries Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—As one cabinet officer to another, Postmaster General Brown has informed Secretary Hyde that Commander Byrd would have to be employed as a mail carrier if the rural route from Sattley City to Sierra City, Cal., is to be continued.

This route, Mr. Brown wrote Mr. Hyde, will be abandoned because it takes 30 horses when there is snow on the ground to get the mail up five miles of the road where it rises 2,000 feet in that distance.

Mr. Hyde had written Mr. Brown that several forest rangers would be getting their Christmas cards very late if the route was discontinued. It is now advertised to run from Reno Junction to Downieville, Cal., where the snow is not so deep.

Legion Assumes Holiday Charity

DAWSON, Pa., Dec. 5.—Legionnaires will spread Christmas cheer among the needy families of this community. A movement to raise funds with which to fill baskets of food has been started. Milton J. Newmyer Post will also erect a community Christmas tree and conduct a program on Christmas eve.

MINE WORKERS FIGHT STRIKE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Efforts of the National Miners' Union to call a general strike in all coal pits of Illinois will be vigorously opposed by the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America, State President Harry Fishwick declared.

Announcement that the National Miners' Union would call a general strike beginning December 9, was made at West Frankfort by Henry Corgishly, state secretary of the organization, which Fishwick said was controlled by the Communist party in this country.

He said the strike has been called in an effort to smash the "check-off" and thus destroy the power of the United Mine Workers of America. The "check-off" is a part of the miners' wages paid directly to the United Mine Workers by the coal operators.

Until recently, John H. Watt, of Springfield, controlled the National Miners' Union but at the last national convention he was ousted by Pat Toohey, of Pittsburgh, secretary of the National Miners' Union.

BLAME HOLDUP ON HUNGRY MAN

BENWOOD, W. Va., Dec. 5.—The lone robber who entered the Union Bank of Benwood, on last Wednesday and at the point of a gun compelled the cashier to turn over $900 in cash, was Samuel Snyder, 35, a former Benwood mill worker, according to a confession made today by Roy Linn, held in the Benwood jail as an accomplice.

Following the confession Chief of Police George Kessler visited the home of Snyder and found in the possession of his wife one $50 bill and four $20, bearing serial numbers taken from the bank.

Linn stated that Snyder had been out of work and held up the bank to buy food for his starving family. He said Snyder started West and would pay it back when he got it.

"Like Throwing Away Money to Wash Colored Silks the Old Way,"

Says Mrs. Ira L. Mankins, Ritz Apartment Hotel, Center and Beatty Streets, Pittsburgh.

"I've washed this $14.98 printed silk dress in Lux six times and it hasn't faded a bit" writes Mrs. B. C. Palmer, Stamford, Conn.

"I washed all these with one box of Lux"

"This week I counted all the things I did with one large box of Lux and I was amazed at the number:

4 silk dresses of different colors (that means separate suds for each)
1 child's silk smock
2 linen smocks
1 satin blouse
1 pair lounging pajamas
8 pieces of silk underwear
9 pairs silk stockings
2 pairs wool stockings
6 pairs men's socks
1 pair organdy curtains
14 pieces embroidered table linens
1 pair large wool blankets
2 wool sweaters
1 elastic girdle

"I also washed the dishes for two weeks. Isn't it wonderful what one box will do!"

"I USED to wash silks and woolens with just ordinary good soaps—sometimes chips or powders, and sometimes with cake soap," writes this local woman. "I thought things had to lose their new look—get 'second-best'—after a few washings.

"Then a buyer in our best department store advised me always to use Lux. I was surprised how easy it made the work, and how little Lux was needed. But the big surprise came later: when I found my stockings, underwear, blouses, and sweaters staying fresh and colorful so much longer.

"It was like magic! Instead of constantly replacing faded garments, they kept bright and lovely until positively worn out. I believe Lux must save me from fifty to a hundred dollars a year! I dread to think of the money I lost by washing the old-fashioned way."

And millions of other women, throughout the world, have learned this same lesson.

TAX PARADERS MARCH FRIDAY

Universal Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(US—Vice President Curtis and Speaker Longworth have completed arrangements for the presentation to Congress Saturday of petitions bearing signatures representing over a million persons favoring a downward revision of the taxes and surtaxes on earned incomes.

At a conference in the Vice President's office they designated Reed Smoot, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Willis Hawley, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, to head delegations of lawmakers to formally receive the great mass of petitions at the east front of the Capitol.

It is expected that members of both committees and other senators and representatives will the ceremonies on the ions originated, circulated, assembled and tabulated by the coast-to-coast chain of Hearst newspapers, will be presented promptly at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, following a colorful and unique parade in which several thousand Washingtonians, New Yorkers, Philadelphians and Baltimoreans will march from west of the White House to the Capitol Plaza.

Isaac Gans, Washington philanthropist and publicist, who was selected as grand marshal of the parade at a luncheon at the City Club attended by about 100 leading business, professional and veteran organization leaders, declared the prospects are that this will be one of the most memorable and significant pageants that ever passed along historic Pennsylvania avenue.

INCOME TAX SPECIAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Income Tax Special leaves at 4:20 Friday afternoon from Pennsylvania Station.

A mile-a-minute trip is promised its distinguished passengers to the national capital to see the attendant ceremonies and pageant when a million signatures are presented by the allied Hearst newspapers to Congress asking for a substantial and permanent reduction of personal income taxes on earned incomes.

These petitioners do not ask merely a temporary or make-shift reduction of their income taxes, but seek specific downward revision on taxes and surtaxes on earned incomes, in contrast with federal taxes on income derived from capital.

Among the guests of the Hearst newspapers who will leave on the special tomorrow are:

President and Mrs. James M. Kieran, Hunter College; Max D. Steuer, lawyer; Theodore Dreiser, novelist; Dr. Beeckman K. Delatour, physician; State Senator Martin E. Kennedy, of New York, and others.

POLICE SEEK 3 IN $300 HOLDUP

Police today were searching for an automobile and three robbers who held up the Kiefer Coal and Coke Company office, East Carson street and Beck's Run road, late yesterday and escaped with $300.

Charles Kiefer, 80, of Brownsville road, Baldwin township, owner of the company, was alone in the office when two youths entered. As one ordered five tons of coal to be delivered to a Gibbon street address in Mt. Oliver, his companian made his way to the cash drawer.

The pair then drew revolvers, and threatening Kiefer against making an outcry, left the office. They entered a waiting coupe where a companion was in the driver's seat and drove towards the South Side.

The office was forced opened Monday night, but the robbers failed to obtain any loot.

TAX CUT DRIVE LIMIT HERE

One one more day remains for persons interested against the present system of levying federal tax on earned incomes to get their protests before officers of the Administration and Congress in the income tax parade next week.

Petitions printed below will be forwarded tomorrow and all favoring tax reform as set forth in the resolution below are urged to fill out the coupons and send them at once to the Income Tax Department Sun-Telegraph. The resolution follows:

To His Excellency, the President of the United States of America:

To His Excellency, the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America:

To the Honorable the Congress of the United States of America:

Whereas, the earned income of an individual is derived from his labor and creative faculties, which are subject to rigid limitations, fluctuations and serious depreciation, while the income from property is a permanent and stable income, it seems inequitable to tax earned incomes on the same basis as incomes from property and invested capital without taking depreciation into consideration, and

Whereas, an earned income is the measure of value of services rendered by the worker to the community and an unearned income is the measure of value of the protection and other benefits received by an individual of the community; and

Whereas, to tax earned incomes heavily is to penalize thrift and industry and is a direct tax on labor and tends to retard enterprise and achievement; therefore

Be it resolved, that we, the undersigned, call these facts to the attention of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and Congress, in order to secure a reduction of 50 per cent in the tax rate on earned incomes below the tax rate on unearned incomes.

DANGER LIES IN REDUCING DIETS

Unless They Have Bulk, Constipation is Inevitable

Today thousands of young women and girls are wondering why they are so miserable as they diet to reduce.

The trouble is that many of the new diets lack roughage which is necessary to clean the intestinal system. The symptoms are headaches, "gone" feelings and bad complexions. If allowed to continue constipation with its evils occurs.

By including Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in a reducing diet, you keep fit as you take off weight because you prevent constipation.

ALL-BRAN does not add fat to the body. It just sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. No pills nor drugs can play the part of ALL-BRAN in a reducing diet. Their dose has to be constantly increased and harmful results often follow.

You will like the appetizing, nut-sweet flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in soups. On salads. Soaked in orange, prune or fruit juice. As a cereal with milk or cream. Delicious with honey added. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases with every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Sold by all grocers.

LOCAL MAN, 74, VASTLY HELPED

Ten Herbs Ended Indigestion, Biliousness and Pains; Feels 100% Better.

Remarkable, indeed, is the relief Ten Herbs is giving elderly men and women throughout this section. This is a severe test for any medicine, but Ten Herbs almost always proves equal to the occasion. When a preparation gives amazing relief to persons whose age is against them, it must possess exceptional merit. And yet Ten Herbs, being herbal, is so mild in action that it is highly beneficial even to children. Its ten wonderful natural ingredients—medicinal extracts of roots, herbs, barks and leaves—go to the source of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. For more than a year Ten Herbs has been bringing health to thousands of local persons of all ages, many of whom have gladly endorsed this compound in the Pittsburgh papers. Learn more about Ten Herbs by calling at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where this modern liquid medicine is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs gave me satisfactory relief from my ailments," said Mr. William Grime, 74, 1426 Orangewood Ave., Pittsburgh. "Some time ago my stomach began to cause me a lot of trouble. Food would not digest properly, and I had severe pains around my heart, which would palpitate. There were shooting pains in my limbs and body. I must have been bilious, as at times I would be terribly dizzy. My appetite left me, and my nerves began to be troublesome. I could not get proper sleep—sometimes would lie awake until five or six in the morning.

"I heard of Ten Herbs, and it seemed to fit my case. I started using your medicine, and now I feel a hundred per cent better. I am free of indigestion and gas pains around my heart. Dizzy spells have disappeared, and the pains have left my limbs and body. My appetite has been restored, and I sleep like a child. I am pleased to recommend such a good medicine as Ten Herbs."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

ART EXHIBITION ENDS SUNDAY

Announcement was made at the Carnegie Institute that the Twenty-eighth International Exhibition of Paintings, which has been on display since October 17, will close next Sunday, at 6 p. m. Already over 110,000 people have seen the exhibition.

Immediately after the close of the show, the entire European section of paintings will be sent to Baltimore to be shown at the Baltimore Museum of Art from January 6 to February 17, and then to St. Louis to be shown at the City Art Museum from March 10 to April 21. A group of the American paintings is to go to the Duquesne Club for an exhibition.

Thin, Underweight Men and Women Can Quickly Gain Needed Flesh

One Very Thin Man Gained 28 Pounds in Eight Weeks

Tens of thousands of exceedingly thin, yes, scrawny men and women have taken McCoy's Tablets and put on pounds of good firm flesh.

Not only will McCoy's increase weight, but taken regularly will cause frail, rundown men and women to grow stronger and more energetic.

If the millions of skinny, scrawny men and women in America will start today and put their faith in McCoy's, it is safe to say that at least 90 per cent of them will gain weight, health and attractiveness in a few weeks.

So why not start today? Why not fill out those deep hollows in neck, cheeks and chest? Why go on through life with sunken cheeks and narrow chest when you can take advantage of this straightforward offer?

McCoy takes all the risk—read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One-Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—May-Liggett Drug Stores, or your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

Gossip About Stage and Screen and Those Who Appear Thereon

FRIEDA INESCORT CAN ACT, BUT THAT IS NOT ALL FOR SHE'S SCOTCH

By GEORGE SEIBEL

BEING one of these uncomfortable people who are always asking "Why?" the name of Inescort worried me. What geographical or linguistic origin could "Inescort" have? Not Russian nor Choctaw nor ancient Greek. What then?

Frieda Inescort, the delightful Flower Girl and Duchess who is in the Nixon Theater this week, didn't know either.

e Seibel.

Her father was Scotch, her mother was born in London of Polish and German patentage. His name was Wightman and the mother's name was Thle. But the mother adopted Inescort as a stage name and she is in London now—playing in Noel Coward's "Bittersweet," so the "Why?" still must wait for its answer.

But incidentally we find out something about Frieda Inescort's rich stage endowment. She has a certainty of presence which she owe to her Polish blood—or Modjeska had it. She has a charm and intelligence the German Agnes Sorma had. And she has the swift efficiency of the great Scotswoman Lady Macbeth.

Here's a New Idea

Speaking of Lady Macbeth, Frieda Inescort told Lyn Harding, who was Macbeth in the Gordon Craig production, that she would like to play the Lady some time, being Scotch herself, and would play her with a braw Scotch accent.

And George Jessel, hearing of that, offered to put on a Shylock with an East Side Yiddish dialect.

If they both got across, Catfish Row might supply an appropriate Othello.

Frieda Inescort's efficiency is no joke. This young woman came to America in 1919 as an employe in the British consular service. She was soon doing editorial work on a new paper. Then she got on the stage.

But for four years she was acting at night and during the daytime was publicity director of a large publishing house in New York—G. P. Putnam's Sons, to remove all doubt about this phase of her career.

Her first part was a good one—in Milne's fine comedy, "The Truth About Blayds."

Since then she has done many important and significant things. I saw her do exceptionally fine work in Galsworthy's "Escape," and her Portia has been seen in Pittsburgh when George Arliss played Shylock.

She's a Fine Lassie

Leaving the actress aside, Frieda Inescort is a fine lassie. She's proud of her Edinburgh, as every Scotswoman should be. That's where her father was editor of the Scots Observer for many years.

"I love to go back to 'Auld Reekie' for a holiday whenever I can," she admitted. "It's home still though I have spent much more of my time in London and New York. And it's the loveliest city in Great Britain—and I'm sure the Acropolis of Athens isn't any more glorious than our Calton Hill."

Having been in Edinburgh exactly four months ago, I had to admit her enthusiasm was the cold truth.

And she has the Scottish literary sense. She knows her great townsmen. Scott and Stevenson, David Hume and Adam Smith.

But don't imagine that she is an intellectual or highbrow. She is quite human, and she can laugh at a Scotch story, and you might give an old anecdote a new twist about her.

Samuel Johnson defined oats as a cereal which is eaten by the Scotch and in England is fed to the horses.

Said a Highlander: "That's why England has such fine horses and Scotland such fine men and women."

Pittsburgh Man at Hoover Conference

Paul L. Griffiths, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the American Tar Products Company, is in Washington today attending a conference called by President Hoover. Mr. Griffiths is president of the Highway Industries Association, composed of 350 makers of materials and equipment for general and highway construction. The association has been active in previous conferences and is expected to make plans to assist in the program of highway work to start with the first of the year.

In Satire

Jane Wheatley, prominent Theater Guild player, will be seen in Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, "Major Barbara," in the Nixon next week.

Hofmann Soloist With Orchestra Two Days

Josef Hofmann, who will be soloist with the Cleveland Orchestra in Syria Mosque will play the Beethoven No. 4 Concerto tomorrow night and the Rubinstein No 4 concerto Saturday afternooon. Conductor Sokoloff has also prepared an interesting program for this engagement, including several works to be heard here for the first time.

A special concert for children will be given by the orchestra tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, in Carnegie Music Hall. The Pittsburgh Orchestra Association makes it possible for children in the public schools to hear this concert for the nominal sum of 25 cents.

MISS MENKEN IN ALVIN MONDAY

"The Infinite Shoeblack," featuring Helen Menken and Leslie Banks, comes to the Alvin for an engagement of one week, Monday night, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Norman MacOwan is the author. The play achieved success when presented in London, and four members of the original London company are now appearing with Miss Menken.

Today the seat sale opens at the box office of the Nixon for the Theater Guild's production of Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, "Major Barbara," which will be the attraction in that theater next week. Frieda Inescort and Dudley Digges will head the cast.

In "What a Woman Wants," in the Pitt next week, Margaret Anglin, appearing as guest star with the George Sharp Players for the second time this season, will portray the role of the woman who rebels against her austere eldest sister and takes her life in her own hands, bringing happiness to the entire family.

CANTOR OPENS TODAY

"Glorifying the American Girl," with Mary Eaton, Eddie Cantor, Helen Morgan and Rudy Vallee, will open today as the all-talking and singing attraction on the Grand screen.

"Red Hot Rhythm," featuring Alan Hale and Josephine Dunn, is the all-talking film which opens in the Enright Saturday. On the stage Jay Mills will present "Spices of 1929."

Charles (Buddy) Rogers comes to the Stanley tomorrow in his latest all-talking film, "Half Way to Heaven." On the stage Dick Powell will present "Silver Blues."

IN SECOND TALKIE

Mona Maris, a recently imported UFA film star, exercises her varied talents in her second all-talking American picture, "Romance of the Rio Grande," which comes to the Penn Monday. She sings, dances and plays the guitar. Warner Baxter, Mary Duncan and Antonio Moreno are featured also.

Betty Compson and George Barraud are co-starred in "Woman to Woman," the all-talking triangle film, which opens Saturday in the Harris. Keith vaudeville will be topped by Rogers and Gregory, black-face comedians.

Lois Moran, young screen actress, who, with Joe Wagstaff, youthful stage star, is featured in "A Song of Kentucky," all-talking comedy drama, played in motion pictures in Paris before she made her screen debut in this country. "A Song of Kentucky" comes to the Aldine Monday.

"Rio Rita" will open a third week on the Sheridan Square screen Saturday.

On Screen

Eddie Cantor, stage comedian, has a leading role in "Glorifying the American Girl," talk film, opening today in the Grand.

Film Censor Head Answers Charge Of Leniency

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Replying to a charge that Pennsylvania moving picture censors are allowing Pennsylvania to be flooded with "cheap, filthy films," Harry L. Knapp, chairman of the Board of Censors, declared today that censorship in Pennsylvania is the most drastic in the world.

Criticism of the censors was made yesterday by Mrs. Walter Willard, chairman of motion pictures for the State Federation of Women's Clubs, at a meeting of the Philadelphia League of Women Voters in the Germantown Women's Club.

According to Mr. Knapp, the greatest criticism of Pennsylvania censors in the past has been that they are too strict. "It is well known that we have the reputation of being the most drastic groups of censors in the country," he said, "and I think Mrs. Willard's statements are too trivial to be noticed.

"I believe that pictures shown in this state are freer from vulgarity than in any other state in the union. Producers have often stated that if pictures are passed in Pennsylvania, there is no doubt of their acceptance in other states."

RADIO MUSIC FIRM FORMED

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Organization of the Radio Music Company by merger of Carl Fisher, Inc., and Leo Feist, Inc., music publishers, with the National Broadcasting Company as one of the incorporators, was announced here. Incorporation papers were filed in Albany.

The Fisher firm has been a publisher of classical, standard and educational music, while the Feist organization has published popular music. M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company, will be chairman of the board of the Radio Music Company. E. C. Mills, former chairman of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, will be president.

The announcement indicated that music published by the new company will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company.

Guatemala Fears Volcanic Blast

GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The volcano Santa Maria yesterday gave signs of renewed activity, spreading alarm among nearby residents. Reports indicated that new streams of lava were running yesterday and that the subterranean explosions continued.

Basis of Judgment, Bible Class Topic

"The Basis of Judgment" will be the subject of the address of James C. Mace, at the weekly Bible class meeting in the Downtown Y. M. C. A. tomorrow noon. The address will be broadcast from radio station KDKA.

BRENDEL'S BROTHER INHERITS ESTATE AND AWAY GOES BUTCHER WAGON

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5.

EL ("SUNNYSIDE UP") BRENDEL has a brother who, several years ago, drove a butcher wagon in New York. Chancing to drop by his room one noon, the brother found a cable telling him his father had passed away and left him money. To come home and attend to the estate. He hurried out and proceeded to give away all the meat in his wagon, the wagon, and the horse. That East Side butcher is still wondering into what kind of thin air Brendel, the meat, the wagon, and the horse disappeared!

SCREENALITIES: William (Pathe) Boyd has traipsed down to the desert—Palm Springs, 'tis said—for a rest. Bill has just been made a divorce widower by his better half—Constance Bennett is reported as being on the high seas, homeward bound from Paris with final divorce decree papers in her trunk. She shoved off from Phil Plant, youthful millionaire—Bebe Daniels being congratulated between courses at the Montmartre by Reginald Denny for her singing in "Rio Rita." Bebe vowed she was so nervous opening night she nearly chattered off her bridgework.

William Boyd

Everything There But 'Throwback'

IN writing the script for Corinne Griffith's new talky, "Back Pay," John Faragoh described a scene thus:

"We see Hester (Miss Griffith) entering Aunt Aggie's house. Camera faces the door revealing the squalid splendor of a 'reception hall'—a Victorian throwback, should have plush curtains, mission table, old-fashioned umbrella stand, upholstered horsehair chair, etc."

The script was given to the property department who "broke it up" into scenes. Each scene was furnished according to the description. That is, the props were assembled, ready to be moved into the scene when said scene was set up for action.

Evelyn Brent.

The one just described, however, threw the property department into confusion and annoyance. The head telephoned, Faragoh:

"I've got those plush curtains," he said, "the mission table, the old-fashioned umbrella stand, the upholstered chair and all, but I be a so-and-so if we can find the Victorian throwback!"

Which reminds me of a vivid piece of advice I happened to glimpse in the script for Evelyn Brent's new outloud, "Slightly Scarlet." She was described in one scene as being dressed like a countess!

Prop Man Dons Grease Paint

THE Fox Studio restaurant entains its cash customers with laughs from the lot. That's to make paying a pleasure, evidently. The following is drafted from the menu. 'Tis entitled: Street scene.

Joe Brown is leaving the studio. A chiseler chases him up Western avenue.

Chiseler: "Hey, Joe, lend me ten bucks."

Joe: "That's a lotta dough, brother. How about two bucks?"

Chiseler, indignantly: "Say, Joe, you don't have to give it to me if you don't want to, but don't tell me how much to ask for!"

That temperamental head prop guy over at Famous, Sammy Bricker, has taken to the grease paint again. Doing a monologist act for theatrical scenes in Ruth Chatterton's "Sarah & Son." While Amos Goodall, a head electrician, is also in these scenes, Goodall is the fastest gum chewer extant. He plays around with a stick or two at a time and recruits only his front teeth. He goes like greased lightnin' and is acclaimed a Wrigley revelation. It is being rumored that Sammy and Amos have stolen the picture from Miss Chatterton. Which is another reason Sammy may continue to be temperamental.

Hours They Begin

HOURS at which feature photoplays begin in first run houses are in accordance with the following time schedule:

Triplets Make 11 In Arnold Family

TOWANDA, Pa., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Triplets were born to Mrs. Harry C. Arnold, of Litchfield, Bradford County, Monday, increasing the number of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold's children to 11. The triplets, all boys, weighed 21 pounds together. The mother and the boys, who were named Willis, Walter and Wallace, are all doing well.

He bagged every animal on the first day of the season.

is amazingly good for a very logical reason..

When you taste the fresh-flavored snap of Bokar Coffee and get a whiff of its rare aroma, you will sit straight in your chair and say, "Mmm! That's good!" You will then become one of the army of Bokar Coffee drinkers who have discarded coffee pot-luck and adopted Bokar.

And Bokar Coffee is good—for a very logical reason.

From the highland plantations of Colombia and Brazil until it rests in your market basket, Bokar is controlled by coffee-wise experts who know coffee goodness. Bokar is grown, picked, hulled, dried, blended, roasted, ground, delivered and sold under the watchful eyes of one organization—A&P.

As the result, Bokar Coffee is always uniform, always dependable, always good. It's the coffee you've hoped for. It's a coffee that will please you.

The new A&P Time-Control Plan takes the coffee at the time of roasting—the point from which coffee freshness dates—and brings Bokar to you filled with the flavor of fresh roasting.

Buy Bokar Coffee for the treat of every meal. Let Bokar win your coffee confidence.

Yes—Bokar Coffee is amazingly good.

Bag With $2,000 Jewels Recovered

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—Pennsylvania Railroad officials reported the recovery of the traveling bag containing $2,000 in jewels belonging to Miss Elizabeth Jamison, of Greensburg, which was missed en route Sunday from Greensburg to Washington.

The bag was found in Philadelphia and was believed to have been picked up by mistake.

Loses in Market, Leaps to Death

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 5.—The loss of $25,000 in the recent stock market crash, with other financial reverses, are said to have prompted William H. Martin, 65, former owner of grocery stores at Fairmont, Bridgeport and Clarksburg, to commit suicide by jumping off the South Side bridge at Fairmont yesterday.

LABOR LEADER DIES OF BURNS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—James P. Noonan, president of the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers, and a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, died yesterday of burns sustained in a fire in his apartment.

Noonan was found semi-conscious and badly burned by neighbors. The furniture in the adjoining living room was ablaze and firemen expressed the opinion that Noonan had fallen asleep smoking and had set fire to the couch he was on. He lived only a few hours after being taken to the hospital.

The labor chief is survived by his widow, now in Florida, and two sons, who reside in St. Louis. He was 52 years old.

Noonan was a member of the American committee at the World Power Conference held in London in 1924, and had served on the St. Lawrence waterway commission, and on the United States Committee on seasonal employment in the building industry in 1924, of which President Hoover was a member. He had been president of the electrical workers since 1919.

MERGER PLANS PROGRESSING

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Dec. 5.—Parnassus and New Kensington are near on terms in proposed merging of the boroughs, and within six months the electorates may vote at a special election. Councils have agreed upon seven wards, with three councilmen from each, and leave the boundary lines as they stand.

In line with these negotiations, proposed annexing of East Kensington, Martins District, McKean plan, Valley Heights, Valley Camp, in Lower Burrell Township with New Kensington, is progressing.

HURRY, GIRLS!

SPEAKING "Wonder of the World"

SINGING DOLL Given to You

WITH HUMAN VOICE

SHE IS LIFELIKE AND AS BIG AS A REAL LIVE BABY

LUSTROUS HUMAN HAIR

AND MY DOLLY GOES TO SLEEP TOO

WITH EYELASHES JUST LIKE YOURS AND MINE

AND ARMS THAT MOVE

AND A LITTLE HANDMADE ROSE BUD

AND LEGS THAT MOVE WHEN SHE WALKS

AND SHE HAS FIVE LITTLE TOES, WITH FIVE LITTLE PINK NAILS

LITTLE FROCKS OF COLORED DOTTED SWISS TRIMMED WITH FRENCH VALENCIENNES LACE

For a Few Hours' Time

Come and Pick Out the One You Want

THE DOLL LADY SAYS:

I want little girls who live in Pittsburgh to have the most wonderful and accomplished doll girl in the whole world.

She actually sings, and prays at night or at any time you want her to and she is not bashful, but modest.

She is as large as a real live baby. She will keep you company when you are lonesome, or she will help you entertain your friends with her singing and reciting.

She has real human hair to brush, has two front teeth and shows her little pink tongue.

She is irresistible, all dressed up in pretty little frocks of colored dotted Swiss, trimmed with French Valenciennes lace, ribbon and fancy rose buds, and dainty panty combination undergarments, all of which can be taken off when you want to put her to bed.

Colored silk socks and fancy shoes cover her little toes in size number twos.

Then the last thing at night, her eyes closed tight, she says her prayers and forgets all her cares.

Yes, even the grown-ups say, "She's marvelous," and want one, too.

Don't wait—for I want you to own one of these marvelous dolls with genuine human voice.

I'll gladly tell you how easy it is to get one without a cent of cost.

"The Mae Starr Dolly"

She Sings

Rock-a-bye-baby upon the tree top,
When the wind blows the cradle will rock,
When the bough breaks the cradle will fall,
And down will come cradle, baby and all.

She Recites

Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn!
The sheep's in the meadow, the cow's in the corn,
Where's the little boy who looks after the sheep?
He's under the haystack, fast asleep.
Will you wake him? No, not I,
For if you should he will surely cry.

She Prays

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take,
God bless Papa, God bless Mamma,
God bless everybody and make me a good girl.
Amen.

And Other Songs and Recitations

Dolores Del Rio Sued By Lawyer for Fees

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Dolores Del Rio, motion picture actress, is defendant in a suit for $31,000 filed by Gunther Lessing attorney. He asserts the amount is due for legal services rendered in connection with the actress' business affairs. Lessing is well known in Hollywood motion picture circles. Lessing handled Miss Del Rio's divorce proceedings in Mexico against her late husband, Jamie Del Rio.

Bandits Slug Bank Runner, Grab Checks

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Shortly after leaving the Overbrook National Bank, Sixtieth and Master streets, a runner was knocked unconscious today by three armed bandits, who escaped with a bag containing between $40,000 and $50,000 in checks. The runner, William Holloway, Brookline, Pa., was attacked outside a branch office of the Overbrook bank.

No More Oily Skin

Makes old-looking, poor-color skin youthfully clear—refines away enlarged pores—corrects oily skin, dissolves blackheads

Physicking the skin beautifies any complexion in five minutes

Poor-color complexions, oily skin and blemishes are due to acid-skin impurities. And, everybody knows there is nothing like magnesia to neutralize acid. So, when the face is [illegible] with cremed magnesia the [illegible] even the most deep-[illegible]ities. It physics the [illegible] easy way that milk [illegible]rifies the stomach.

Physicking the skin rejuvenates the complexion so quickly that any face looks years younger in five minutes. It changes old-looking, poor-color skin to youthful clearness and fades out freckles better than a bushel of lemons. It's astringent; it reduces enlarged pores to the finest texture and smoothes the tell-tale lines of age.

removes better soap or [illegible]sing cream. And, because it's so mild, it's a blessing for fine, sensitive skin that soap so easily irritates and coarsens. Doctors urge their wives, patients and nurses to use nothing but magnesia to cleanse and beautify the complexion.

To get genuine cremed magnesia, ask for Denton's Facial Magnesia. When you use it you will at once see why druggists find it hard to get enough to supply the tremendous demand.

GUARANTEE

It's impossible for Denton's Facial Magnesia not to improve your complexion. But, should it fail to delight you, even after the very first application, your dealer is requested to refund your money at once without question.

DENTON'S CREMED
Facial Magnesia

NOTE: These facts about the amazing skin-beautifying virtues of magnesia were learned from the experience of the first hundred thousand women who bought it. Because of its superior skin-beautifying qualities, magnesia is rapidly replacing the use of soap and cleansing cream with millions of women who give intelligent care to their complexions.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

[illegible]om colds may lead to se[illegible]le. You can stop them [illegible] Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

FORDS TO LOSE POWER FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Henry Ford and Son, Inc., a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Company, was unsuccessful in its effort to convince the Supreme Court that it was entitled to maintain flashboards on the federal dam in the Hudson river at Troy, N. Y.

The company in 1921 was granted a permit by the Federal Power Commission to construct a hydro-electric power plant at the westerly end of the dam and operate it with water drawn from the pool formed by the dam. It claimed that under its license it was authorized also to place flashboards on the dam by which it could raise or lower the level of the water.

The Little Falls Fibre Company and other companies with plants at Waterford, N. Y., on the Mohawk river, about three miles from the dam, complained of the use of the flashboards, claiming that they were being deprived of water which belonged to them, and the New York State courts so held.

In the Supreme Court when counsel for the Ford Company completed his argument the court told counsel for the Waterford companies that it would not be necessary for him to present an argument which under the practice of the court indicated that it will on an early opinion day take action which will have the effect of permitting the decision of the New York courts to stand.

Mrs. MacArthur May Marry Actor

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The New York Daily News today quoted Lionel Atwill, the actor, as saying his marriage to Mrs. Douglas MacArthur was "within the realm of possibility." Both Mrs. MacArthur and Atwill have been divorced twice. Mrs. MacArthur, daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia, was married first to Walter Brooks, Jr., of Baltimore, in 1911. They were divorced in Paris. In 1922 she married Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, of Washington. The marriage ended in a Reno divorce last June.

Auto Stolen, Home Robbed in East End

A home and a garage in the East End were reported robbed last night. Joseph Rosenfeld, of 6350 Forward avenue, reported to police that his home was robbed of a gold pin valued at $200, a string of pearls, valued at $150, and a pair of bracelets valued at $200.

Marcus Friedman, of 5501 Bartlett street, reported his garage was entered, and that the automobile of Harry Muitlein, of 5523 Bartlett street, which was kept in the place, was stolen.

Host to Children, Valued Ring Gone

Mrs. W. T. Poole, wife of a Negro undertaker, gave a party for children at her home, 2848 Center avenue, last Friday. After the children had gone, she reported to the detective bureau today, she noticed that her diamond ring—a three-stone band of platinum valued at $1,200—was missing from a bureau drawer.

Thieves Loot Pants Factory, Get $63

Burglars who forced a rear door in the Diamond Pants Company factory at 6255 Frankstown avenue during the night escaped with $63.45, seven leather coats valued at $150, and 15 pairs of trousers valued at $50.

Meningitis Cure Claimed by Physician

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Dec. 5.—(INS.)—What is declared to be a great boon to the medical profession is the discovery of a definite cure of cerebro-spinal meningitis was announced here by Dr. Edward S. Lauzer, practicing physician here since 1905.

The cure has been verified by other physicians.

"We have had highly recommended results," Dr. Lauzer said, "and have had actual cures in a number of cases."

"The cure is extremely simple," according to Dr. Lauzer. "We merely withdraw fluid from the diseased spine and then immediately reinject it. How the remedy actually works we have not as yet determined, but the curative effects have been very satisfactory."

LLOYD GEORGE SCORES LEAGUE

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Characterizing the disarmament commission of the League of Nations as "the greatest farce on earth," former Premier Lloyd George, British liberal party leader, praised President Hoover's Armistice Day address as one of the most remarkable speeches ever made in the cause of disarmament.

The "Little Giant" of British war-time politics, addressing the House of Commons, was caustic in his every mention of the League of Nations. He attacked the League's disarmament commission in particular, and the League itself in general.

"The League of Nations is in danger of becoming a failure because it is being run by flapdoodlers who have done nothing but sit for ten years," he declared.

"The League is like having petrol without having a machine to use it. You have nothing but perfume left."

65 PIANOS LOANED FREE

Sixty-five Pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments) will be placed in homes of Pittsburgh and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. We have discontinued eight of our large branch stores, and are placing these instruments in our "Frederick's Annex," located at 915 Liberty Avenue. Instead of storing and holding these pianos for the regular price, we are going to slaughter the prices and take our loss now. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. We do not wish to place our instruments in storage and all Pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Positively No Charge For Anything

No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

FIFTY FLEE FIRE IN DOWNTOWN HOTEL

Winters to Sign Pay Checks Today

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

PUBLIC SAFETY DIRECTOR JIM CLARK may be excited to learn that Sidewalks has been asked to campaign for a traffic light at Aiken and Ellsworth, where accident meets accident . . . From Charlie Faulkner, the widest police inspector in town: The fellow who was parked outside North Side Police Station last week with the empty ice wagon wasn't an ice-man at all, but a clearing house number man in disguise. . . . . When Carleton Shaffer, 5, of Mt. Lebanon, saw pork for the fourth consecutive night, he said, so he did, "Pork, I'll bet you get tired of this, too." . . . Grafton Duvall, the Railways praise agent, admitted that the motorman who got lost with his street car in Wilkinsburg was a fellow named Wise. . . . Add spat-wearers: Harry Felsner. . .

The Schenley golf season which just closed was a bigger success than ever, which means more balls were lost and more women held up the course. . . Contribution: The most unfortunate guy in Pittsburgh is the collegian who took his girl to the Thanksgiving game and found out yesterday from the chiropodist that SHE had frozen feet. . . . You'd never guess what East End clubman was surprised to see two of his friends bringing home his cook . . . Neither would we . . .

Extra! Jack Johnson is making more green stuff as a band leader than ever he did as a boxer . . . Patrolmen Charles Nixon and Ralph Bigley have discovered a three-story apartment house on Renfrew street which is one floor on the surface, two floors below . . . A fourth dancer, also a girl, has been born to Mrs. Max Rosenthal, of Beechview . . .

PITTSBURGH'S weather forecast is made up in Washington . . . and, although you won't believe this, it's right 17 times out of 20 . . . This is Courtesy Week. . . . Instead of bellowing: "Get over on your side of the road, you big stiff," drivers will bark, "Get over on your side of the road, you little stiff." . . . News for the friends of Bill Carnegie, nephew of Andrew, and Frank McCance: Those two wealthy worthies are spending these cold night in arguments over parchesi in the Ligonier Hotel. . . .

An East End drugstore, for some reason we can't understand, gives cracked ice free with all home orders for ginger ale . . . And Aspinwall Bill Ferris, who won a turkey in the Sharpsburg Firemen's raffle, has a word or two for Capt. Strain, of Sharpsburg . . . The turkey died a natural death the next day . . . Sidewalks knows of a one-armed fellow who deceived prohibition agents by toting a bottle of rum in his empty sleeve . . . The answer to the question that a thousand flappers are asking: That man Joyce is working in Jersey City . . .

AMONG kennel society: Banna Foam, Highfield and Hillton, greyhounds which paid handsome dividends at Bridgeville last summer, are running their fastest at Miami . . . Tomorrow we hope to have a report on the tortoise and the hare. . . .

CONSTABLE HIT, BANDIT CAUGHT

Run down by the speeding car of two Negro robbers, Constable John Crumm, of Canonsburg, drew his revolver and sent a bullet through the rear of the auto. Later the machine with the telltale bullet hole was found in Mt. Lenbanon, where it had run out of gas. Police arrested James T. Thomas, Negro, of Wylie avenue, Pittsburgh.

Thomas, according to Patrolmen Robert Hasley and John Swoger, of Mount Lebanon, admitted that he and a companion had robbed the Gulf service station in Canonsburg of a small amount of money early this morning. Crumm attempted to stop them and was knocked down. Canonsburg police notified Mount Lebanon officers, and a half hour later Thomas was arrested at a Washington road filling station. His companion, he said, had left the car at Clifton.

The car, police reported, had been stolen from C. M. Knotzer, 6942 Reynolds street, Pittsburgh, last night.

EAST END ZONE CASE DELAYED

Council has deferred action on an ordinance changing the zoning classification of a lot at the southwest corner of Friendship and Millvale avenues from a residence to a commercial district to permit the continued operation of a funeral home.

Attorney Martin Croissant appeared before Council yesterday and declared he represented 69 property owners in the district who object to the funeral home.

He said it would cause his clients great injury in the depreciation of the property in a large area containing dwellings valued at $15,000,000.

He said the properties of the funeral home occupied the site last March, but when they applied for a permit from the zoning board they were denied.

The objectors sought a court injunction, he declared, and a decision is expected in the near future.

The objectors included John C. Young, George W. Murris, and A. F. Crouse.

Attorneys J. Howard Devlin and J. F. Kane represented the proprietors of the funeral home.

Devlin said when a temporary injunction was sought, the judge refused to grant one unless it were proved that the institution was a nuisance.

The objectors' statements were misleading owing to exaggerated estimates of property loss, Devlin said, and declared the district contained other commercial houses such as gasoline stations and ice houses.

Kane declared that any section changing from residence to commercial experienced double, triple and quadruple increases in valuations. He cited the small downtown residences that gave way to skyscrapers.

Attorney Peter Lippert said the sanctioning of the funeral house would open the door for other business houses that were not needed.

Hurt on Trolley, Sues for $60,000

Florence Ragen, of Avalon, asked $60,000 damages of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, for personal injuries, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court. She alleged she was severely burned about the feet, legs and face in an electrical explosion due to a grounded wire while a passenger on an Avalon car on California avenue near Island avenue July 1 last.

ACT TO FREE CITY CASH ASSURED

Council Set for Election of Controller; McArdle and Kambach in Race for Seat

Daniel Winters today will sign warrants for city employes' pay immediately after he takes the oath of office for controller as administered by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

Clerks in the controller's office have separated the payroll warrants from those for other accounts and after Winters' signature is affixed, the checks will be presented to banks for cash.

Paymaster Harry A. Minnemeyer expects to begin distributing the employes' pay late today and believes the paying-off period will not extend much beyond the established date.

PLEDGES PROMPT ACTION

Approved warrants for accounts with contractors and dealers furnishing materials and supplies to the city will be signed promptly by Winters, he said.

Council will meet in special session today to elect Winters to the controllership as the successor to Henry O. Evans, whose resignation was accepted by Council last Friday.

Evans was elected by Council last January, following the death of John H. Henderson, to fill the office until Evans' successor was chosen by the voters at the next city election.

WILL RESIGN SEAT

City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt, however, advised Winters not to assume office until "the first Monday of next January, as the law provides," unless he was elected by Council for the interim.

Council issued a call last Tuesday for a special meeting today to elect a controller to serve until next January 6. Later, Winters said:

"If Council sees fit to elect me, I will assume the controllership at once. We must not embarrass."

Winters referred to the fact that the city was unable to pay employes, dealers and contractors, owing to the vacant controllership.

Assumption of Winters' election by Council today is based on a resolution passed unanimously by Council last Monday in which Winters was urged to promptly fill the controllership

Winters will resign his seat in Council and that vacancy will be filled by the other members and Mayor Kline.

M'ARDLE VS. KAMBACH

His successor cannot be chosen until the next regular meeting Monday unless a special meeting is called for Saturday. Calls for special meetings require 48 hours' advance notice to members.

P. J. McArdle, whose term in Council will expire next month, and George J. Kambach, South Side attorney and personal friend of Winters, are considered the chief contenders for Winters' seat.

Getting Ready For Santa

EVA LESS — HELEN PLIECKI

Two of the little girls who visit the Goodwill Industries each day and repair dolls, when any have been donated by kindly Pittsburghers, so that Santa Claus will visit the "Strip."

BROKEN DOLLS MADE WELL

Wanted—broken dolls.

For while no way has been found to stem the tears of little girls over the broken heads of their "children," old folks have discovered a way to mend them.

And once mended, they make Christmas presents for other, poorer little girls. Which is some compensation for tears already forgotten.

The old folks and the younger ones that reincarnate the souls of dolls, if they have any, and the bones and dresses, too, may be seen at work every day in the Good Will Industries, 2900 Liberty avenue.

But the doll supply has fallen low. Yesterday there were only half a dozen bodies, a few scattered heads, and lots of arms and legs.

Never in the past has the supply been so low, the doll makers say. And never before has the demand for children's "children" been so high.

Expert repairers at the Goodwill Industries will welcome parts of dolls, or dolls broken or dolls undressed or partly dressed.

Send them to 2900 Liberty avenue.

Student Seeking Wales Autograph Suspended

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Geoffrey Gill, a star student in the Leyton High School, has been indefinitely suspended by the head master because he sought an autograph from the Prince of Wales when his highness opened the school last week. In notifying the father of the 15-year-old boy of the suspension, the head master said he had been guilty of "gross impropriety" toward the Prince.

The father has written the Prince asking him to inform the head master whether he was annoyed by the incident. The English autograph hunting public is awaiting the outcome with interest.

North Side Chamber To Elect Tonight

Officers will be elected tonight at the annual business meeting of the North Side Chamber of Commerce in old North Side City Hall.

Nominees include the following: For president, Charles P. Lang, J. G. Shaw and Frank E. Tencate; first vice president, H. T. Burnworth; second vice president, Guy H. Baskerville; secretary, W. M. Kane; treasurer, Daniel R. Stitsel; directors, W. H. Newmyer, W. J. Billings, James Moore, and E. H. Gilg.

LABOR DEFENSE FOR ACCORSI

Salvatore Accorsi, who next Monday will go on trial in Criminal Court for the murder of John Downey, state trooper, will appear in court with an exceptionally strong array of defense attorneys. He will be represented by Attorney John M. Henry, former assistant United States attorney; Jacob Margolis and Maurice Schneirov. The International Labor Defense is conducting the defense through Max Salzman, local secretary.

Trooper Downey was shot and killed August 22, 1927, when police broke up a Sacco-Vanzetti meeting near Cheswick. Accorsi was arrested at Staten Island, N. Y., a few months ago. It is understood that Accorsi will say he was not present at the meeting. At a hearing on extradition from New York, it was testified that Accorsi had lived near Cheswick about 18 months after the shooting occurred and that then he moved to New York to find work.

Negro Sought After Shooting Over Girl

Police today were looking for a Negro alleged to have shot Thomas Hawkins, 21, another Negro, of 939 Pollmey street, in the left leg last night during an argument over Lillian Terry, 19, a Negro, of 952 Lysle street. Hawkins was sent to Allegheny General Hospital, and the girl held in North Side station as a suspicious person.

MAN FINDS HIS ROOM ABLAZE

Sleeper Awakes in Time to Escape Burning Bed, Gives Alarm; Cigaret Is Blamed

More than 50 guests on the sixth floor of the Roosevelt Hotel, Penn avenue and Sixth street, were driven from their rooms at 5 a. m. today when fire destroyed the interior of room 646, occupied by Raymond Colliver and Morris Roten, of Chicago.

The fire was discovered by Colliver, who told police he awoke and found his bed in flames. After arousing Roten, sleeping in another bed, he ran into the hall, he said, and notified the night clerk of the fire

While Frank Hood, house detective, was attempting to extinguish the fire Patrolman George Schwartzmiller, in Sixth street, saw flames shooting from the window and sounded an alarm.

Firemen said they believed the fire was caused by a cigaret, but Colliver and Roten both said they had not been smoking. Neither saved any clothing.

Battalion Chief William Graves, of the First District, estimated loss at $1,200.

TRAFFIC COUNT FOR HAYS ST.

Pending a traffic count, Council has reserved decision on an ordinance closing Hays street between Beatty street and North Highland avenue.

The ordinance was sponsored by the Board of Public Education which would add the vacated street area to a contemplated athletic field adjoining Peabody High School.

Attorney Lee C. Beatty appeared at a hearing before Council yesterday to represent objectors to the ordinance.

He said the street closing would be an injury to the public by forcing vehicles and pedestrians to detour through Margaretta street and Stanton avenue.

VOTE SALARIES AT MT. OLIVER

The salaries for the burgess, secretary, treasurer and street commissioner of Mt. Oliver were set for the year by an ordinance passed by Council at its meeting last night.

Six bids for the painting of the municipal building, Brownsville road, were opened, but due to the difference in estimates the lawmakers will not award the contract until the January meeting. President William F. Amman presided.

The board adjourned to meet January 3. The reorganization meeting will take place January 6.

Store Thieves Get Candy, Cigarets

A sweet tooth and a longing for tobacco prompted thieves to enter a chain store, 6957 Hamilton avenue, late last night. Harry E. Dull, manager of the store, estimates their loot at $20 worth of candy and $40 in cigarets. The store was entered by knocking a lock from a side door.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's Question: Do you think street cars should be allowed to discharge passengers only when the red light is showing against them in traffic as a safety measure to passengers and automobiles alike?

PAUL J. MILLER, South Hills, assistant station manager: "Street cars should be permitted to continue doing in the future what they are doing now. Such contemplated action as advocated would have a tendency to slow up traffic to a greater degree, than it is now. We have a problem in traffic that should be alleviated, but this is not the way to do it."

Paul J. Miller.

TONY LOMBARDO, North Side, radio staff artist: "If trolleys were prohibited from discharging passengers on the green light traffic sign in favor of the red, traffic would be tied up a lot more than it is now. Passengers are usually wary enough to watch their step when they alight from the cars, so we don't need to worry about that factor much."

Tony Lombardo

TED KAUFMANN, radio announcer, downtown: "Yes, the cars should be permitted to discharge passengers only on the red light. If this were done passengers could alight to the street without the possibility of being struck by an automobile as it sped by. Autos are supposed by law to stop when cars are discharging passengers, but do they? Such a plan would speed up traffic. That is what is most desirous in Pittsburgh right now."

Ted Kaufmann

THOMAS INGHAM, North Side: "I believe that the cars should be stopped to discharge passengers only on the red light. They are too much of a bar to traffic right at the present time and they should cooperate in expediting this problem to some logical end. When they discharge passengers on the green light three minutes of valuable time is lost and automobiles are tied up. Safety first always."

Thomas Ingham

VENICE REESE, Oakland, secretary: "Passengers should be discharged on the red light, I think, because automobiles passing the car at the time wouldn't have to stop. By the time passengers are let off when the light is green, automobiles coming by have had to stop, and as a result traffic is tied up. Then the light turns red just as the car is ready to start and a double traffic tieup is the outcome."

Venice Reese.

JOHN H. BUCHHEIT, East Liberty, commercial representative: "I am not in favor of any change. The fact that the city has been able to reduce the number of accidents of automobiles passing stopped street cars is an argument against the plan. Another thing is that many people depend on street cars to get them home. If they were stopped at every red light only to discharge passengers, many minutes of precious recreation hours of the people would be lost."

J. H. Buchheit.

Mirrors With Charm Planned for Homes

Bigger and better mirrors to provide more reflections for milady and touches of charm and beauty to the home were in the offing today as the Mirror Glass Manufacturers Association planned to uplift their products through national advertising.

The makers are in joint session with the National Glass Distributors Association in annual convention closing today at the William Penn Hotel. Tentative campaign plans have been approved and a committee appointed to complete details.

ABLE TO SEE HEM

If the mirror men have their way, women no longer will have to take six or seven steps back from the bureau mirror to glimpse the hem of their skirts. A door-length mirror for every bedroom is to be advocated. A survey has convinced them that the majority of homes are under-mirrored and the sufficient number and suggestive places will be advertised.

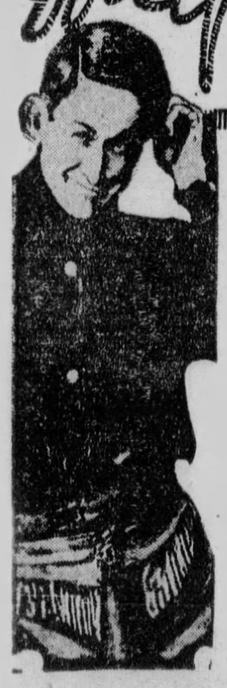
Too, they feel the decorative value of the mirror has been sadly neglected. The campaign will attempt to create an appreciation for the charm of mirrors along with other decorations. The value from the standpoint of better lighting will not be overlooked, they say.

STANDARDIZATION SOUGHT

Along with the campaign plans, the manufacturers are working with the United States Bureau of Standards for standardization of mirrors of all classes. Tentative standards were approved at the meeting, and conferences will follow at which definite scales will be established.

The convention closes today with the election of officers. Trade practice discussions occupy the session, as well. Among the speakers were North Storms, of Chicago; G. Frank Wallace, Syracuse; Harry I. Thompson, Los Angeles; Ralph H. Simpson, Chicago; George P. MacNichol, Jr., Toledo; Fred H. Hagemann, Cincinnati; W. H. Curtis, Cincinnati; H. E. Allen, Toledo; and Harry B. Higgins and W. L. Monro, Pittsburgh.

Will Rogers Says



BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 5.

Mr. Hoover delivered his prescription to Congress on the "condition of the country." It was twelve thousand words long.

That's how bad shape we are in and he hinted to Congress that they was the one that got us that way.

But that if they would get busy and do something at this session, he hoped to cut our "conditions down to maybe six thousand," by the time he enumerates our troubles again.

Yours, WILL.

FEDERAL JUDGES SENTENCE 28 FOR LIQUOR VIOLATIONS

$3,751 IN FINES IMPOSED BY COURT

Cambria County Man, Second Offender, Given 6 Months In Jail; Physician Fined

Twenty-eight defendants in liquor cases yesterday appeared before Federal Judges R. M. Gibson and F. P. Schoonmaker for sentence upon convictions or pleas of guilty. The fines aggregated $3,751 and jail terms totaled 28 months and one day.

The heaviest penalty, a $500 fine and six months in jail was imposed on John Firko, convicted of selling and possessing liquor, and with maintaining a common nuisance at 500 Broad street, Cambria City, Cambria County. The indictment on which he was tried recorded a prior offense to which he pleaded guilty November 10, 1927, and was fined $150. Joseph Przewiczikowski, also a prior offender, pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay a $200 fine and undergo a six months jail sentence.

Dr. Pasquale Ferrari, 807 Wylie avenue, pleaded guilty to unlawfully issuing prescriptions for liquor and was fined $100. In the indictment he was charged with issuing prescriptions under fictitious names. Samuel Chaban, a druggist, was fined $100 when he pleaded guilty to an unlawful sale of one pint of whisky.

"GOOD SAMARITAN"

When Louis Savor, 246 Penn street, Verona, pleaded guilty to transporting 15 gallons of moonshine whisky, he told the court he was taking the liquor to a christening when arrested. His counsel said that Savor was merely acting the part of a "good samaritan" in transporting the liquor for a friend. Judge Gibson said he never heard of a "good samaritan" delivering 15 gallons of liquor and it seemed to the court Savor was delivering enough for a bath instead of a christening. He was sentenced 45 days to jail.

Anton Grgurick and his wife, Barbara Grgurick, of Butler street, pleaded guilty to transporting 10 gallons of moonshine, saying they were taking it to a party. The wife was fined $1 and the husband was ordered to serve 45 days in jail. In pleading guilty to selling and possessing liquor, Frank Yuzcfayzk told the court he was in jail since his arrest September 18. His case was disposed of by giving him one more day.

Patsy Longoo, of Bridgeville, convicted of violating the prohibition law, was sentenced to six months to jail and a $500 fine. John Defangi, of Bridgeville, convicted, was fined $500.

FINES IMPOSED

Other defendants were sentenced as follows: Cornelius McHugh, Pittsburgh, $100; William R. Renaud, Pittsburgh, $100; Mary Papin, East Conemaugh, $100; John Sabul, Pittsburgh, $250; Sam Talarico, Broad street, 30 days jail; Max Leff, 141 Fullerton street, 45 days jail; George Kurtz, Cambria City, Cambria County, two months jail; Fred Reitler, Chicora Ridge, Cambria County, $100; Charles B. Patterson, Pittsburgh, $50; Bert Edwards, Pittsburgh, $150; William Stein, Meyersdale, Somerset County, $150; Maurice Rubinfield, Pittsburgh, $100; Cornelius T. Wurzel, Braddock, $50; M. C. James, Jackson Township, Cambria County, 30 days jail; Ralph Gendilo, Pittsburgh, $200; Michael Krotec, Pittsburgh, $200; Pete Krotec, Pittsburgh, $100, and Whoopie Sue Lee, Summerlea, Cambria County, $150.

Joseph J. Okonski, found guilty of selling and possessing liquor and maintaining a common nuisance at 403 South Main street, Sharpsburg, was not sentenced.

DIVORCE ENDS MAY ROMANCE

A December and May romance came to an end on the eve of the fourth wedding anniversary when Mrs. Gertrude May Witthauer, 25, of 830 Estella street, Beltzhoover, was granted a divorce from Charles Witthauer, 76, painting contractor, under a decree of Judge Joseph M. Swearingen in Common Pleas Court.

"He doesn't bathe," Mrs. Witthauer testified. "He has not taken a bath for six months."

She declared she had been the victim of beatings and vile abuse. They were married December 7, 1925, when she was 21, and he ... life so miserable she left ... ly 22, 1927, according to ... ony.

THINKING IT OVER :-: By Hal Coffman

THA'S ALL RIGHT, JACK

Mr. Coffman, keen student of human nature, shows you here a very human situation. It interests young men, young women and parents.

There is nothing unusual about it. It happens on scores of country roads every evening as the sun goes down.

Possibly the sun is rising here, but let us give the young couple the benefit of the doubt.

The young woman may deceive her mother, this time and other times.

That, however, is not particularly important.

The important thing is that she is deceiving HERSELF.

SHE is the heaviest loser.

Her mistake, once made, cannot be corrected.

Saddest of all is the fact that it need never have been made.

Wise girls will think this picture over, and TALK IT OVER with their mothers.

Wise mothers will think it over and talk it over with their daughters.

A few words, before it is too late, can save a LIFETIME of disaster.

PITT TO HOLD WOMAN'S DAY

"Woman's Day" at the University of Pittsburgh, to be observed at noon tomorrow in Soldiers' Memorial hall, will be sponsored by the Woman's Council of Efficient Living and the principal speaker will be Miss Margaret Deneke, choirmistress of Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford, England. She will give a recital-lecture on the "Life and Works of Chopin." Miss Augusta Skirboll will preside.

The ceremonies will begin with a processional headed by the following women presidents of students' organizations: Fannie Mae Charlesworth, Gertrude Kromer, Mary Ann Johnston, Hermine Ruoff and Miss Skirboll. The wives of faculty men will serve as hostesses.

2 Injured as Auto Crashes Into Truck

Injured when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the rear end of a truck in Freeport road, Aspinwall, today, Harry Ray, 21, 520 Railroad street, Windber, Pa., and James Fedder, 50, Freeport road, were taken to the Pittsburgh Hospital.

Ray, owner and driver of the automobile, had picked up Fedder on his way to Pittsburgh just a few minutes before the crash. The truck is owned by the East Liberty Coal Company.

MAKE WHOOPEE, LOSE RINGS

Two widows told Magistrate Thomas D. Jones in Morals Court today of a party that started in gayety and had an unhappy sequel. This is how it happened, according to the Morals Court testimony:

Mrs. Gertrude Walker, 45, of 1523 Campbell way couldn't sleep last Friday night; so, after midnight, she decided to give up trying. She telephoned her friend, Mrs. Julia Hewett, 56, of 1600 Irwin avenue, to come over, saying she would invite in a couple of boy friends, too, and they would have a good time.

The boy friends were H. O. Walker, 25, of 1525 Campbell way, and E. A. Brown, 21, of 712 Armandale street.

They drank a pint and a half. Then Mrs. Hewett became drowsy and lay down. When she awoke her two diamond rings were gone. She had the two men arrested last night.

Jones discharged them for lack of evidence and lectured Mrs. Hewett.

"The next time you make whoopee," he said, in severe tones, "tie your rings on."

"Brother," quoth the widow, "there will be no next time."

Mt. Lebanon Class Holds Dutch Supper

A "Dutch supper," consisting of sauer kraut and pork, will be held by the Philathea class of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, in the church auditorium, Alabama avenue, Dormont, tonight. A bazar and candy sale will be held in connection with the supper. The proceeds of the affair will be used for the building fund.

PLAN HURLBUT BANQUET

The activities of Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, prominent Chautauqua, New York Sunday School worker, and one of the proponents of the Chautauqua Movement, will be honored here Monday night with a banquet in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel.

Mrs. Samson

The Rev. Dr. Albert W. Beaver, president of Colgate-Rochester, (N.Y.) Theological Seminary, will be the chief guest speaker. Prior to the banquet, which begins at 6:15 o'clock, a reception will be held for Dr. Beaver at 5:45 o'clock in the William Penn Hotel reception room. Mrs. H. G. Samson is chairman of the reception committee.

Dr. Hurlbut, according to members of the banquet committee, will be unable to attend. He is 87 and is a patient in a New Jersey Hospital. He, along with Bishop Vincent and the late Louis R. Miller, assisted in founding the Chautauqua settlement. More than 2,000 persons from the Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania district visit the Chautauqua resort each summer, where concerts, lectures and operas are heard.

Mrs. McEldowney

Mrs. H. C. McEldowney, Mrs. H. K. Hitchcock, are co-chairmen of the women's division of the banquet committee, while Mrs. George T. Bushfield, is secretary. Mrs. Norman W. Nolen, is chairman of the dinner proper.

Mother's Will Names Friend as Guardian

Dr. Charles G. Jordan, secretary of the State Department of Agriculture, was named guardian of the three minor children of Mrs. Joanna S. Martin, of 1166 South avenue, Wilkinsburg, in her will filed for probate today. Mrs. Martin leaves her $19,000 estate equally to four children, Ruth E., William H., Jr., John S. and Helen P. Martin. L. R. Mechling, of Wilkinsburg, is named executor.

All Essays on Traffic Must Be in Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the last day for school children to turn in their essays on traffic improvement to their respective teachers, Walter Rosenbaum, chairman of the education section of the Better Traffic Committee, announced today. More than 80,000 children in public and parochial schools are writing essays for the contest in which 100 cash prizes and scholarships are to be awarded as prizes.

The children must write their essays alone and in the schoolroom, although they are permitted to get their information and ideas from any source. Each pupil will be permitted to enter only one essay. The contest is the third of its kind sponsored by the Better Traffic Committee in effort to interest pupils in understanding and helping to solve traffic problems.

Teachers in each class room will choose the three best essays submitted and give them to the school principal. Each principal will select the three best in the school. These will be delivered to the Better Traffic Committee not later than Monday, December 16.

TWO DRUG PLOT SUSPECTS TO BE ARRAIGNED

Dope Bought With Marked Money Believed Part of Loot in Store Robbery

Domenick Cotucco, 40, of 7418 Race street, and Phillip Morcelli, 21, of 7304 Race street, from whom Government Narcotic Agent Joseph Colebob was alleged to have purchased 75 grains of morphine and 10 grains of cocaine in a Hamilton avenue poolroom, will be arraigned today before the United States commissioner on a charge of violating the Harrison narcotic act.

Government authorities said they believe the arrests to be important as the narcotic agents expect to establish that the drugs were loot of a drug store robbery. The drugs were in their original containers, with the government registration numbers eradicated, it was said.

Agent Colebob was said to have paid Cotucco $75 in marked money, after receiving the bottles of morphine and cocaine from Morelli. Immediately after the alleged transaction Cotucco and Morelli were taken into custody by Agent Colebob and City Detectives Frank Ferris and Howard Forner. Cotucco was released under $2,500 bond pending the hearing and Morelli was committed to jail in default of bond.

Friday night two young men, crazed with drugs, were arrested by police at Sandusky and Isabella streets, North Side, where they were striking a brick wall with their fists. A story they told afterwards resulted in an investigation by Colebob and the city detectives that led to the arrest of Cotucco and Morelli, the officers said.

GRANTED WRIT FOR CHILD

Seeking the custody of his 7-year-old daughter, Leafa Pearl Roney, Jr., for whom he said he had personally cared most of her life, John H. Roney, of Verona, procured a writ of habeas corpus in Common Pleas Court directing his wife, Mrs. Leafa Pearl Roney, to produce the child in court tomorrow. A hearing will be held before Judge Jamse B. Drew.

Roney averred his wife left him several months ago, taking the child with her to an apartment above a store in Rosedale, Penn Township. He alleged his wife had neglected the child and that he had personally attended to it during four or five years.

BURGLARS TAKE $550 JEWELRY

Thieves last night entered the home of Joseph Rosefeld, at 6350 Forward avenue, ransacked the place and escaped with jewelry valued at $550, detectives were informed. The glass in the front door was broken.

The loss of a diamond ring valued at $1,200 was reported to city detectives yesterday by Mrs. T. W. Poole, of Center avenue. Mrs. Poole was entertaining children in her home at a birthday party when the loss was discovered, according to detectives.

CONROY ESTATE DISTRIBUTION ORDERED

Executors Instructed to Pay $300,000 of $1,522,130 To Beneficiaries of Will

Distribution of approximately $300,000 of the $1,522,130 estate of William E. Conroy, of 6407 Fifth avenue, head of the Conroy-Prugh Glass Company, who died December 9, 1928, was ordered in Orphans' Court. Under the distribution, trust funds of $100,287 each are provided for the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, Beech and Allegheny avenues, North Side, and the Cairo Christian Church of Cairo, Egypt, the income to be applied annually to the general purposes. The University of Pittsburgh is given $1,040, under the order.

The first and partial account was filed by Mrs. Josephine E. Conroy, the widow, and the Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company, executors and trustees under the will. The distribution provides $25,071 each for Elizabeth Bell, Isabel Bell, Mrs. Margaret Howell and William H. Bell, sisters and brother of Mrs. Conroy, and legatees under the will. The balance of the estate, $1,210,277, is suspended until future accounting.

Under one provision of the will, $500,000 was left for the building of a hospital to be known as the Methodist Episcopal Hospital of Pittsburgh, on land adjoining the Methodist Episcopal Hospital and Home for the Aged, Bower Hill road, Mt. Lebanon.

SAMUEL GREEN MORTON SIMON

Mr. Green, 76, upon his arrival in Pittsburgh after traveling 12,000 miles to see his grandson, Morton, be confirmed Saturday.

MAN, 76, TOURS 12,000 MILES

Samuel Green, 76, is in Pittsburgh today after a 12,000-mile journey from his home in Durban, southwestern Africa.

And the reason—Morton Simon, 12, his grandson, will be given Bar Mitzvah, Jewish confirmation service Saturday in Beth Shalom temple, Beacon street and Shady avenue.

Young Morton is the son of Mrs. Ike Simon, of 5833 Northumberland street—the oldest of Green's grandsons. There is another grandchild in Durban, however, the son of Jack Green, secretary of the Durban Jewish congregation.

"What am I to do," Mr. Green says. "I have children here, I have children in South Africa."

"I like Pittsburgh, except for the snow and cold. I like Durban, where the weather is always mild.

"The only answer to the problem is to travel and see both."

Mr. Green expects to stay here until January, at least.

$15,000 ASKED IN GAS BLAST

Philomena Sylvester, and her husband, Peter Sylvester, of 1613 Spring way, asked $15,000 damages of the Gulf Refining Company, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court. They alleged that gasoline being transferred from a truck at the filling station of the company at Penn avenue and Sixteenth street February 10 last, was ignited through the instrumentality of children playing.

Several nearby dwellings, including that of plaintiffs, were ignited as a result, according to the suit, and Mrs. Sylvester, opening her door, was met by the blaze and in a fall in trying to escape she suffered serious injuries.

Weather Conditions.

The Northwest low pressure area moved rapidly eastward and spread far southward, while the high in the South moved eastward to the Atlantic coast. The low is now centered over Eastern Ontario and extends southwestward over the lakes and the central and southern plains to Texas. This change in barometer caused rising temperatures over the country from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast. The precipitation was limited to the lake region. There is from four to six inches of snow on the ground over Northern Pennsylvania, but much more northward in New York. Buffalo reported 10 inches on the ground.

River Conditions.

The rivers are nearly stationary. Stage at Franklin is 1.9 feet; Lock No. 7, Pittsburgh, 11.3; Dam No. 2, 8.8; Dam No. 6, 8.5; Dam No. 9, 9.0, and Dam No. 12, 7.5. The dams are up.

DEALER GIVEN SENTENCE FOR DRUG SALE

Victims Menace to Entire Community, Says Gibson, Citing Holdups, Robberies

"We hear almost daily of murders, holdups, robberies and other crimes by persons under the influence of drugs, and any druggist, a man who knows the effects of drugs, who deals them out unlawfully is dealing out death, not only to persons using the drugs, but the community in general."

Judge R. M. Gibson, in Federal Court, so expressed himself in admonishing William Whitman, 27, of Stanton avenue, part owner of a Fifth avenue drug store, when the latter was before him for sentence for unlawful sale of morphine. The court imposed an eight-month jail sentence.

WOMAN INFORMANT

Whitman was convicted Tuesday, the principal government witness being a young woman informant for the government, who testified she purchased 10 grains of morphine from Whitman on October 27, 1928, for which she paid him $50. A same quantity sold in a lawful manner would be worth about 50 cents, according to government narcotic agents.

PREFERS JAIL

The court first sentenced Whitman to serve one year in the Atlanta penitentiary, but he made a plea to be committed to jail instead, so he would be near his wife and three small children.

Judge Gibson reconsidered the first sentence and changed it to a jail term.

SON SHOT DEAD HUNTER FOUND

Samuel Bennett, father of Elmer Bennett, 6, of 2407 Charles street, North Side, who was killed by his brother Tuesday while playing cowboy and Indian, was home today after a 24-hour search had been made for him in the woods near Ridgeway, where he was hunting deer.

When Elmer was killed by a charge from a gun held by his brother, Henry, 11, with a shotgun, the elder Bennett had been gone only a few hours with the hunting expedition.

Two friends of the family, William Williams and Charles Thase, both of 2113 Brighton road, found the parent and informed him of the tragedy.

They left here Tuesday night late and after an all-night search in the snow-laden and rough hunting country, found Bennett. Sparing his feelings they told him he was wanted at home. His son was ill, they said.

When the party reached Wilkinsburg on the return trip, Williams broke the sad news to the father. He almost collapsed from grief.

BOY MOURNS BROTHER

Radio stations had sought in vain to find Bennett.

Henry, who did the shooting, cannot be reconciled. He sits and cries at the side of the coffin throughout the day.

Funeral services for Elmer will be held tomorrow from the home of his grandmother, at 2113 Brighton road, under the direction of the Rev. C. J. Loehr. Interment will be in Brush Creek Cemetery, Irwin.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Buds Guests Tonight at Dance

INSTEAD of congealing our gaiety in this social season the visit of snow is warming the cockles of our hearts. And everybody is in a rollicking, holiday mood.

From now on entertainments have an added air of good spirits, and there'll be more and more entertainments as the Yuletide season draws nearer.

This evening there's going to be a gala dinner-dance in the William Penn Hotel. The John P. Hoelzels are giving the event in the urban room and the silver room in honor of three popular buds of the season, Nancy Allderdice, daughter of the Taylor Allderdices; Joan Diehl, daughter of the Ambrose Nevin Diehls, and Laura Evans, daughter of the Howard Salisbury Evanses. And there'll be about 350 guests.

YESTERDAY there was a debutante luncheon, a buffet luncheon given by Mrs. Oliver Ledlie Smith and Mrs. Wallace Wendell Smith, of St. James street, for their niece, Mary Moody Stevenson, debutante daughter of the Alan Cooper Stevensons. Mary's sister, Peggy, who made her bow last winter, was to have shared honors, but was too ill to attend.

Roses and heather decorated the service table. There were about 50 guests, including debs of the season. Liberty blue crepe with a hat to match was chosen by the youthful guest of honor. Mrs. Oliver Ledlie Smith was in English green crepe with a hat to match, Mrs. Wallace Wendell Smith in black transparent velvet with a hat of black satin, and the mother of the bud selected a gown of black transparent velvet, too, with a hat to match.

ANOTHER event of yesterday was a distinctive dinner-dance the William E. McKelveys gave in the Pittsburgh Golf Club for their daughter, Martha McKelvy. Yellow and white pompons and a profusion of cibotium ferns and bamboos decorated the ballroom, where small tables were arranged for 175 guests. Martha was charming in a gown of shell pink chiffon, in the princess mode; her mother wore orchid lace, and her sister, Christine, Nile green satin.

ANOTHER date has been added to the social calendar of the school set. On Friday, December 20, Mary Crossan Chaplin will entertain the Tuesday afternoon dancing class in the Dorian Club. Santa Claus will be there, and Christmas decorations will provide a suitable setting. The following evening Mary will entertain in the same club for the Friday evening dancing class.

THE Frank Ward Severances have changed the date for the dance they'll give for the younger school set from December 23 to December 20. And the event will be in the Allegheny Country Club with their son, Frank Ward Severance, Jr., as guest of honor.

EVERY day I hear of some new committee working on the plans for the Cinderella Ball to be given Monday evening in the University Club by the members of the dispensary board of St. Margaret's Hospital.

There'll be a floor committee, with men as members, including Paul B. Dickey, Chester C. Bailey, William W. Blair, Jr., John J. Bissell, Stanley Brown, Stuart Brown, Jr., A. H. Burchfield, Jr., Blair Childs, Harvey Childs, III., J. Porter Gillespie, George Flinn, Louis M. Hague, Charles C. Heard, Alan S. Humphreys, William Y. Humphreys, Charles B. Jarrett, Arthur M. Scully, Charles L. Snowdon, Jr., Sidney A. Stewart, James J. Turner, Jr., A. Verner Swasson, Charles S. Wunder, J. Knowles Woodwell, Malcolm W. Leech, A. Cameron Mann, Raymond F. Moreland, William Ford Moreland, W. H. Nimick, Jr., Louis R. Schmertz, Jr., and Arthur P. Woolfolk.

NOW I must tell you about the annual tea dance that the Women's Auxiliary of the Pittsburgh Hospital will give Saturday, December 28, in the Hotel Schenley. The tea will be for the benefit of the hospital, of course, and the committee in charge includes Miss Mary Hackett, Mrs. Francis A. Keating, Mrs. Lawrence P Monahan, Mrs. C. F. C. Arensburg, Mrs. John A. Beck, Mrs. Albert S. Beymer, Mrs. Edward Hussey Binns, Mrs. Thomas Evans, Jr., Mrs. Harry A. Friday, Mrs. Frank J. Lanahan, Mrs. John F. McCullough, Miss Bertha Reilly and Mrs. Charles E. Satler.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL BERGHAUS, of Rosslyn Place, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lydia Berghaus, to the Rev. C. Ronald Garmey, rector of St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church, Hollis, L. I., N. Y., formerly curate of the Calvary Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh.

MISS HELEN M. FORGESON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forgeson, of Witherspoon ...ame the bride of Sam...man, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Coleman, of Antrim street, at 9 o'clock Thanksgiving morning in St. Raphael's Church, Chislett street, with the Rev. John P. Gallagher officiating. Palms and Cibotium ferns were used as decorations in the church.

A gown of ivory satin in princess style, reaching the floor in back was worn by the bride. Her small hat was of satin and old lace matching her gown, and she carried Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Irene Forgeson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of green satin with small velvet hat to match. Her bouquet was of tea roses. Another sister, Miss Margaret Forgeson, and Miss Margaret Coleman, sister of the bridegroom, appeared as bridesmaids, wearing yellow satin gowns with matching velvet hats. They carried yellow roses. Henry Vogely served as the best man.

A wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will reside in Brookline.

MISS MARY V. JOYCE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Joyce, Duncan street, and Miss Barbara Flaherty, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Flaherty, of Oak street, Duquesne, were married on Thanksgiving to Joseph P. Palmer and William Palmer, sons of Mrs. Catherine Palmer, of Johnstown, Pa. The marriage was solemnized at high noon in St. John's Cathedral, Altoona, the Rev. Owen E. Hackett officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer later left for an eastern wedding trip.

MISS METTA GREENAWALT, ... daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Greenawalt, of Jeannette, became the bride of Howard Emil Bolton, of Pittsburgh, on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents in Magee avenue. The Rev. Daniel Melroy Paul, of Wilkinsburg, assisted by the Rev. Charles R. Wolf, pastor of the Jeannette Methodist Episcopal Church, officiated before an improvised altar of palms and ferns with tall cathedral candles lighting the room.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin and French lace, fashioned in medieval style with a panel train. Her veil was of ivory net with French lace cap. She carried lilies. Her bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Greenawalt, a niece, and Miss Maxine Greenawalt, a cousin. They wore similar gowns of apple green chiffon and their flowers were premier roses. Miss Louise Rath, small niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a frock of rose taffeta and carried a basket of rosebuds and Marguerites.

Ralph Flinn served as best man and the ushers were Harold Ney Prothero, Jr., and Ward C. Grennawalt, brother of the bride.

A reception in the Wayfarer's Club followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Bolton left for a southern motor trip. They will reside in Magee avenue, Jeannette.

Tech Women Hear About Russia

CONDITIONS in Soviet Russia as he saw them were interestingly related to the Carnegie Tech Woman's Club and their guests, the Pitt Women's Association and the faculty of Pennsylvania College for Women, by the Rev. Dr. E. J. Van Etten yesterday afternoon. The word Soviet, Dr. Van Etten explained, means committee, and only those engaged in useful work are eligible to the committee of government.

He told of the magnificent city palaces and country homes which have become museums, not only that the change in conditons may be noted but with the sincere intention of allowing everybody to have a share in these places. One such home that had been the scene of wild orgies in former times is now a home for babies of the streets, children that in the old days would have had no chance at all. Some very finely colored lantern slides showed views of these show places and also of the types of Russian people.

In addition to Dr. Van Etten's talk, the program included a group of vocal solos, French songs and Christmas carols, by Mrs. J. J. McAdoo, with Mrs. Maurice Carroll at the piano. The hostesses served tea and Russian cakes during the social hour.

A PROGRAM of music and readings is planned for the Christmas meeting of the Library Woman's Club to be held Tuesday in Mrs. Harry Lytle's home. Mrs. Claude Hardesty and Mrs. Edward B. Laughlin will present vocal duets, Mrs. Davis Rees will give the readings, Miss Retta Rainey will sing, as will a quartet composed of Mrs. Hardesty, Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. C. R. New and Mrs. W. D. Allison. Club caroling will be an added feature of the afternoon. Gifts of toys are to be brought for the Toy Mission and of jellies and preserves for the Old Ladies' Home, and there will be the usual exchange of gifts among the members.

THE Woman's Club of Swissvale has moved with the American Legion to its new home in Park avenue and there will hold the Christmas meeting on Monday afternoon. Christmas carols by the club, Christmas quotations at roll call and papers on "The Origin and Romance of Christmas Carols" by Mrs. F. T. Adams, Mrs. O. J. Hauger and Mrs. Nellie Wonders will make up the program.

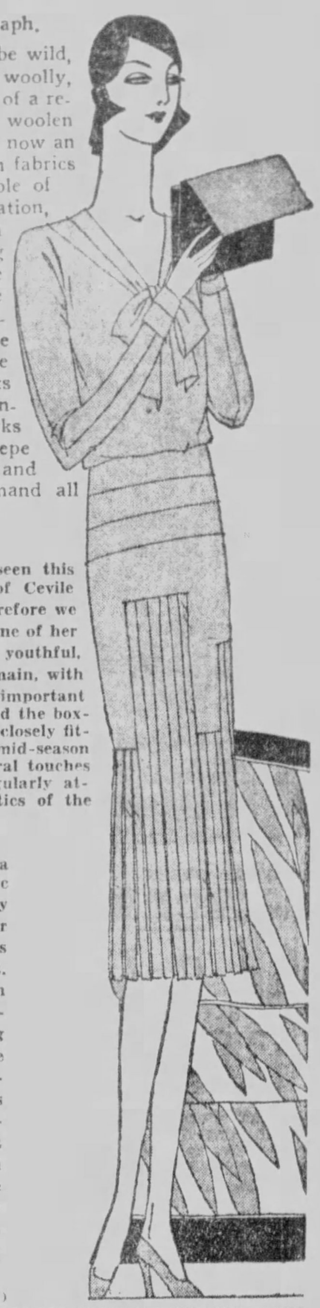
WOOLEN FABRICS POPULAR FOR ALL KINDS OF DRESSES

Sketched in Paris



Paris Bureau, Pittsburg Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—The mode may not be wild, but it certainly seems to be decidedly woolly, for one of the most remarkable features of a remarkable season is the popularity of woolen fabrics for all kinds of dresses. It is by now an old story, this metamorphosis of woolen fabrics into light supple weaves, capable of graceful draping and manipulation, and the sequel has been seen in gowns of woolen fabrics gracing afternoon functions, where heretofore frocks of silk were always seen. Hats of woolens, especially the fine tweeds and wool jersey are being ordered for sports wear, another woolly innovation. Just now frocks of woolen romain and crepe are immensely popular, and will no doubt be in demand all through the season.

SEVERAL of the nicest woolen frocks seen this season are from the establishment of Cevile Welly in the Boulevard Haussmann. Therefore we are glad to be able to present a sketch of one of her most successful models. It is an extremely youthful, even girlish, frock of navy blue wool romain, with a scarf collar knotted in front, a very important touch. The bodice is slightly bloused, and the box-pleated skirt is irregularly attached to a closely fitting yoke. This frock is from the new mid-season collection of this house, and so its several touches such as the scarf collar and the irregularly attached skirt, are important characteristics of the very latest mode.

THE house of Cyber has a marked penchant for tunic dresses, and so it is not very difficult to guess that the other dress illustrated herewith bears the label of this establishment. The model is of hunter's green velvet with very dark and beautifully marked fitch. The long tunic is very graceful in line and has a side fastening starting at the scarf collar which is knotted softly on the left shoulder. The under skirt is straight and quite narrow. As the season waxes it is observed that tunic dresses are gaining in popularity, the fur-bordered tunic also making some headway along fashion lane.

CLASS TRAINS IN STORES

Students in the Research Bureau for Retail Training of the University of Pittsburgh are now taking their lessons as junior executives in downtown department stores, this training replacing the class room studies. The program of teaching is arranged so that students get both book lessons in store organization and management and practical training in the psychology of handling customers.

The positions held by the students include floormen and assistants in the training department and service department. As floormen the student has charge of the personnel and service of his particular department and in the training department he gathers merchandise information for meetings and holding meetings of employes.

Search for Three Missing Persons Continues Without Result

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Mary Patricia Dawn, young and beautiful, is in love with Guy Elliott, handsome aviator. Guy is perfecting a plane which old William Bryce is to manufacture. Pat meets Bryce's widowed daughter-in-law and wonders if Guy is intrigued by Barbara's beauty. Bryce sends Tom Burns, a workman, to jail for attempted robbery. Pat has gay times with Lee Templeton, young college student. Pat's father is stricken with pneumonia and dies. The family considers giving up the big house because of the heavy expenses. Guy, hoping to help the Dawns, tries to urge Bryce to manufacture his plane. He learns the old man has lost a fortune. Mrs. Dawn gives her life savings to Bryce to invest. Guy, fearing Bryce may use the money to cover his own losses, tries to recover it. Bryce reluctantly surrenders the bonds, swearing vengeance on Guy. He discontinues financing the airplane factory, but holds Guy to his contract which prevents another concern from selling Guy's plane. Billie Bryce is kidnaped. The same day a stranger makes off with Guy's plane with Pat in it. Guy disappears, the third person to vanish. Detectives find a few of Billie's hairs in Guy's abandoned automobile.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXV.

THREE people had disappeared—completely, mysteriously. Twenty-four hours were passed since any one of them had been seen. Not a clue to their whereabouts yet discovered.

Airplanes searched from every lane of heaven. All roads leading from the city were guarded. Ferry boats were watched; every little golden-haired child and every young man in a brown suit who went in or out of San Francisco were stopped and questioned. The whole vicinity of the Skyline Boulevard, where the abandoned auto was found, had been combed.

Every pretty girl in a green hat and green sport suit had to answer one detective or another. The whole city entered the search. Pictures of winsome Pat Dawn were flashed on the front page of every paper.

The disappearance remained absolute. Not an echo flung back from the void into which these three had vanished.

The newspapers summed up the known facts.

At 2 o'clock the bookkeeper at the plant had noticed Guy Elliott at the door of his draughting room; he had heard him whistle. He wore a brown suit and a tan hat.

At 4:15 a woman—a Mrs. Harriet Taylor—living in Laguna Square, had seen a tall man in a brown suit leading a little boy about 3 or 4 to a gray sedan. The child was laughing and appeared to follow eagerly. Mrs. Taylor, shown a picture of Billy Bryce, gave an unqualified identification.

But the man wore a soft, tan colored hat with a rather wide brim. He had it pulled down over his eyes. She could only swear that he was young, tall, thin.

At 5 o'clock Patricia Dawn, known to mechanics at the hangar, had arrived at Mills Field. She carried books as though she had come from school. She waited 10 or 15 minutes and then climbed into the cabin. When the mechanics started tuning up the motor in obedience to orders telephoned, presumably by Guy, the girl had poked her head laughingly from the cabin. This was the last time anyone had actually seen Pat Dawn.

"About a quarter of 6," said Don Morse, mechanic at the field, "I removed the blocks from the wheels of Mr. Elliott's plane. He took off immediately.

"No—I can't positively swear that it was Mr. Elliott. It was getting dark. I didn't see him come into the field. No, I didn't see him climb into the cockpit. I'd gone back to the hangar. Then he called and motioned that he was ready. I went out and took away the blocks.

"At the time I was certain it was Mr. Elliott. It was someone very familiar with the working of the plane. That I can swear."

So Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock Guy's abandoned auto, with the gold hairs of the child found on the mat, and Guy's missing plane furnished the sole evidence on which a theory could be built.

Had Guy Elliott done this—had he stolen the child of Barbara Bryce? And why?

The relatives most poignantly concerned threw little light on the mystery. The police badgered William Bryce. Had he an enemy—a disgruntled employe—a business rival—a client made revengeful because of money losses? Think back, now.

Bryce told of his break with Guy and of Guy's threat.

The police seized on this, but kept it quiet. They summoned Laura Dawn and Guy's pal, Sallie.

Sallie admitted that her daughter was engaged to Guy. When pressed, she also admitted that she was aware of a disagreement between the youth and his partner. But, no, she had not heard Mr. Elliott threaten revenge. He was incapable of such a move. He was but a kind and happy boy. No, her daughter had NOT eloped. She was NOT unhappy at home. Of her own volition Patricia Dawn had NOT disappeared.

Laura now paced feverishly up and down her living room—in and out of the garden. She did not mention her own affair with Bryce. She wondered if this were in any way concerned. With bursting heart she went over the interview—over every word Guy had reported. Would it hurt or help if she spoke of this?

Guy's sister was even more in the dark. Her brother had phoned about 11 o'clock on Monday. He had inquired about a telegram. He seemed depressed.

The telegram was ordered produced. Bryce was shown this. He sat in the office of the detectives. The captain handed him the yellow slip of paper.

And suddenly William Bryce shook back his head and laughed. He laughed like a crazy man. The solution! A light flooded the wild dark in his mind. The telegram solved the mystery.

It was that message Carl Brunner had sent: "Our offer still holds. Botfield interested in your design. Wire immediately, if you are free and if you have all the exclusive rights to your patents."

Now it was clear. Guy, distracted by the loss of his job, desperate at the prospect of idle, penniless days, had nevertheless been compelled to refuse this beautiful opportunity from the Botfield Company because Bryce controlled the patents.

Was he then using this method to force the hand of William Bryce? This was plausible. This William Bryce could well believe.

Guy was an impetuous fellow. He knew how the man adored his grandson. So he'd stolen the child and was holding him to force Bryce's surrender.

Foul play—only the very foulest—had accomplished this.

Even Dickie Dawn was called. The youngster's black eyes flashed and the dimples ironed out into a grim line of pugnacity.

Bryce was a happy man when a copy of that telegram was shown him. Radios were broadcast from every station. A message was sent to Brunner.

"If you know Guy Elliott's whereabouts, please wire that he has exclusive rights to his patents. I relinquish all to him. Let him get in touch with me. The rights are already signed over and shall be delivered."

Then they waited. One day—two days. Not an answer.

In those 48 hours William Bryce suffered torment he had not deemed it possible for a human to endure. Compared to this, the death of his only son was kind. For that had been mere grief . . . mere stark tragedy. But it was a thing that happened in a human world. This other belonged to the realm of fiends.

He found no relief except in adding more planes to the search—more men to comb parks and highways.

Driven to the last extremity, he revoked a trust fund made out to his grandson. "The boy will be penniless," he thought, bitterly, from the depths of immeasurable anguish, "but he'll be ALIVE!"

On Thursday afternoon came a ransom note: Bryce, get $20,000—be prepared to place it in a certain spot when a second message comes to you. Fail in this and your grandson dies!"

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, December 6

A MOST auspicious sidereal government vouches for a lively and important day with much promise of progress and prosperity in all avenues of endeavor. Finances, employment, speculation, adventure all should flourish, and there should be desired benefits from dealings with progressive institutions.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which all affairs move toward the goal of fulfilled ambitions. Progress and prosperity should cap all endeavor, elderly persons and institutions assisting.

A child born on this day may be splendidly endowed with the qualities and faculties insuring success and position in life.

THE OPEN FACED CHAPEAU

Drawn by Nell Brinkley

THE GIRLS are all a-twitter, a-flutter and a-gog.

It's all over "the new line."

Did you gentlemen realize that there was a new line?—if you didn't, I'm telling you that that is what is on your little grasshopper's mind these days . . . it isn't anything you've done. You haven't seen much of the new line on the street yet, and that accounts for your ignorance; but Gloriette is deeply, anxiously, raptly, intimately acquainted with it! She has had it on; in a place where YOU weren't. In the scented, mossy-carpeted, taffeta-draped, silver-walled hush of a mannequin-haunted Temple of Fashion, or if she's just dear Gertie, in a chattery, noisy bourgeoise Meeting' Place of "Styles."

And having had it on, and seen her Winter-self, with a shock, in a high-waisted Princess frock to her ankles in the back, and to that only-a-half-year-ago-horrid place, halfway between ankle and knee in the front, she . . . Gloriette and Gertie alike . . . is—are worried!

The Fashion mags have the news of their lives. They're screaming it as loud as a well-bred mag can. "THE NEW LINE!" "EXTRAORDINARY! THE NEW LINE!" And that dreadful word that Gloriette and Gertie have been dreading, expecting and hoping against . . . corsets—REAL corsets. It has been spoken! Right after the world "line." Not in ten years have the star reporters of Fashion been so a-fume. So fussed and frantic. With joy.

Bonnets are new, too; but they have been coming on gradually, so that we are already used to the open-faced chapeau, the hat that gives Gloriette such an honest look. Right off the face as though somebody had been pulling her black hair; and she never told a lie.

You must have a bare forehead with no hair showing. Will it go on and on, as this Dame Fashion does—never knowing when to stop anything she starts, until she grows weary of it herself—until we pluck our hair off our foreheads a couple of inches as the damsels did when they all went Botticelli in old Italy.

If you have lost the youth in your face and forehead, lady-lady, the surprised bonnet is not for you. Only Youth and a charming profile can wear it, and register.

It's the line off FROCK that YOUTH is worrying about. It adds years and mystery to seventeen. And seventeen shies at years, and isn't used to "mystery." —NELL BRINKLEY.

How to Keep Well

By DR. COPELAND

The Cause of 'Auto Intoxication'

THERE are four chief sources of infection from within the body. They are teeth, sinuses, tonsils and intestines. "Auto-intoxication" might be produced by poisons from any one of these places. But the word is used mainly in connection with toxic poisoning from the intestines. Such poisons are conveyed to every nook and corner of the body by the blood stream. The condition is likely to be associated with constipation.

DR COPELAND

There are many causes for constipation. Among them are faulty diet, lack of exercise and fresh air, worry and habitual fatigue. It is important that our muscles be kept healthy and strong. The blood must rise in a long, upward ascent from the feet to the heart, putting added work on the heart muscle, the human pump. The waste matter in the large intestine must also rise upward, along the path of the "ascending colon."

Today our environment is far different from olden times. The business man or woman hurries to business at the very time in the morning when elimination from the bowels should be given attention. The natural time for this is about 15 minutes after breakfast. If there is neglect of punctuality in this matter, the result is constipation.

The most necessary thing in the world to do is to keep the human mechanism in good working order. But we are all so hard pressed for time or think we are that we neglect the fundamental principle of keeping ourselves in good health.

Water is a wonderful preventive and corrective agent. Drink a full glass or two before breakfast in the morning and before bedtime, that is, preferably when the stomach is empty. Six or eight glasses of water should be taken daily.

Walking is the best mild exercise for the abdominal muscles. It is unwise to walk so much as to become overtired, for this may create a condition favorable to toxic poisoning.

Keep toned up to meet the daily demands of the brain or nervous system. Running, jumping, climbing the hills, or swimming, are all movements ideally suited to right muscular action. Keep yourself in a happy frame of mind. Refuse to worry. And, having done all these things, the bugbear of constipation will be yours no more.

There is great danger in the use of cathartics. Thousands of persons are slaves to them. They irritate and inflame the delicate membrane of the intestines. They are only temporarily useful in assisting elimination of body wastes.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Lillian Interprets Part of Marion's Letter

"THE alibi for Charles Owen?" I repeated with tense interest, realizing that during those strenuous days of our removal to the hotel I had forgotten the existence of Samuel Brixton's brother-in-law.

"Yes," Lillian returned, looking quizzically at me over her daughter's letter. "Is your vaunted memory failing. Don't you remember we decided that the lad would need an alibi because of George's recognition of him as a fugitive from Trees that night at your house?"

"Of course I remember," I retorted. "Also I have a vivid recollection of Harry's belief that Owen must have sent word of Prince George's whereabouts to his cousin's henchmen who are trying to murder him. Does this alibi clear him of that charge?"

"As that is something which couldn't possibly be proved, it does not," she said dryly. "But it definitely eliminates him from what the tabloids fondly term the 'scene of the crime.' Here's what Marion says:"

She picked up the letter again and I settled into attention.

"Do you know, Mummy, Carolyn and I are the envy of Senior Hall because of the things Carolyn's uncle, Mr. Owen, is sending us. You see, he didn't stay at Sackettsville as the Brixtons did—they were there for three whole days after school opened. But he went away right after he brought Mr Brixton back, which was just after you left. I guess Mrs Brixton and Ronald didn't like it very well either, because, of course, he took his car with him, and as Mr. Brixton took the big car every day and went scooting around the country looking for real estate investments—that's what he told us—it left Mrs. Brixton and Ronald stranded at the hotel with no car. Ron said his stepfather told him to hire a car if he wanted to take his mother out, but his mother wouldn't let him do it."

Lillian lowered the letter and looked across at me with a little grimace.

"My daughter is certainly wandering around Cape Horn instead of going through the canal," she said. "But she gets down to cases in the next sentence."

I wondered if her omission of any comment upon Samuel Brixton's inconsiderate behavior was intentional. To me there was something inexplicable in his apparently avid interest in real estate in the vininity of Sackettsville, a village too far from any city to have any possibilities of a suburban boom. But as she read on I filed away the impression with those other vaguely uneasy conjectures concerning Samuel Brixton, and focused my attention upon Marion's garrulous revelations of Charles Owen's activities.

"Mr. Owen got a telegram from Chicago while he was gone with Mr. Brixton,' the letter ran on, "and when he read it he said he had to start immediately for a business trip to the West which would take him several weeks. And he beat it right away in his car, only stopping to 'provision her,' as he calls it. He has the most marvelous car, Mummy, awfully queer, but, gee, I'd love to have one like it some day. It's the same make as ours"—Lillian smiled whimsically across at me, and I knew how gratified she was at Marion's unconscious use of the pronoun in referring to her stepfather's car—"so it's one of the best engines going, and then Carolyn says her uncle values it most because he can get repairs for it at any service station. He takes care of it as if it were a baby, Carolyn says, so it is always in condition. But the body is what's wonderful. It looks like the ordinary ones, but all the inside of it is paneled so you can take them out, and they're fitted up with everything you can think of—for camping and sleeping out. And then it holds loads of things besides suitcases. On the luggage carrier in a specially made waterproof trunk he has a folding cot arrangement, a collapsible mattress and blankets, a folding waterproof canopy with curtains. And he has folding rods on the car so that if he doesn't want to go to a hotel he can fix up the top of the car into a regular little room. He always carries plenty of emergency rations with him, and he has guns and fishing rods so that he can 'live off the country.'

"I suppose I ought not to say anything about the guns. He didn't tell Carolyn about them. They're behind one of the panels which he didn't show her, and which doesn't look as if it would open—a regular secret panel. Isn't that exciting? But Carolyn had been reading some of those old stories about castles and secret panels—Gee! the old exciting times have come back again, haven't they?—and she rubbered around one day until she found out how to open that panel. But when she saw what was behind it she shut it up again mighty quick. And she never dared tell him she'd opened it."

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

The Sweet and Low-Down

HOW fascinating a man finds one woman, usually depends a lot on how much he is beginning to be bored with some other woman.

* * *

Being offered a love which he can't requite, when he is longing for one that he can't get, is to a man like being offered a lettuce sandwich and a cup of tea, when he is longing for cocktail and a hearty meal.

HELEN ROWLAND

Getting a man to change his wet shoes and socks is almost as hard as getting him to change his political platform or his pet predilections in neckties.

It is amazing how much time the man, who is too busy to marry the right woman, can find to play around with the wrong one.

Some day, some philanthropist will erect a statue to "The Wife"—showing a patient figure, holding a clean shirt in one hand and a dose of bicarbonate of soda in the other.

Marriage is to a man like a motor accident; he never has a premonition of it, beforehand—and never can tell you, afterward, just how it happened to him.

No, children, the Vensus de Milo did not lose her arms, trying to powder her back for the new evening gowns; she probably lost them in trying to hold onto her husband with one hand and to her individuality with the other.

You can't change the leopard's spots by sending him to the dry cleaner's—nor erase all the traces of a few nights of whoopee by a visit to the barber or the beauty parlor.

Being happily married is largely a matter of getting along amicably under the same floor lamp.

* * *

Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to sneak down and look your husband's new stenographer over.

Cookery Hint

To draw out the flavor of meats, as for broths, start the cooking in cold water, bringing slowly to the boiling point.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

A Social Inconsistency

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Is it proper for a bride's sister to give a shower in her honor? INTERESTED.

THERE are no rules about the giving of showers. We must in all the questions pertaining to them, just use our best social sense. And, viewed from this light, it would seem rather inconsistent for a member of the family to plan for the bride-to-be a party that is so obviously of a rather utilitarian nature—to put it as politely as we can.

Lettuce—A Food

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:

Will you please give me the correct way to eat lettuce? My sister-in-law thinks it is a garnish and should be left, while I claim it is to be eaten with the food it is served with. Who is right? R. B.

LETTUCE should be eaten with the food with which it is served. There is no reason in the world why it should be "left" on the plate if one wishes to eat it. And I feel sorry for people who don't wish to eat lettuce!

"Apron Frock for Morning"

Pattern 1743

Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

The model sketched today may be used as an apron to protect one's frock, or may be used in place of a frock for morning household duties. It is very easy to make, and the effect is charming. The collar, sleeve ends and pockets are bound in contrasting color.

Design 1743 should be fashioned of gingham, percale or rayon as these fabrics are practical and sturdy. Printed patterns of flowers, checks, plaids and dots are most attractive vividly colored on white grounds.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 2⅝ yards of 36-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model. The pattern has ample and exact instructions. Yardage is given for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

The NEW WINTER FASHION BOOK is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York City.

U. S. C. GETS ROSES CALL

SPORT COMMENT
by JAMES J. LONG

Pitt's 1930 Grid Slate. Three Contests Abroad. Dobie May Be Ousted. | Layton Title Favorite. Night Baseball Next. Toporcer Reinstated.

IRISH, SYRACUSE, RESERVE, NEW TILTS

WHEN the rebuilt Pitt football team, with Eddie Baker again directing things in the role of field general at quarterback, takes the field next fall, it will find itself facing one of the toughest schedules that ever confronted a Panther eleven. The Blue and Gold athletic authorities have not yet announced the games or dates for 1930, but putting together the prospective events made public singly from time to time, either by Pitt or the college to be played, it is possible to draw a fairly accurate outline of the Panther slate.

Eddie Baker

As usual, nine games will be played, starting on Saturday, September 27, and ending on Thanksgiving Day. The high spot will, of course, be the battle with Notre Dame, on October 25 in this city. Another trip will be made to Lincoln to meet Nebraska. In addition to Notre Dame and Nebraska, Pitt has contracted to meet Waynesburg, West Virginia, Western Reserve, Syracuse, W. & J., Carnegie Tech and Penn State though a rearrangement is now being attempted to make possible a game with Ohio State. The proposed game with Iowa City has been put back until 1931 and may not be played even then.

THREE of the teams taken on this year were not to be met next season, these being Ohio State, Duke and Allegheny College. Their places were to be taken by Notre Dame, Syracuse and Western Reserve. Ohio State, limited to eight games and having five Western Conference teams booked in addition to the Navy, feared it would not be in a position to play Pitt in 1930, and relations were not to be renewed until 1931, with the Panthers going to Columbus to play the Buckeyes, but now an attempt is being made to shift dates so that Pitt and the Ohioans can play next year.

Pitt will play three of its nine games next year away from home, going to Morgantown to play Virginia and to Syracuse to meet the Orange, in addition to the trip to Lincoln. When the schedule is announced it probably will read something like this, unless a game is arranged with Ohio State:

September 27—Waynesburg at The Stadium.
October 4—West Virginia at Morgantown.
October 11—Western Reserve at The Stadium.
October 18—Nebraska at Lincoln.
October 25—Notre Dame at The Stadium.
November 1—Syracuse at Syracuse.
November 8—W. & J. at The Stadium.
November 15—Carnegie Tech at The Stadium.
November 22—Open.
November 27 (Thanksgiving Day)—Penn State at The Stadium.

READING between the lines of the athletic survey report published in the current issue of the "Cornell Alumni News," the average football fan can hardly fail to draw the conclusion that Gil Dobie is about done as coach at the Ithaca university and probably will be supplanted by a new mentor before next season.

The wording of the report of the subcommittee that investigated the football coaching at the school sounds significant in this respect. This committee, of which Karl W. Gass, '12, was a member, was part of "The Committee of Seventeen" appointed to look into athletic conditions.

Gil Dobie

THE sub-committee on football coaching exonerates Dobie of the charges made against him regarding his treatment of the players, and finds that the gridders are "in favor of him as a man and of his methods." It also pointed out in his behalf that "Cornell does not and never has possessed sufficient football material naturally to attract capable football material." But here's where the gloomy Dobie's reputation as the most pessimistic coach in football appears to have put him in bad. The committee says it "feels that the general attitude of Mr. Dobie—or at least the popular conception of him, with his all-pervading pessimism—has not only NOT CONTRIBUTED TO A BETTERMENT OF THE SITUATION, BUT HAS TENDED TO AGGRAVATE IT."

NO fault is found by the committee with the results obtained by Dobie, and it admits that the team has won a larger percentage of its games under him than under any other coach. However, it adds that some conditions are unsatisfactory, for instance "a lack of mutual good will and co-operation among the agencies vital to success." It also finds a "lack of confidence" (among the alumni) and "dissatisfaction that has become widespread," which causes it to doubt if Dobie will be able to reach "maximum effectiveness at Cornell."

The committee feels that part of the responsibility for a situation which it regards as unfortunate falls upon Dobie because "he has been ill-advised in his public relations and has contributed in other ways to the development of this situation." It also frankly states that it cannot "place the entire responsibility" for conditions as it sees them on Dobie. Boiled down, however, the finding appears to be that Dobie is a good coach but does not fit in at Cornell.

THE success of Johnny Layton thus far in holding his lead over Welker Cochran in their 600-point three-cushion billiard match (diamonds covered) in New York, is likely to make Layton a stronger favorite than ever to retain his title in the world championship tournament to be held from January 3 to January 10.

Johnny Layton

Cochran's game is balkline, not three-cushions, it is true, but it must be remembered that Layton is playing under the handicap of a broken finger on his right hand and two fractured ribs. Doing so well against Cochran in that condition, he will be hard to defeat in the coming tourney, in which he will be opposed by Willie Hoppe, Gus Copulos, Otto Reiselt, Augie Kieckhefer, Tiff Denton, Walter Riley and Charley Jordan.

IF football can be played with success at night, why not baseball? That's the question some of the minor league magnates have been asking themselves after a lean season, with the result that the Des Moines club, of the Western Association, has finally decided to give it a trial. It means a setting aside of the rules, which provide that "every championship game must be commenced not later than two hours before sunset." However, plans are announced for a season of night playing, under a special lighting system, in an effort to solve the problem of decreasing attendance and mounting baseball costs.

IT will not be the first time the thing has been tried, but its success is doubtful. For players or spectators to keep their eyes on a baseball under artificial light is a considerably different proposition from following a football under similar conditions.

The minor league magnates have been unusually active otherwise since they gathered in Chattanooga for their annual convention, and numerous other player deals have developed, aside from the one of particular interest to Pittsburgh fans that is being discussed, with when the Mission club's proposal to sell Second Baseman Mickey Finn and Shortstop Gordon Slade to the Pirates put up to Manager Jewel Ens for a decision.

HERE are some of the early transfers: Outfielder Cowboy Jones, from Columbia to Toledo; Outfielder Bill Zitzmann, from Cin-

DARRAGH PLANS TO BE BACK IN LINEUP

By CARL W. SHATTO.

Dutkowski, Gottselig and Couture—there are some names capable of giving any typewriter a real battle.

Add Somers, Wentworth and Gardiner and shake well and you have the starting lineup of the Chicago Hawks, a rejuvenated hockey team capable of giving any ice club a lusty fight.

Dutkowski, Gottselig and other skaters assembled by Tom Shaughnessy, new manager of the Windy City club, will appear at Duquesne Garden tonight in an effort to convince local ice fans that they are just as tough on National League opposition as their names are on vocal cords.

HAWKS DANGEROUS FOE

A glance at the club standings shows that the Hawks have occasion to feel that they are a fairly tough aggregation. They have lost only two games this season, and they are only one point behind the New York Rangers, in second place Boston, Detroit and the New York Americans have been "taken" by the Chicagoans, and Les Canadiens and the Toronto Leafs were held to a tie.

Pitted against the invaders, tough by name and tough by nature, will be Manager Frank Frederickson and his Pirates, whose toughness has been limited to tough luck. The Bucs got a tough break Tuesday night when they had to battle the Maroons in Montreal with Harold Darragh and Herb Drury out with injuries. They got another tough break when, with the Maroons leading

EASTERNERS MAY DECLINE ROSES BIDS

By JESS CARVER.

Although the Tournament of Roses Committee has selected the Trojans of the University of Southern California as the Western team for the annual New Year's Day benefit clash, unless some quick action is taken in the way of inviting an Eastern team to provide the opposition, I have a hunch that the Westerners will be unable to get any of the leading undefeated teams of the land to come out.

Ben Lubic.

Enough time has been fooled away now to fix up a dozen ball games. Tennessee, Tulane and Pitt, still in prospect (Notre Dame and Purdue having refused the bid) won't feel like keeping their squads in training to await the procrastinated pleasure of the boys from the West so very much longer. It will not come as a great surprise if any of the three turn down the bid if they do get it.

COLGATE FAVORED

Colgate is still the dark horse, and it is very possible, or rather, very likely, that Andy Kerr's boys will travel westward.

Unable to play freshmen in the opening game of their campaign against Iowa next Monday evening at Iowa City, the Dukes will present a familiar looking lineup against the Westerners.

Joe Vernon, Ben Lubic, Ganzy Benedict, Brud Stephens and young Wilder, members of last year's team, likely will start.

MUCH WHOOPEE, AND HOW

The annual banquet of the Western Pennsylvania Football Referees Association will be held in the Hotel Schenley tonight. More could be written about this affair, but why? ? ? Leo McGlinchy the well known barrister, will serve as toastmaster.

Carnegie Tech's Tartans have been put through some strenuous drills so far this week in preparation for the game with Southern California in Los Angeles a week from Saturday.

The Skibos will drill in their own little Bowl every afternoon this week, capping the home training with a brisk workout Saturday morning, the day of their departure for the Far West.

VERSATILE BOYS

Numerous members of the Pitt and Duquesne football squads are basketball candidates. Rip Collins, Eddie Hirschberg, Ray Montgomery and Eddie Baker are under the watchful eye of Dr. Carlson. Chick Davies is using Ganzy Benedict, Maesh Silverstein, O'Toole, Paulina and Abele.

How about the Scotch golfer who, upon being sentenced to hang, ask for a couple practice swings?

STAR TRAINER TO CONDITION BOXERS HERE

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Pittsburgh now boasts a high-class boxing trainer in the person of Irish Kane, just brought here from Cleveland by Francis Flynn to take over the management of Flynn's gymnasium, downtown.

Kane is well known throughout the country among managers, boxers and promoters. Among the boxers he has helped to condition or second are Billy Wallace, Jock Malone, Andre Routis, Jack Bernstein, Willie LaMorte, Bushy Graham, Johnny Datto, Jack McVey, Solly Seeman, Charley O'Connell, Joey Goodman, Maxie Strub, Archie Walker, Rosy Rosales, Dave Shade, Phil Verdi, Irish Johnny Curtin, Basil Galiano and Joey Manuel. Among the managers with whom he has been associated are Leo P. Flynn, Billy McCarney, Joe Jacobs, Maurice Cain, Charley Johnston, Eddie Mead, Jimmy Dunn and Red Mason.

TO HELP AMATEURS

Already Kane has taken hold of the training routine of a number of the local boxers. He is supervising the conditioning of Buck McTiernan, George Panka, Jackie Rodgers and others, and has brought with him from Cleveland Jack DeNeri, a featherweight, who meets Young Angelo, of Swissvale, in the semi-final to the McTiernan-Mickey Solmen return bout at the Moose Temple tomorrow night.

The new local trainer is not only interested in the handling of professional boxers, but has made arrangements whereby amateurs may work out in the gymnasium evenings for the nominal sum of 50 cents a week, which will include instruction.

In bringing in a trainer of the experience and ability of Kane,

Jackie Fields Boxes Gorilla Jones Dec. 13

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Jackie Fields, world welterweight champion, has agreed to meet Gorilla Jones, of Akron, in a non-title bout at the Boston Garden on December 13. It was stipulated that neither would scale more than 149 pounds, one above the welterweight limit.

Fight Results

At Akron—Gorilla Jones knocked out Nick Testo, 6 rounds.
At Wilmington, Cal.—Mushy Callahan knocked out Alfonzo Gonzales, 5 rounds.
At Mitchel Field, N. Y.—Peter Louis Grasse defeated Peter Jackson, 8 rounds.
Sailor Snitka defeated Luvviga Ugetto, 6 rounds.
At Oakland, Cal.—Max Baer knocked out Chet Shandel, 2 rounds.

CALLAHAN WINS

WILMINGTON, Cal., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Mushy Callahan, recently recognized as junior welterweight champion, knocked out Alfonzo Gonzales, of Wilmington, in the fifth round here last night. The title was not at stake.

Young to Coach W. & L. Freshmen

LEXINGTON, Va., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Harry K. Young, Huntington, W. Va., has been named to succeed Eddie Parks Davis as head coach of the Washington and Lee University freshman football team next year, coaching officials announced here yesterday. Young is a member of the coaching staff at the college of William and Mary.

TROJANS WILL NAME EASTERN TEAM SOON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The University of Southern California will represent the West in the annual New Year's Day football classic in the Rose Bowl, Pasadena.

The tournament committee announced that the western eleven would choose its own eastern opponent, take charge of the bowl, tickets and other arrangements, and said it was out of the guessing game until next year.

All the rumors which had been spread over both West and East concerning selection of teams to participate, today were concentrated in the East. Purdue, undefeated Big Ten champion; Pittsburgh with an equally remarkable record in the East; Tulane, a southern team with an unspotted escutcheon, and Southern Methodist University, of Texas, were the focal points.

The Trojan officials said they had not had time to consider what school in the East would be invited.

PITT REJECTS BID

The athletic council of the University of Pittsburgh today declined with thanks the invitation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Pasadena for an international post-season game with St. Mary's in Pasadena on December 21.

According to W. Don Harrison, director of athletics and a member of the athletic committee, Pitt is not interested in any post-season contest save the Tournament of Roses game. No word has been received from the coast from Southern California, the western team selected for the Rose Bowl game.

COLGATE GRID CARD SET

HAMILTON, N. Y., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Colgate's 1930 football schedule of nine games, announced yesterday by Graduate Manager William A. Reid, includes major games with Penn State, Columbia, Syracuse, Brown, Michigan State and Lafayette. The one open date will be filled with a home game soon.

The schedule:

September 27, St. Lawrence at Hamilton; October 4 (open) at Hamilton; October 11, Lafayette at Hamilton; October 18, Michigan State at Lansing; October 25, Penn State at State College; November 1, Mississippi College at Hamilton; November 8, Columbia at New York; November 15, Syracuse at Syracuse; November 27, Brown at Providence.

Layton Increases Lead over Cochran

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, increased his lead to 58 points over Welker Cochran in their 600-point three-cushion billiard match last night. Layton reached the halfway mark with a margin of 300 to 242 by winning both of yesterday's blocks.

ST. HENRY'S BOW

St. Henry's, of the South Side, was defeated by the Bidwell A. C., of the North Side, 32 to 21, at Columbus Temple last night.

HERE'S HURDLING FOR YOU---COSTS PENALTY

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN P. G. A. TOURNEY

DIEGEL, HAGEN, SARAZEN WIN EASILY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Paced by two favorites, brilliant Leo Diegel, defending champion, and Walter Hagen, four times holder of the title, contenders for the 1929 Professional Golfers' Association championship stroked their way into the third round through a crucial 2 second round of 36 holes match play that saw the field narrowed down to eight.

GUEST BEATEN

Diegel swept through his match in easy fashion with Herbert Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., 10-9. Hagen's win was not as decisive as he eliminated Charles Guest, Los Angeles, 5 and 4.

Two former national open champions, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, advanced to the third round. Sarazen defeated Fred Morrison of Los Angeles, tournament medalist, 3 and 2, while Farrell eliminated Henry Cuici, Bridgeport, Conn., 2 and 1.

In the most bitter struggle of the day, Al Espinosa, Chicago, nosed out another veteran campaigner, William Mehlhorn, New York, on the fourteenth hole. They were even at the ninth. Mehlhorn picked off a one-up advantage at the eighteenth and they were all square at the twenty-seventh. Espinosa had two rounds of 35-37—72, and 35-35—70. Mehlhorn carded 35-36—71 and 36-35—71.

NABHOLTZ OUT

Al Watrous, Detroit, ousted Larry Nabholtz, Houston, Tex., from the picture with an overwhelming 9-7 defeat, while Tony Manero, New York, raced through his match today with a 6-5 win over Eddie Schultz, Troy, N. Y.

Craig Wood, young Bloomfield, N. J., star, entered the third round with a 3-2 win from Neil Christian, Portland, Ore.

Today's pairings follow: Leo Diegel vs. Gene Sarazen; Ed. Nanero vs. Walter Hagen; Craig Wood vs. Johnny Farrell; Al Watrous vs. Al Espinosa.

Yesterday's results: Al Watrous, Detroit, defeated Larry Nabholtz, Houston, Tex., 9 and 7; Leo Diegel, Aqua Chapelle, defeated Herbert Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., 10 and 9; Tony Manero, New York, defeated Eddie Schultz, Troy, N. Y., 6 and 5; Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N. J., defeated Neil Christian, Portland, Ore., 3 and 2; Walter Hagen, Detroit, defeated Charlie Guest, Los Angeles, 5 and 4; Gene Sarazen, New York, defeated Fred Morrison, Los Angeles, 3 and 2; Johnny Farrell, New York, defeated Henry Cuici, Bridgeport, Conn., 2 and 1; Al Espinosa, Chicago, defeated Bill Mehlhorn, New York, 1 up.

High School Elevens Guests at Banquets

Members of the Schenley High School football team, winners of the City League championship, and South Hills High School, runner-up, will be guests at banquets to be tendered the elevens tonight. Schenley's banquet will be held in the Henry Hotel, while the South Hills affair is carded in the high school dining room.

Dr. Jock Sutherland, Pitt coach, will be the principal speaker at a banquet for the Arnold School football team at the Arnold School tonight. Pat Scanlon, former Pitt player, who coached the Arnold squad, will present letters and awards to 16 men. The dinner, to which fathers of the boys are invited, will be followed by the annual football dance.

Members of the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Football Officials' Association will stage their annual banquet tonight in the Hotel Schenley.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Bob Seeds, young outfielder of the Kansas City American Association baseball club has been sold to Cleveland of the American League, George Muehlebach, owner of the Blues, telegraphed last night from Chattanooga. Seeds goes to Cleveland for an unannounced amount of money and a player whose name was not revealed.

IRISH KANE

Kane, who has handled many prominent boxers in New York and Cleveland, is the latest addition to the local boxing colony, taking charge of Flynn's gymnasium, where he will give the boxers the benefit of his years of experience as a trainer, instructor and second.

STAR TRAINER COMES HERE

Flynn, who also is the promoter of the bouts at the Moose Temple, said he felt the need of such a man who could take the worry of managing the gymnasium off his own shoulders, his other duties proving sufficient to keep him busily engaged.

Between Rounds

Matchmaker Jules Beck, of the Motor Square Club, executed more than his usual caliber in arranging the preliminary card for Jim Jimmy Belmont-Farmer Joe Cooper shindig next Monday night with a view to killing off the jinx that has stalked his three most recent programs, in which 10 of the 12 bouts ended in technical knockouts. He believes he has arranged a well-balanced bill with Young Rudy facing Jackie Herman in the semi-final. Domenick Perito boxing Young Joe Walcott in the second bout and Cowboy Deluca meeting Elmer Freeman in the opener.

The card has been completed for tomorrow night's show at the Moose Temple, in the main bout of which Mickey Stoffiani, of New Castle, meets Buck McPherran, of Swissvale, in a return battle. The opening bout, between Curt Repole, of the East End, protege of Johnny Ray, and Jimmy Thornton, Able Witz's Negro bantamweight, of the Hill, was the last to be arranged. Jack DeNeri, of Cleveland, boxes Young Angelo, of Swissvale, in the semi-final and Joe Zink, of McKees Rocks, is in with Eddie Polo, of the North Side, in the second bout.

Benny Burns, of Akron, and Jack Simpson, of Buffalo, have been matched for the 10-round main bout of a show at Franklin, Pa., tomorrow night. Ray Collins, of Erie, is in the semi-final with Jackie Miller. Joe Borgiaski, of Erie, boxes Bernie Higgins, of Ashtabula, O., in the second event, and Eddie Flick, of Oil City, meets Marty Touheen, of Ashtabula, in the opener.

BOUTS CARDED TONIGHT

Young Zazzarino, of Jersey City, boxes Charley Goodman, of Brooklyn, at Jersey City tonight. Jimmy Maloney, Chicago lightweight, meets Joe Miller, also of Chicago, and Mike Dundee battles Buster Brown, at a show promoted by Dick Curley, in Chicago. Doc Conrad engages Abie Bain at Newark, N. J., and Vincent Forgione and Ralph Kidd, Akron, clash in Philadelphia. Freddie Edwards boxes Jackie Herrman and Jimmy Morgan meets Jimmy McGraw at Wellsville, O.

Hans Reinert, the German welterweight who had his nose broken by Tommy Loughran in one of his fights in the eighth round at the Motor Temple last Friday night, will be ready to box again within 10 days and Manager Siegel thinks he'll return to battle before taking on anyone else. Maxie Rosenbloom will be the headliner at the Moose Temple Friday night of next week.

Promoter Jim McGirr, of McKeesport, who is running a Scotch program in his Palisades roller rink all of next week, will offer what he calls a Scotch Fight Night on Thursday. It will be his first boxing show in three weeks and he will give the fans three 10-round bouts and a six-rounder at the reduced prices of 75 cents in the balcony and $1.50 for reserved seats on the main floor. An 11-piece orchestra will be thrown in as an added attraction for the night.

McFOWLER AT McKEESPORT

Joe McFowler, Negro heavyweight, of Johnstown, is matched with Chuck Taggart, of Butler, in the main event of the McKeesport show, and McGirr is looking for opponents for Eddie Brannon and Teddy Welch for the two other 10-rounders. Taggart, who is only 20 years old, has compiled a fine record. He claims to have knocked out all of his 18 professional opponents, permitting none of them to go more than three rounds.

California Joe Gans has been signed as Johnny Kusic's opponent in the main bout of Ray Eberle's next show at Junction Park, New Brighton, December 16.

Fritzie Zivic, young brother of Jack and Pete Zivic, makes his second start as an amateur boxer in a show at Wilson next Thursday night.

The show scheduled at the Coliseum in Washington, Pa., next Monday night has been called off due to the illness of Ray Newton, who was to box Steve O'Malley in the main bout.

Texas and Virginia On Harvard '31 Card

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 5.—The University of Texas and University of Virginia have been added to Harvard's 1931 football schedule as announced here yesterday. The schedule follows:

October 3, open; October 10, University of New Hampshire at Cambridge; October 17, Army at West Point; October 24, University of Texas at Cambridge; October 31, University of Virginia at Cambridge; November 7, Dartmouth at Cambridge; November 14, open; November 21, Yale at Cambridge.

The schedule for next year was approved by the athletic council as follows:

October 4, Vermont at Cambridge; October 11, Springfield at Cambridge; October 18, Army at Cambridge; October 25, Dartmouth at Cambridge; November 1, William and Mary at Cambridge; November 8, Michigan at Cambridge; November 15, Holy Cross at Cambridge; November 22, Yale at New Haven.

Caddies Under 14 To Be Permitted To Tote Bags

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Golf caddies under 14 years of age are to be permitted to work in Pennsylvania without interference from the state after all.

Attorney General Cyrus E. Woods, after representatives of more than 100 golf clubs raised a concerted voice against an informal opinion of the Department of Justice placing caddies within the provision of the child labor law, indicated the ruling would be rescinded.

LOCAL GOLFERS ADVANCE

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 5.—Pittsburgh's two entries in the first division of the annual Carolina tournament for women here won their first round matches yesterday. Mrs. Sarah Fownes Wadsworth, of Oakmont, won on the nineteenth hole from Miss Helen Waring, of Yonkers, last year's medalist, after being 5 up at the twelfth.

Miss Helen B. Morrison, of Oakmont, walked away with Miss Ethel Bartlett, of New York, by 8 and 7.

In the second division, Mrs. G. A. Magoon, of Pittsburgh, fell before Mrs. W. L. Pierce, of Charlotte, N. C., 3 and 2, and Mrs. William C. Fownes, Jr., of Oakmont, lost to Mrs. Hugh Halsell, of New York, by 3 and 2.

IOWA'S COURT LEADER BARRED

IOWA CITY, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Virgil David, of Oskaloosa, captain of the University of Iowa basketball team, was declared ineligible by the university eligibility committee yesterday.

David was ruled ineligible, Dean C. C. Williams, chairman of the faculty committee, said, because he failed to make sufficient credit last year. He said it was unlikely that the basketball captain would be able to make up the work so as to be eligible for games later in the season.

Iowa plays its first basketball game with Duquesne University of Pittsburgh, here Monday.

BILL LANGE SHOT

BURLINGAME, Cal., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—William A. Lange, San Francisco insurance man, better known as Bill Lange, former star centerfielder for the Chicago White Sox, was recovering at his home here today from a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted Sunday while hunting quail. More than 100 quail shot entered his body, but a physician said the wounds were not dangerous.

Radio Conveys Praises to Rockne, Lieb

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Illness kept Knute Rockne and his assistant, Tom Lieb, from attending the Notre Dame football banquet last night, but the 1,300 guests, gathered in the dining hall of the university, were eager to praise the prowess of the two coaches.

Rockne, ill at his home, listened over the radio to the speakers who ranged from coaches of teams defeated by Notre Dame to the Governor of Indiana. Lieb, who directed the Notre Dame attack during Rockne's illness, was at the bedside of his wife in Rochester, Minn.

SHIMON COPS CUE TITLE

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Max Shimon, of Milwaukee, won the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship last night by defeating Perry Dickens of Milwaukee, 50 to 34, in the third block of a challenge match.

Shimon had won the first two blocks. His total score was 150 and Dickens' 109. He now is subject to challenge by Bud Westhus of St. Louis, the next ranking player, with the probability he will defend his title at St. Louis in January.

KNAPP PREXY REINSTATE TOPORCER

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Although the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues met in annual convention yesterday the bulk of today's baseball news came from outside the convention hall.

Charles H. Knapp, Baltimore lawyer, was elected president of the International League unanimous vote of the eights clubs in the late afternoon, while the morning brought to George Toporcer, suspended Rochester, N. Y., infielder, the glad tiding that he would not have to remain out of baseball for a year, but could play second base for the Redwings as soon as he pays a fine of $500.

The advisory committee will be abolished and the president will have full authority. The Baltimore attorney was loath to accept the additional responsibility, but finally agreed to serve for one year.

168-GAME CARD

The International League decided also to continue playing 168 games a season instead of reducing the number of games to 154.

President M. H. Sexton, of the National association, after a rehearing of the charges against Toporcer and William H. Southworth, manager of the Rochester club, growing out of an argument with an umpire during the "little world series" last October, modified the sentences he imposed after a previous hearing, at which the players were not represented.

Toporcer will be reinstated upon the payment of an additional fine of $500, making $700 in all, while Southworth's fine was reduced to $200.

CUBS BUY MOSS

The most important player deal of the meeting was made when the Louisville club of the American Association sold Malcolm Moss, a lefthanded pitcher, to the Chicago Cubs for a large sum of money and a pitcher to be named later. The amount of cash was said to be between $35,000 and $40,000.

J. W. (Country) Davis, first baseman, was sold by Dallas, of the Texas League, to Reading of the International League.

George Miner, a pitcher, was sold by Jersey City to St. Paul.

Tony Cuccinello, hard-hitting Columbus infielder, will join the Cincinnati Reds next year, the National League announcing that it would promote the player from its American Association farm. Pid Purdy, Cincinnati outfielder, will play for Buffalo next year.

Dan Howley will have the assistance of his former St. Louis coaches in the person of Otto Williams, who, with Mike Doolan, complete the Reds' coaching staff.

TINKER BACK

Joe Tinker, famous Cub shortstop of other days, will become assistant to Derby Day Bill Clymer, manager of the Buffalo International League Club.

The St. Louis Browns sent three players from their roster at one time when George Stanton, first baseman; Paul Hopkins, pitcher, and Tom Jenkins, outfielder, were released to Milwaukee.

John Murphy, former Fordham pitcher, was released by Albany, of the Eastern League, to St. P: the Albany Club to get cash and a player.

Toronto sent Pitcher Abe Martin to the Beaumont Texas League Club in exchange for Outfielder Petrie. Milwaukee sold Ivy Griffin, first baseman, to Atlanta, and Louisville sold Dick Loftus, outfielder, to Reading.

A. W. (Nick) Allen today was named to manage the Jersey City club of the International League. Allen managed the pennant-winning club of the Western League in 1929 and previously was manager of the St. Paul club of the American Association. As a player he was with three major league clubs, the Cubs, White Sox and Reds.

Cards Ask Waivers On Alexander, Said

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—President Sam Breadon, of the St. Louis Cardinals, yesterday declined to confirm or deny a report that waivers had been asked on Grover Cleveland Alexander.

A special dispatch to the Post-Dispatch, from Chattanooga, said: "It is no secret here that waivers have been asked on Alexander. It is a secret, however, as to what action the various clubs took on the matter."

M'AFEE SIGNED

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Bill McAfee, ace of the Michigan hurlers last spring, has signed with the Chicago Cubs, Coach Fisher has announced.

BASKETBALL RULES QUIZ

PLAY NO. 10.

Both the Pittsburgh and the Carnegie Tech captains call for time out at the same time. What is the correct ruling?

ANSWER.

The referee rules that a time out be charged against both teams. Each team is allowed three time out during a game without penalty, but additional time outs are granted with a penalty of a technical foul charged against the captain of the offending side.

C. & I. LEAGUE OPENS SEASON NEXT MONDAY

By JULIUS LEVIN

The Commercial-Industrial League will inaugurate its fourth successive basketball season next Monday night with four of the seven teams enrolled as members in action. An effort is being made to obtain the Mellon National Bank quintet, champion of the Pittsburgh Bankers' League, as the eighth member. Unlike previous years when all league games were played on one floor, the teams this year will have their own courts for home battles.

TWO OPENERS

The opening games bring together Real Estate Savings & Trust and Reick-McJunkin and Potter Title & Trust and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. Other clubs in the loop are National Union Fire Insurance, Dravo Construction, and Carnegie Steel Company.

The Schneiders and Kingsley House came through to win their battles in the West Penn basketball league last night. The Schneiders trimmed the South Side Falcons, 34 to 18, while the Kingsley quint nosed out the Y. M. H. A. five, 29 to 26.

Irene Kaufmann Settlement kept up its fine work in the Central League, whipping the Horne five, 50 to 26, to cop its fourth game in a row. Lippe and Zisman were the stars.

ROSIES BEAT CHAMPS

At Warren, O., the Duquesne Lafayettes fell before the onslaught of the Cleveland Rosenblums, of the American Pro League, the score being 34 to 25. The Allegheny County League champions got away to a flying start but lost their stride as the game progressed. The lineups:

PIRATES, CUBS BOOK SPRING SERIES

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Four games with the Chicago Cubs in Los Angeles will provide the high spot of the Pirates' exhibition tour for next spring. Officials of the two clubs have agreed on the four battles which will be staged on Wrigley Field, home of the Los Angeles and Hollywood clubs of the Pacific Coast League. The dates set are March 27, 28, 29, 30.

In the spring of 1928, these two major league entries played a series of games at Los Angeles, the battles being attended by crowds that would tickle any major league magnate. The Cubs and Pirates are extremely popular in Los Angeles.

Manager Jewel Ens and Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss, of the Pirates, in attendance at the minor league meeting in Chattanooga, had a conference yesterday with Manager Joe McCarthy and President William Veeck, of the Cubs. While the session was said to concern exhibition dates, it is reported that the Chicago officials also felt out the Pittsburghers relative to a trade involving Pitcher Burleigh Grimes.

HAWKS MEET BUCS HERE

by 2-1. Bud Jarvis scored a goal only to have an official nullify his effort with an offside decision. Ruling a play offside in these days of the legalized forward pass is a real feat.

SMITH SPRAINS ANKLE

Tough break No. 3 came a few minutes later when Roger Smith, veteran defense man, sprained his right ankle in a scrimmage near the Pirate cage. He had to be assisted from the rink, and it is not likely that he will be in uniform tonight.

With Drury and Smith on the sidelines, every effort will be made to get Darragh back in harness without further delay. Tex White who had attempted to perform Darragh's tasks on the starting front line in the Bucs' last two starts, gave a brilliant exhibition in Montreal and tallied the locals' only goal. Without Harold, however, the front line lacks its customary smoothness.

SOMERS NEW STAR

Art Somers, husky center obtained from the Vancouver Club of the Pacific Coast League, is regarded as the lad who has done most to convert the Hawks from a "set-up" in 1928-29 into a championship contender in 1929-30. He is the only rookie to sport a place among the leading scorers at this stage of the race. Tommy Cook, leading scorer in the American Association last season, is another newcomer who has contributed much to the Chicago punch.

Because the Hawks are one of the clubs that the Bucs must beat out if they are to qualify for the Stanley Cup play-offs, Manager Frederickson is particularly eager to lead his men to a triumph tonight, and with Darragh back in the lineup, the locals must be conceded at least an even chance of victory. The probable lineup:

Pirates	pos.	Hawks
Miller	G.	Gardiner
McCaffrey	R.D.	Dutkowski
MacKinnon	L.D.	Wentworth
Frederickson	C.	Somers
Darragh	R.W.	Gottzelig
Milks	L.W.	Couture

Spares—Pirates: White, Briden, Jarvis, Barton, Manners; Hawks: Ripley, March, Arbour, Miller, Cook, Burns, J. Taylor, J. Taylor.

cinnati to Newark; Infielder Westcott Kingdon, from Cincinnati to Columbus; Outfielder Wes Edington, from Newark to Milwaukee.

The list also includes the shifting of Outfielder George Stantion from Wichita Falls to Columbus; Outfielder Dick Loftus from Louisville to Reading, and Shortstop Flaskamper, from Memphis to Dallas. And Joe Tinker, old Cub shortstop, and former manager of the Reds and Bruins, evidently hit hard by financial losses in Florida, has found it advisable to grab a job as business manager, coach and assistant team manager with the Buffalo club, of the International League.

George Toporcer

WHAT induced President Mike Sexton, of the National Association, to change his mind after a rehearing of the cases of George Toporcer and Manager Billy Southworth, of the Rochester club, has not been disclosed. Perhaps it was a quiet suggestion by Commissioner Landis. At any rate, the sentence of a year's suspension and a $200 fine imposed upon Toporcer has been altered to a fine of $500 without a suspension, and Southworth's fine has been reduced from $500 to $200. The lifting of Toporcer's suspension will be approved by the many fans who considered it too severe, but whether Sexton's back-down will help the game is a question. Umpires should be upheld and protected and it is doubtful if this can be accomplished by mere fines that are in most cases, under cover of course, paid by the club instead of by the player at fault.

Y. M. H. A. HOLDS LEAD

Y. M. H. A. held its lead in the City Handball League by defeating the Downtown Y. 2 to 1, in the doubles matches staged last night at the Downtown Y. The results follow:

Winkleman and Gordan, Y. M. H. A., defeated Myers and Grimm, Downtown Y, 21 to 6, 15 to 21, 21 to 20.

Crawford and Burns, Downtown Y, defeated Chersky and Wolf, Y. M. H. A., 21 to 16 and 21 to 19.

Fierst and J. Kimball, Y. M. H. A., defeated Williams and McLean, 21 to 6 and 21 to 9.

LOCAL SOCCER FANS LOOK TO DETROIT TILT

By TOM BIRKS

Despite the fact a long list of games are on the local soccer card for the coming week-end, it will be the visit of the Pierpoint Motors Soccer Club to Detroit that will get the interest of the fans.

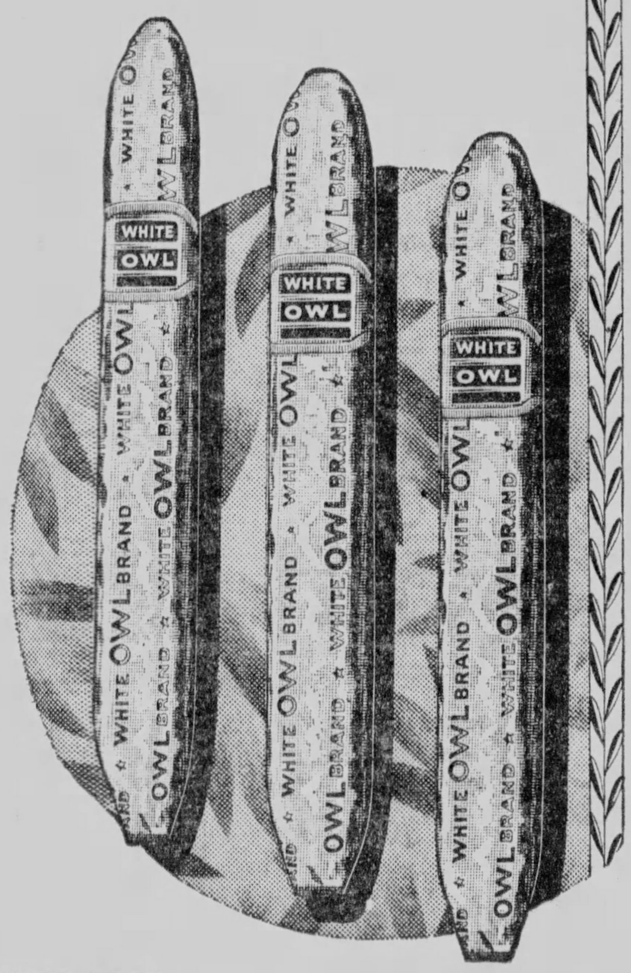
The Walkerville club, which plays its home games in Detroit, but in reality is a Canadian aggregation, will make its second connection with a Pittsburgh club in this battle.

When Jeannette had its wonderful club and made such a brilliant showing in the National race, only to be eliminated in St. Louis, the Walkerville club was met in the early rounds of the competition.

Mario Monstrolo and his mates copped the victory that day by a 3-to-1 score, and won rather handily. Since that time, however, winning games in Detroit has been a tough problem for local clubs.

The local soccer element will hardly forget the Dunlevy-Toledo battle at the University of Detroit stadium, when the Dunlevy team lost out in the extra period. Or the game at Packard Park, handled by Jack Johnson, of Chicago, when Pittsburgh again had a tough afternoon. Tommy Evans probably has some great recollections of that day.

However, Carl Ekequist has a fighting outfit that will battle throughout the tilt.



"WHITE OWL, in my opinion—and I've smoked my share of different brands—is an extraordinarily satisfying cigar: mild, sweet to the tongue, full-flavored. I'd pay 10¢ for it if I had to—and as I used to pay for other brands. But WHITE OWL is only 3 for 20¢."

This voluntary statement by Mr. JOE GOLDMAN, Manager of Hills, Inc., Pittsburgh's most exclusive men's shop, at 518 Wood St., is in line with the opinion of many millions of other WHITE OWL smokers.

TWO PANTHERS GET ALL-AMERICA RANKING

WALSH NAMES MONTGOMERY, DONCHESS

By DAVIS J. WALSH,
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Only one claim is made for my 1929 all-America selections, and that claim offers no token to infallibility. It merely contends that, while the 11 men named for the first team may or may not be the 11 best in the land, nobody is going to drive up in a hearse and tell me where and how and why it can be beaten.

For it can't. You simply don't win from a ball team that has Montgomery, Ticknor, Cannon, Sleight and Donchess in the forward line and Carideo and Cagle in the backfield.

These men are the "naturals" of the football year in their various positions and the selection that does not start with them as the foundation for a first team might do equally well if it began all over again by pulling its names out of a hat. In fact, I venture to say that one could take the seven named, summon four cheer leaders from a nearby sorority house and win all the football games of any given campaign.

Anyhow, the team is mine. I haven't been aided in my deliberations by 634 coaches and correspondents and I must confess that the salesman of plumbers' supplies have been virtually no help to me at all. Thus, the modern dodge of anonimity—everybody seems to be sulking behind a line of scrimmage, largely fictitious, in arriving at their conclusions—has been denied me and I glory in the fact.

Therefore, be it known to all men by these presents: The writer is not ashamed of this team. He thinks it is a good one.

NEEDS EXPLANATION

It, of course, needs a little explanation and it is my plan to oblige everybody by giving as little as possible. I feel that the Montgomery - Ticknor - Cannon - Sleight - Donchess-Carideo-Cagle combination needs none, for one thing. Passing on to the others, they tell me that Ackerman is the best tackle on the coast and, in a year of indifferent tackle play, that's good enough for me. Outside of Sleight and, perhaps, Twomey, the rest of the tackles are just a lot of "country" football players—some good, many bad and none great.

They also tell me that Tanner is a better end than Fesler and you simply pay off without further parley when they get that good. Fesler was on the writer's first team last year, but is declared to have gone a little to the falsetto during the last three weeks of the 1929 season. This man Schoonover from Arkansas has ridden into overnight fame on a bandwagon. Nobody knows him. Everybody is picking him. I got the same touting on him and, in view of the fact that Arkansas didn't play more than three first-class opponents all year, I'm giving him a break.

He goes on the third team. Tappan was the second best end at U. S. C. before the California game. I doubt if he can have become one of the two best in the country in the meantime.

POMEROY VERSATILE STAR

Pomeroy is both a champion sprinter and a combination punter-passer-runner-blocker at Utah. He has been all of these things for several years without recognition. He gets it from me this time. Banker is overdue, too, after his years of stardom. It isn't very pleasant, at that, to call these shots over Nagurski, Parkinson, Welch and Brazil and I dont' mind admitting that my margin of error in at least two of these cases is far from slight. Meantime, I stick with Cagle. As great as ever he was, he simply spent the season proving what a great back can't do without an attacking line.

Marsters? It was all-or-nothing with this candidate, so far as I was concerned, and after recollecting that he hadn't played much more than a half hour against the tough opponents of November, I made it nothing. His injury simply meant that his candidacy neither got the chance to be proved nor disproved. Maybe he would have been a riot in the late season. It is equally possible that he might have been discredited.

This happened to McEver in the Kentucky game. Also to Booth in the Harvard Game and to Uansa, of Pitt, against Penn State. In the same way, Leland of Texas Christian, lost his chance when Southern Methodist stopped him.

These men played the full season end, therefore, gambled with their luck. The fact that Marsters didn't have to face this chance hardly qualifies him for the team in my estimation. One might as readily grant the same consideration to Sloan, of Nebraska, who also was injured. But I seem to notice that one doesn't and that neither does two.

As for the Holm-Sington combination of Alabama, the two of them can't be as good as the exhorters are making them. Alabama blew itself to a very ordinary season and this couldn't be if it had an all-American at guard and fullback. Give the average coach a pair like that and he will have a football team, even if he has to invite nine spectators out of the stands.

Tilden Becomes Entertainer in Cabaret

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—William T. Tilden, II, American tennis star, will make his debut as a cabaret performer Monday in a smart West End restaurant. He will appear in an evening dress turn, which has an engagement for a fortnight. His play, "I'm Wise," failed recently in the provinces before it could reach a London stage.

STOMACH ILLS

A Medical Opinion

"The ideal corrective for 'sour stomach' is calcium carbonate—a potential anti-acid, incapable of disturbing the normal action of the bowels and bladder, impossible of overdosage and perfectly safe to use."

—Your own doctor will confirm this quotation from noted medical authority.

A Powerful Anti-acid—yet Safe

Old-fashioned folks, not abreast with medical science, still take burning soda. Occasional doses may do no harm.

But Calcium Carbonate, in proper form, is the modern anti-acid: 2½ times as effective as soda, and is safe in its action and positive in its relief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the ideal form of Calcium Carbonate combined with other valuable healing ingredients. Medical authorities commend Stuart's formula as the only kind for use with children and best for men and women.

Make This Test!

Purchase a 25c, handy pocket tin of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from your druggist, use after meals and be convinced that it is not necessary to suffer the distresses of indigestion.

MATCHED

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—King Tut, Minneapolis, and Billy Wallace, Philadelphia, have been matched for a 10-round bout on the New Year's boxing show here.

Driver of Truck Which Killed Lerian Guilty

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Charles E. Lloyd, driver of the department store truck which crushed Walter (Peck) Lerian, Philadelphia National League catcher, to death against the wall of a building here, was convicted of manslaughter in criminal court yesterday. August C. Myers, driver of a machine which had been in collission with the truck before it mounted the sidewalk and struck Lerian, was acquitted.

Sentence was postponed by Judge Samuel K. Dennis, and Lloyd was released under $1,000 bond.

CELTIC OUTFIT BROKEN UP

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The Original Celtics of New York, one of the most famous professional basketball clubs, has found the going too fast in the American League this season. Due to a poor showing and small attendance in early season games, Manager Furey has decided to reorganize the team and already has sold three of his highest salaried players, it was announced today from league headquarters.

Dave Banks, diminutive forward, was sent to Ft. Wayne and Nat Holman and Stretch Meehan were sold to Syracuse. Another player, Riconda, was made a free agent. These deals are also expected to add strength to the two weakest teams in the circuit. Syracuse, one of the trailers, is expected to develop a strong combination with the addition of the two New York stars.

In the trade they gave Babe Barlow to New York along with a good bit of cash. The Celtics promptly sent him to the last-place Paterson Crescents. There is some doubt whether Banks will report to Fort Wayne, but if he does the Hoosiers are expected to send their star forward, Benny Borgeman, to Paterson. Borgeman, one-time Paterson player, is highly popular in the Silk City as well as being a star player.

The Celtics, starting with Crimmins and McElwain, have added Jackie Page, a promising center who formerly played for St. John's College, to their roster, securing him from Brooklyn. They expect to draw other players from strong eastern minor and semi-pro teams. Several players who formerly were in the American League are available from teams around New York.

BURGESS BEATEN

East Liberty Y. M. C. A. tripped Burgess Manufacturing, 29 to 21, in its home opener last night.

ALLEN BEATTY SUSPENDED

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—The State Athletic Commission yesterday announced suspension of the following boxers:

Joe Lapatine, Philadelphia, 30 days, for fouling his opponent November 28.

Ray Victor, Philadelphia, indefinitely; must honor contract with Arena A. C. before competing elsewhere.

Herman Wiener, Baltimore, indefinitely; must honor contract with Arena A. C. before competing elsewhere.

Allen Beatty, McKeesport, Pa., 39 days for unsatisfactory services at Motor Square Garden, Pittsburgh, December 2.

Pete Nebo, New York, and Lew Massey, Philadelphia, were declared unavailable indefinitely because of illness. They were ordered to honor contracts with the Arena A. C., Philadelphia, before engaging in other bouts.

STARS ACCEPT COAST BID

HAMILTON, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Hal Booma, Dartmouth, and Deb Secrist, Wash-Jeff, accepted Andy Kerr's invitation to play on the all-Eastern team against a team of western stars in the Children's Hospital benefit game in San Francisco New Year's Day. Lloyd Brazill, University of Detroit halfback star, also accepted Kerr's bid.

Dick Hanley, coach at Northwestern, has issued 11 invitations to mid-western stars. Those so honored were: Nagurski and Bob Tanner, of Minnesota; Lou Gordon and Forrest Peters, of Illinois; Henry Anderson and Milton Anderson, of Northwestern; Elmer Sleight and Ralph Welch, of Purdue; Jack Cannon, of Notre Dame; Willis Glasgow, of Iowa, and Ray Richards, of Nebraska.

Movie Stars Will Talk On Radio Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

A HOLLYWOOD movie opening with incidental effects will be brought to Pittsburgh at 11:30 tonight through WJAS.

Vilma Banky, Ann Harding, Corinne Griffith, Lupe Velez, Fannie Brice, Rod LaRocque and Ronald Colman, the star of "Condemned," will be heard in brief interludes when the new Paramount picture has its premiere in the Chinese Theater at Hollywood. Microphones in the lobby and on the stage will bring sounds of the milling crowds and remarks of the master of ceremonies.

The Mound City Blue Blowers are an added attraction with Rudy Vallee's orchestra on the WCAE Sunshine hour at 8 p. m.

Robert Simmons, tenor, will be Victor's guest artist, WCAE at 10, and Gertrude Mohr will be assisted by Ruth Gibson in giving the Meditation from "Thais," WCAE at 7 p. m.

SECRETARY MELLON TALKS

For the first time a Treasury report was delivered direct to the people of the United States via radio last night when Secretary Andrew W. Mellon appeared as guest speaker of the Halsey-Stuart program at 9 p. m. Regarding the present business situation, Mr. Mellon said "the problems facing the country offer no insuperable difficulties."

We Now Present

"Make yourself at Home," said Fred Webber to Joseph Gibolofsky, baritone, when he came into the WCAE studio the other eve. And Joe took Fred literally—removing his coat, vest, collar and tie.

Charles J. Correll and Freeman F. Gosden, creators of Amos 'n' Andy, are honorary members of the American Legion in St. Louis.

Microphones at Pittsburgh stations are tested several times daily. Standing with a telephone to his ear about a foot from the "mike," the tester says "one, two, three, four" once or twice and gets a report immediately from the operator via the earpiece. Usually the "mikes" are okay but stations take no chances.

Thanks to "Mrs. J. of Greensburg" for her nice letter.

Wesley Eddy, former m. c. at the Penn, will be Maj. Bowes' guest on the Capitol Theater Family this Sunday night at 7:30 through WCAE.

KDKA will rebroadcast 2ME of Sydney, Australia, tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Earle Ferris, WTAM station manager, is a Guppy fancier. Be it known to the uninformed, a Guppy is about the size of a small minnow and can lick his weight in goldfish.

TODAY'S TID BIT:

Studio 6 at WABC is a laboratory of sound making devices. The most used device is a pair of roller skates fastened to a revolving arm on a large wooden disc which, when rotated, gives sound akin to elevated, subway or just plain railroad trains. This arrangement is used frequently on the Show Boat program heard in Pittsburgh through WJAS.

Beaver Falls Boy Held as Forger

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Dec. 5.—William Corcoran, 17, Beaver Falls, is held on charges of forgery. Corcoran was arrested in Pittsburgh, en route to Philadelphia by bus. Police say the youth forged the name of his grandmother, Mrs. Wilhemina Zimmerman, to checks.

Man Badly Beaten, Seek Ex-Policeman

ROCHESTER, Pa., Dec. 5.—Beaten about the head and body with a blackjack in his home, Caesar Ditommasso, 38, Rochester Township, is in a serious condition. Dewey Gorrell, New Brighton, a former policeman, is sought by police.

Council of Churches Seeks More Power

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Expansion of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America to gain more administrative powers from the member denominations advanced a stage today.

A resolution, the ultimate end of which is to delegate more power to the executive committee of the council in matter of prohibition, international relations and other functions, was unanimously passed at last night's session. This action followed the declaration of Bishop Mays, of the Evangelical Church of Harrisburg, Pa., that prohibition matters could be pushed with greater force with such a delegation of power.

Needless Pain!

Some folks take pain for granted.

They let a cold "run its course."

They wait for their headaches to "wear off."

If suffering from neuralgia or from neuritis, they rely on feeling better in the morning.

Meantime, they suffer unnecessary pain. Unnecessary, because there is an antidote. Bayer Aspirin always offers immediate relief from various aches and pains we once had to endure. If pain persists, consult your doctor as to its cause.

Save yourself a lot of pain and discomfort through the many uses of Bayer Aspirin. Protect yourself by buying the genuine. Bayer is safe. Always the same. All drugstores.

Hoover, Pinchot Swap Fishing Yarns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Deep sea fishing yarns were exchanged at the White House by two distinguished fishermen who knew what they were talking about.

They were President Hoover and Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania.

Just back from an expedition to the South Sea Islands, Pinchot regaled the President with the enjoyment that awaits the deep sea fisherman in that far off area.

In return Mr. Hoover gave the former governor some inside information on how to catch the large fish that frequent the waters off the coast of Lower California. They were together 20 minutes.

After his election, Mr. Hoover halted his voyage to the South American countries off Lower California to enjoy some deep sea fishing.

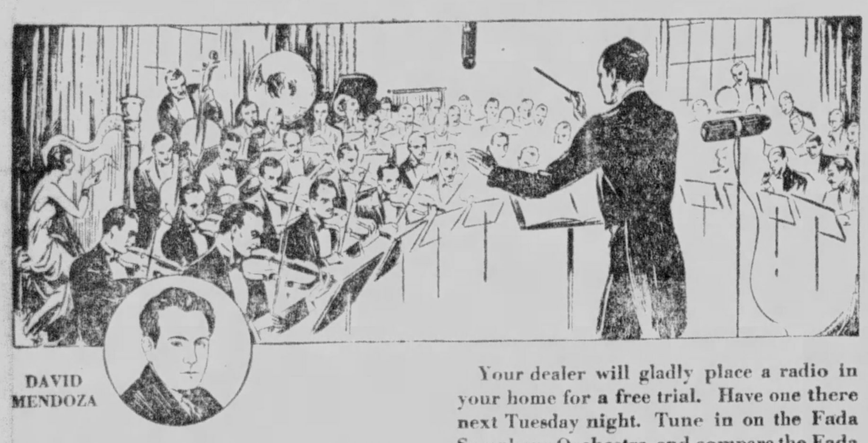
FADA ORCHESTRA

proves importance of VIBRA-CONTROL

Exact reproduction possible with amazing new Fada achievement.



DAVID MENDOZA

EVERY Tuesday night at 10 P. M. music lovers turn their dials to the Columbia chain as David Mendoza goes on the air with the famous Fada Orchestra, one of America's finest groups of musical artists. Hear them and let them prove the quality of all radio reproduction.

For the masterly renditions of such an orchestra are the true test . . . the only test . . . of tone realism. Jazz can't prove it . . . for jazz is rhythm, not tone. Playlets and speech prove little.

It has taken years to perfect a radio musically capable of bringing in every shading of a symphony orchestra.

For tone realism obviously requires the complete control of all radio vibrations, and only Fada has Vibra-Control.

Vibra-Control stripped radio of mechanical noise. By scientifically coordinating a perfect receiver, a marvelous speaker, with musically engineered cabinets, the Fada laboratories have at last succeeded in eliminating all unwanted vibrations and distortion, interference and roars. More than that, the true harmonies are now brought in so realistically, so faithfully that nothing is lost, nothing added—nothing altered.

That's what we mean by tone realism, and that's what you'll hear when you listen to a new Fada.

MODERN APPLIANCE COMPANY,
105 Ferry Street,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Your dealer will gladly place a radio in your home for a free trial. Have one there next Tuesday night. Tune in on the Fada Symphony Orchestra, and compare the Fada with your present instrument. Then and only then will you understand the meaning of "tone realism."

Vibra-Control Fadas are priced from $99.50 to $675.00. (Slightly higher west of the Rockies and in Canada.)

They may be had in a wide choice of both table and cabinet models.

Intimate Look Into Minds Of Big Employers

By B. C. FORBES

THIS column tries to keep in intimate touch with men who direct the destinies of pay envelopes. The spirit animating these men is revealed in expressions just obtained by letter or by word of mouth.

It will interest you—it will interest workers as well as employers and every class of business men—to get this glimpse into the present attitude of heads of enterprises employing large forces and controlling very vast expenditures. The fact that in many instances the observations were not made for the purpose of having them published does not detract from their value.

PRESIDENT H. F. PERKINS, International Harvester Company:

"It will not be our policy to contract our forward developments, as we don't believe the financial disturbance is going to materially affect unfavorably the agricultural situation."

PRESIDENT GEORGE B. EVERETT, Montgomery Ward:

"It is natural for us to be tremendously enthusiastic about the future of our company, particularly for the long-term development."

PRESIDENT Z. G. SIMMONS, Simmons Company:

"The panic we are now going through successfully as a nation is my fifth and I believe that this one will have the least effect on general business. What has happened is a marking-down of security values and not the destruction of property. I believe this will lay the foundation for a more diffused and better-balanced period of prosperity than the period we had before the smash."

PRESIDENT R. H. BALLARD, Southern California Edison:

"Everything in connection with our company's affairs is in good shape. We have plenty of power, tremendous increase in new business especially during the past two years, our cash position is very strong, and we have no floating debt. Our new construction budget for next year has just been adopted and totals $23,600,000, compared with a little less than $18,000,000 in 1929."

PRESIDENT C. F. KELLEY, Anaconda Copper:

"I have been interested in the constructive work you have been doing through your column since what was originally a desired deflation assumed the proportions of panic and hysteria."

GEORGE O. MUHLFELD, Stone & Webster:

"The Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation, including its subsidiary companies, have on their books just slightly under $100,000,000 of uncompleted construction work. This is the uncompleted balance to be spent out of orders now on hand totaling about $160,000,000. Since the beginning of the stock market break we have taken on approximately $14,000,000 of new construction work."

Sec. Lamont Says Good Stocks "A Buy"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Secretary of Commerce Lamont, in addressing the Chamber of Commerce gathering today, stated: "There should be no hesitation in buying sound securities at present levels. Whatever slowing up in business that may be ahead of us will be of short duration."

PRESIDENT M. S. SLOAN, New York Edison:

"Our construction budget for the affiliated electric companies of New York for the year 1930, amounts to $75,000,000. We see nothing in the situation that should cause us to hold up any of our construction plans for the year 1930."

PRESIDENT A. E. DICKINSON, Indiana Limestone Company:

"This company has orders for a larger amount of fabricated work today than ever before in our history and we are very optimistic over the future."

ROBERT DOLLAR, head of Dollar Steamship Lines:

"I estimate our expenditures for New York and repairs for the coming year will be $18,000,000. We are about to let contracts for four other ships, which will amount to about $30,000,000. I was real pleased to see the efforts you made to stabilize conditions. To me the excitement throughout the country was entirely uncalled for, because I was, and still am, certain business conditions throughout the United States could not be very much better than they are."

PRESIDENT A. P. SLOAN, Jr., General Motors:

"Our program for 1930 will be to maintain our equipment, as we always try to, at the highest stage of efficiency. Expenditures on improvements, expansions, additional equipment, etc., must be predicated upon development of business as we see it from day to day or from month to month."

PRESIDENT H. T. PARSON, Woolworth's:

"We have already approved of over $2,000,000 expenditures on improvements for 1930, and this will be added to as the year advances."

Chairman B. C. Cobb, Commonwealth & Southern:

"Our group of properties will probably expend for construction purposes next year somewhere between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000, about the same as last year. You can therefore see we are not going to take a step backward."

President C. C. Conway, Continental Can:

"Our company sees no reason to retard its normal growth."

President Philip G. Gossler, Columbia Gas:

"Our 1930 budget will about equal this year's, $28,000,000. Our policy will be to continue to expand all properties as necessary to meet fully the demands of our constantly expanding services."

President Frank A. Ketchum, Graybar Electric:

"We extend our facilities for distribution from year to year and expect to continue to do so at the same rate as in the past."

NOTHING panicky about all that, is there?

STOCK PRICES TAPER, CLOSE IRREGULAR

Market Slips in Late Trading in Sympathy With Steel Decline

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Increased selling resistance developed in today's stock market as the rally in prices entered upon its third day. The liquidation reached sufficient volume during the morning to give the market a reactionary appearance, but the tide of prices turned upward again in the early afternoon under the stimulus of optimistic trade surveys by business executives attending the Washington industrial conference and a brisk demand for the public utilities and a selected list of specialties.

Operators for the advance struggled to press their recent advantage, but investors were less reluctant to reach for stocks until the market gave further evidence of its stability. Prices, in general, have recovered nearly one-third of the ground lost in the October-November break, and the rapidity of the recent advance in many issues has suggested the possibility of at least a technical reaction from current high levels.

PROGRAMS ENCOURAGING

While Wall street has received considerable encouragement from the announcement of huge capital expenditures in connection with 1930 expansion programs, the recent declines in steel mill production and railroad freight traffic naturally have led to caution on the part of many buyers.

So-called "Christmas dividends" continued to appear in large number today, but many traders looked upon them as the distribution of profits amassed in the period of prosperity earlier in the year rather than as an assurance of continued high earnings. Fears are still entertained in some quarters that a period of dividend reductions and omissions is likely early next year, particularly among some of the automobile and copper companies.

Wide fluctuations again took place today in some of the high-priced specialties. Peoples Gas ran up 32½ points, Otis Elevator 30 and Columbian Carbon 14¾. A. M. Byers, Simmons Co., Midland Steel Products preferred, Allied Chemical and Brooklyn Union Gas sold 5 to 8 points higher. Detroit Edison dropped 7½ points and rallied 8. J. I. Case fell 5 and rallied 8¼. Auburn dropped 7 and snapped back 9½ and General Electric fell 4½ and recovered its loss, but some of these issues ran into fresh selling on the rebound.

RAILS IN DEMAND

Rails were in fairly good demand, with "Nickel Plate" and Chesapeake and Ohio showing special strength. New York Central was heavy in the early trading, but received good support on the decline.

Call money continued to hold steady at 4½ per cent, but the undertone was slightly firmer. The Bank of England made no change in its rediscount rate. Establishment of new high levels of by 6 European currencies in yesterday's foreign exchange market, and the continued strength of those exchanges today, suggested the possibility of additional gold withdrawals from New York for shipment abroad. Sterling exchange is close to the "gold export" point.

Prices tapered off from the high levels in the late trading in sympathy with the weakness of U. S. Steel, which dropped from 168½ to 165½ on large offerings. Stone & Webster reached 101 in response to the inauguration of dividends. Simmons crossed par and American Telephone touched 232½ before the demand slackened. The close was irregular.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 to 6 points. Relatively steady Liverpool cables seemed to be without any effect at the start and the market responded to further selling, while a little southern selling was also reported.

The offerings were not heavy, however, and the market after showing net losses of about 3 to 7 points, held fairly steady at the end of the first half hour. The decline brought in a little trade buying as well as covering. A private crop report will be published, placing the indicated yield at 14,951,00 bales and the ginnings prior to December 1 at 12,950,000 bales.

Private cables reported that trade calling had absorbed scattered liquidation and hedging in Liverpool, but said that cloth sales were below production and that stocks were accumulating.

SOCIALISTS SAY HOOVER PLAN IS THEIRS

President, at Least, Has Brought Widely Opposed Organizations Into Fold

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Irrespective of President Hoover's success in modifying the business cycle, he has already achieved the distinction of getting such violently different organizations as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the Socialist party to agree as to the wisdom of his efforts.

Under the auspices of the Chamber, a gathering of ambassadors of various basic trades and industries will be held at Washington today, and as a result of the meeting the Chamber will probably assume the responsibility of organizing a permanent economic council for business co-ordination. Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the Chamber, has been the President's right hand man, in directing the conferences on business stability with trade leaders.

Norman Thomas, titular head of the Socialist Party, writing in his party organ, says:

"It is now clear that, unlike some of his predecessors, President Hoover at least has a policy for dealing with business depression and unemployment."

SOCIAL CONTROL

"The first thing to be observed is that the program is a housand miles removed from hat economic individualism hich President Hoover lauded n his campaign. It is a recogition, so far as it goes, of the act upon which we Socialists have incessantly pounded: Namely, that our interdependent world requires social control. To push public works in dull times has been a Socialist demand for more years than I can remember. The President here is moving wisely along a road the Socialists long since pointed out. The question is whether there should not be some more permanent machinery for surveying the situation and beginning to push public works at the right moment. Such machinery, however, cannot be improvised and the President is doing about all any President could do at this particular time."

In the last election, Mr. Hoover sought to damn part of Al Smith's program by calling it Socialistic. And now, alas, the Socialists are threatening to welcome the great engineer into their fold.

Incidentally, the highways are already congested for publicists and others who asserted that Mr. Hoover got the idea for coordinated efforts to stabilize business from them.

PREMATURE MERGER

Apparently the remarks ascribed to Julius Rosenwald, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Company, concerning an impending merger with the J. C. Penney chain of retail stores were premature. General R. E. Wood, president of Sears disclosed that "the executives of the two companies have not discussed any basis of merger whatever, but have been investigating whether there would be any economic advantages to be gained from a merger."

The stock market and the world of business derived stimulus from the President's message to the new Congress. Apart from discussing his co-ordination program, Mr. Hoover sketched the need of study by a commission of the new tendency toward group banking. He urged new legislation to speed and simplify railroad mergers, and he suggested machinery for joint state and federal supervision of power companies in their interstate activities, which amount to about 10 per cent of the total. In all his economic recommendations, including his discussion of tax reductions, the President leaned toward measures which would help business move forward. Appraising the effect of the White House contribution to continued prosperity, in spite of the recent stock market crash, Mr. Hoover [illegible] am convinced that through measures we have relished confidence. Wages should remain stable. A very large degree of industrial unemployment and suffering which would otherwise have occurred has been prevented. Agricultural prices have re[illegible] the returning confi[illegible]easures taken must be pursued until [illegible]s are restored."

ORD R. ACE

Without [illegible]aning to detract from Henry Ford's gesture in raising wages of his employes to a $7 a day minimum, it is part of the record that since Mr. Ford initiated a minimum wage of $5 in 1913 the cost of living has risen more than 40 per cent. Accordingly, in terms of purchasing power, Mr. Ford's latest move only means that he is taking a step toward keeping up with the pace which he set 15 years ago. In the present situation, however, the importance of maintaining wage scales, as a means of continuing effective purchasing power, is not to be exaggerated. American business is equipped with a superb productive machine, and the main problem is to regiment and encourage an unbroken army of buyers.

Cheaper Money to Help Foreign Trade

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

FOREIGN trade may be expected to improve, Bankers and officials of companies selling products abroad are of the opinion that cheap money will be a powerful stimulant to the purchase of American goods by other countries.

The United States exports more than it imports. In addition many of the European countries are faced with the problem of making large payments on war debts. With high money rates here these factors made it extremely difficult for other nations to continue absorbing large amounts of American goods without increasing the sale of their own products in the United States.

The movement of commodities from one nation to another must be paid for in one of three ways. Either there must be a corresponding movement of commodities in the opposite direction, a movement of gold or the extension of credit. Lower money will again make the last means of settlement operative.

Trade Stimulant Needed

THE uncertainty of the domestic business outlook for the next few months will make foreign trade an extremely important factor in the operations of many corporations. Most of them will have producing capacity in excess of their market demands here. If the movement of goods to other countries gains, a stimulating influence will be exerted on business conditions here.

Cheaper money in New York is expected to result in a sharp increase in foreign financing. This will either directly or indirectly supply a large part of the funds to be paid for American goods. The extent to which foreign financing in this market has been curtailed may be seen by the fact that new issues of this class in the first nine months of 1929 totaled $568,553,000 in comparison with $985,349,000 in the corresponding period of 1928.

High Rate Hurts Exports

THE effect of money rates on foreign trade is shown by the close relationship of the trend of monthly exports with credit conditions. Up to October 1 exports were the greatest of any year since 1920. They aggregated $3,844,405,000, as compared with $3,557,584,860 in the same period of last year. But most of the gain was shown between January and April. As money rates continued to rise exports showed a corresponding reduction.

Credit conditions changed in October with the result that the month was the greatest of any this year. A continuation of this increased volume may be expected since all signs point to easier money conditions for several months.

Latin American Issues

A STUDY of the financing of export markets made by Dominick and Dominick points out that American financing of South American countries has been steadily expanding and that our exports to these countries are also growing. At the same time European financing and exports have been falling behind. The United States is steadily increasing its yearly volume of investments in Latin America. The 1928 total represented an advance of nearly $4,000,000 over the 1927 figure. Our underwritings were almost four times the total of Great Britain, the next largest source of credit to that region.

In line with this trend, which has been apparent for some time, exports to Europe have increased only 12 per cent since 1922 while those to the rest of the world increased 50 per cent. While before the war Europe took 62 per cent of our foreign shipments, this proportion is now down to about 46 per cent.

I. C. C. CONTROL OVER HOLDING FIRMS ASKED

Intent on Reducing Lines To Limited Number of Systems Announced

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Alarmed at the growing practice of so-called holding companies in acquiring large blocks of railroad stocks, amounting in some instances to practical control, the Interstate Commerce Commission appealed to Congress today to enact legislation to give it jurisdiction over all holding companies.

"In view of the fact that the acquisition of control or of an amount of stock sufficient to influence the policies of competing railroads, either by individuals or other non-carrier corporations, may result in the suppression of competition, consideration should now be given by Congress to possible legislation," the commission's annual report said.

TWO LINES NAMED

The commission specifically mentioned two holding companies, the Allegheny Corporation, a creation of the Van Sweringen interests, and the Pennroad Company, operating for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"Both of these companies are purely holding companies," the commission said. "That is to say, the property which they own is not physical property but consists solely of the stocks or securities of other companies. The Allegheny Corporation now owns various stocks of railroad companies. It is not controlled by any railroad company, but is controlled, through a combination of direct and indirect means, by certain interests, the Van Sweringens, which control through similar means the Nickel Plate, Erie, Pere Marquette and Chesapeake and Ohio.

P. R. R. OWNS PENNROAD

"The Pennroad Company also owns various stocks of railroad companies. It is not controlled by any railroad company as such, but its stock is held under a voting trust agreement, continuing until May 1, 1939, and the voting trustees are the president and two other directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad."

The commission explained if these facts are correct, the Allegheny Corporation can, by acquiring a controlling interest in the stock of a railroad company, bring it under common control with the railroad companies already mentioned which are controlled by the same interests as control the Allegheny Corporation, but without itself holding control or of being controlled by any one of these railroads as such. The same thing applies to the Pennroad Company, the commission said.

CHAIN CONTROL

"In other words," the commission said, "common control can be effected in both instances by a chain, one vital link in which is made up of the control exercised, directly or indirectly, over two or more corporations by individuals."

The commission reported it was preparing to take up the question of consolidating the railroads of the United States into a limited number of systems.

This question, admittedly one of the most important in financial and railroad circles, is "receiving our earnest consideration," the report said. "Although it cannot be stated definitely when we will be able to complete the task, the hope is entertained that a plan may be adopted soon after the convening of Congress in regular session."

Stock Exchange Topics

Railway Equipment Makers Experiencing Better Demand.

THE railway equipment producers are experiencing much better conditions than prevailed in recent years in that industry. During November, orders were received for a total of 5,126 freight cars, bringing the total for the first 11 months to 88,523, some 37,300 units in excess of the total of 51,200 freight cars ordered in the full year of 1928. Orders were placed for 84 locomotives last month, bringing the total orders received for the 11 months to 881, or 278 more than the 603 locomotives for which orders were placed during the entire previous year. These increases should be reflected in substantially better earnings for the leading companies when the annual figures come to hand.

The Stock Exchange loan report showing a reduction of $2,092,000,000 in member borrowings during November, proved just about in line with estimates based for most part on the shrinkage shown in the Federal Reserve total for the nearest corresponding period. Added to the drop of $2,440,000,000 reported for October, the aggregate decrease in "street loans" from the peak of two months ago stands at $4,532,785,000, reducing the total of such borrowings to $4,016,598,000 or to the lowest level since the end of October, 1927. The reduction in stock exchange member borrowings from the peak has now reached no less than 53 per cent, a reduction unprecedented in the annals of the institution for so short a period.

MORE than passing interest was given the disclosure that the shrinkage in stock exchange loans for November approximate the drop shown in the reserve figures for the nearest comparable period. For October, stock exchange loans were reduced by practically double the $1,200,000,000 cut from the reserve total in the same comparable period. Stock exchange loans, it is reasoned, reflect much more vividly than the reserve figures, the diversion of foreign capital in either direction. Thus it is reasoned that the big drop in the institution's figures for October was accounted for extensively by the withdrawal of foreign funds. At the peak figures early in October there was a disparity of more than $1,700,000,000 between the two sets of figures, whereas at the present time the difference is but $560,000,000, indicating perhaps that the factor of foreign money is out of the way at least for the time being.

Due principally to the return for payment of interest and dividend checks sent out over the week-end, a slightly firmer tone prevailed in the money market during yesterday. Time money was a shade firmer at 4½-4¾ per cent, while call money was hard to obtain in the outside market below the 4 per cent level. Some money was reported moving at 3½ per cent, but money brokers declared the volume at that figure was extremely light. It was pointed out that borrowers on demand against acceptances could do little better than 4 per cent. The firmness was ascribed in part to the drying up of offerings of federal funds which had been available in good quantity until the beginning of the week, for use by member banks in adjusting their position at the Reserve.

ONE of the interesting developments of yesterday was found in an unusually large transaction in Chicago Northwestern Railway 4¾ per cent convertibles in the bond market. Evidently reflecting the filling of a large institutional bid of one kind or another, 1,000 pieces of this issue changed hands in a single transaction, constituting the largest separate trade in corporation bonds in some months. The deal involved approximately $1,000,000, having been made at par, or 1,000. The conversion privilege of this issue provides for the exchange of the bonds into stock in the ratio of $1,050 principal amount of bonds for $1,000 par value of Northwestern common stock.

CORPORATE EARNINGS

American Beet Sugar Company—Reports for six months ended September 30, net income $42,117 after interest, depreciation, etc., equal to $1 cents a share on $8,000,000 cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock. Net loss from sugar operations for period amounted to $127,455.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Company—Reports for 10 months ended August 31, net income $6,016,927 after all charges and reserves for taxes, equal after subsidiary preferred and 6 per cent cumulative series "A" preferred dividends to $2.02 a share on 2,250,000 common shares outstanding.

* * *

The Electric Power and Light Corporation, holding company for a number of public utility companies operating in the South and West, reports net for the year ending September 30, after preferred dividends amounted to $3,018,943, compared with $3,951,106 for the previous year. The Electric Power and Light Corporation is under the supervision of the Electric Bond and Share Company.

The American Water Works and Electric Company, Inc., reported net income for the year ending October 31, of $7,148,-571, equal to $4.84 a share on 1,453,975 common shares. For the year ending October 31, 1928, the net profits amounted to $5,702,775 or $3.18 a share on 1,432,163 common shares.

Despite the keenly disappointing nature of the observations of the mid-week trade journals, steel shares were among the strongest groups yesterday, led by steel common, which attained new high ground for the recovery. The Iron Age reported the daily rate of pig iron production for November at 106,047 tons, a drop of 9,698 tons a day, compared with the October rate, the shrinkage being the largest shown since May of 1925. Steel production on the other hand showed little change on the week, with varying changes in the schedules of some of the smaller independents, but with Steel Corporation and Bethlehem mills running about unchanged at around 68 per cent of capacity. Brisk railroad buying contrasts sharply, it is reported, with the reduction in the level of general demand.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.

Brass Buttons and Brass Tacks

IT APPEARS that the New York Police Department has good reason to be proud of its record. Only one blemish stains its books—it deals with the cowardice of a patrolman, who was stripped of his shield and gun 25 years ago. The incident happened somewhere below Fourteenth street. The yellow patrolman had been urged to hasten to a tenement where a murder was taking place, and he had refused to go to the scene until it was too late.

After the murder crashed the front pages, neighbors complained about the cop, who alibied that he had rapped on the pavement with his stick for aid and not getting it, went into the place alone, only to find that the murderer had escaped. He argued that with aid he might have got there earlier and trapped the killer.

At his trial the other policeman on the same beat swore that they heard no nightstick raps for help, so he was dishonorably discharged from the force. All of which reminds us of a thrilling police story that took place in a leading mid-western city not many years ago.

TOLL OF SNIPER

THE town was terrorized for weeks by a madman, who was not part of the local gangs, but he used most of their stunts and was more desperate. A number of people, with good reputations were found dead across the way from a two-story dwelling, and for days the bluecoats were stumped for a clue. Then they discovered that the killer was clipping innocent passersby with a shotgun from his window, two stories up, and they set out to capture him. After losing two of their men via the sniper route they went into conference.

But weeks elapsed and the murderer couldn't be bagged. The local newspapers harangued the police force for their failure and then the town's bravest detective summoned some of his confreres.

"We're being kidded to death," he growled. "it makes me ashamed to think that we can't get that guy and all I called you here for was to ask for a volunteer or two to come with me and bring that man out of there dead or alive." The others agreed. "Please let me go!" each cried.

HOUSE SURROUNDED

AFTER laying out their plans they proceeded to the Death Sector at night and, upon their arrival, some surrounded the house while the brave detective and two cops stealthily crept up the stairs leading to what they believed was the killer's room.

As they reached the door they rapped for admittance. But there was no response. "Open that door," thundered the fearless detective, "or we'll break it in!" Still no response.

"You're trapped on all sides and you haven't a chance to get out of there alive," yelled the detective, "so open that door before I count three!"

Getting no satisfaction after the cry of "Three" the officers rammed in the door with a heavy log, and the thunder of gun powder that followed almost demolished the whole house. After the smoke had cleared, the detective discovered one of his comrades dead in front of the entrance to the room. The two survivors, with pistols drawn, fired aimlessly into the room and then saw the man they wanted sitting up in bed staring at them blankly. They grimly nodded that it would always be their secret.

Then the detective fired a bullet into Joe's head.

BREAK CHANGES TUNE

THE ageless argument: "Are Critics People?" was revived again the other evening, with the actors in the audience maintaining that critics might be people, but that they certainly weren't human beings, as if that mattered.

Then someone connected with the "Fifty Million Frenchmen" show remarked that Helen Broderick, one of its stars, was immensely pleased with the notice prepared by a certain entertainment inspector. "In fact," said the speaker, "you made her very happy, and she asked me to thank you very much."

"Tell her," replied the drama defender, "never to thank a critic for anything she rates." The reviewer then turned to his table neighbor and whispered: "Four years ago, because I could only give her a line in a review of a second-rate show, she cornered me in a restaurant and commented bitterly."

CRITICS ALSO HELPFUL

SPEAKING of dramatic critics (who have been abused since The first critic Of His Time hit his brother Abel on the head with something or other), there is the case of Evelyn Hoey versus the New York dramatic critics.

Miss Hoey, who appears to be a very young person, is in the same show with Helen Broderick. When the production was polishing off its rough edges in the provinces, Miss Hoey had little confidence in her ability. She felt that she was not up to the show's standard, she told intimates, and finally she implored her booking agent to get her release from the management.

"In New York," she whimpered, "I will be a flop and my reputation will be shot. You must get me out of this show!" However, nothing could be done about getting a substitute on such short notice, and Miss Hoey was a pretty dejected person when the premiere night arrived here.

The following morning, however, nearly all the critics submitted A-plus reports and one of them even said she was "grand!"

Today Evelyn Hoey is a happy girl, and we were just wondering if she would have been as happy if there were no critics to encourage aspiring and exceptionally talented young entertainers who haven't much confidence in themselves.

DEATH TRAP HIS OWN

"PUT up your hands!" they both yelled, but before finishing their command they realized he was dead. The other policeman came to the scene, leaping over the body in the hall, and after inspecting the room, the detective realized that they hadn't killed the prisoner, but that he had arranged for his own end, in case he couldn't escape.

The maniac had outfitted the place so that if the door to his room ever opened from the outside it would release the trigger of a shotgun aimed at his own head—which is how he died.

Then the detective in charge looked at the body of his dead officer and discovered a most horrible thing! The dead comrade had not been felled by any bullets coming out of the room! There had been only one shot—the one that killed the murderer! There wasn't any blood on the dead officer. Or a wound. He died of fright!

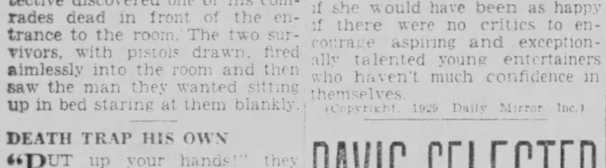
Grouping his men about him the detective coldly said: "This disgrace must never be known. All of you were Joe's pals and if you ever let it out that he didn't die in action trying to capture that madman, you will not only blacken his name, but that of the department. Remember! None of you must ever tell the truth!"

DAVIS SELECTED FOR PANAMA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Among the diplomatic appointments to Latin America which President Hoover soon will send to the Senate are those of Roy T. Davis, of Missouri, to be minister to Panama, and H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, of Washington, to be minister to Costa Rica.

Davis has been minister to Costa Rica since 1922, having been transferred to San Jose by President Harding from Guatemala, to which country he was appointed by Harding the year previous to begin a diplomatic career.

Schoenfeld is a career man and now holds a commission as minister to Bulgaria under appointment last year by President Coolidge. He never did go to Sofia, however, and now is serving as secretary general of the Paraguay-Bolivia Commission of Inquiry and Conciliation.



TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

But doggone it, I'm always hilarious
When I should be weeping on somebody's coat.

GUEST REVOLTS AGAINST DEBAUCH IN STINGING SPEECH!

PALACES OF SIN: It is a tense scene, as Mrs. G——'s gay party is suddenly hushed by a voice from the head of the table, where a wine glass has been turned upside down rather than permit the hostess to fill it with table wine from her "cut glass bottle." The speech, as recorded in the text, follows—

"Never so long as I live will I ever again taste wine or champagne, especially in the presence of ladies, as no gentleman can afford to set an example for another man's sister, which he would not allow his own sister to follow, and no true gentleman can think as much of a lady after she drinks wine as he can before, and no true gentleman will allow a lady to do it if he can prevent it."

What did innocent Ruth Willmore do? How did her devil-may-dare escort react to this sudden defy? See tomorrow's issue!

Who Put the Mess In the Message?

PRIME MINISTER RAMSAY MACDONALD said:

"NO PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES IS GOING TO GO BACK UPON THEIR TRADITIONAL POLICY OF KEEPING OUT OF EUROPEAN MESSES."

Ramsay MacDonald said that after he had been to America d learned the temper of the American people.

But an American President DID go back upon the aditional policy of the United States and DID put the Euroan mess into a Presidential message. President Hoover said:

"I shall direct that our signature be affixed to the rotocol of adherence (to the court of international justice) nd shall submit it for the approval of the Senate with a pecial message at some time when it is convenient to deal ith it."

Ramsay MacDonald was WRONG in thinking that no resident would go back upon the traditional policy of this untry.

Washington, according to Mr. Hoover WAS WRONG in ging the United States to keep out of foreign entangleents; and the American people WERE OBVIOUSLY RONG, if they wanted to keep out of European messes, in ecting Mr. Hoover President of the United States.

However, Mr. MacDonald was right in one thing when said:

"THE AMERICAN PEOPLE CERTAINLY ARE OT GOING TO MIX THEMSELVES UP IN EUROEAN MESSES."

And Mr. Hoover will learn that fact before he finishes his m.

It is difficult to know why Mr. Hoover decided to go back on the traditional policy of this country as maintained since e time of Washington, with the single exception of President ilson, and mix the United States up in European messes.

It is hard to decide what influenced him; whether it was e international bankers to whom he was under certain obligans for his nomination, or whether it was his long residence road and his association with foreign nations.

Certainly it was not the wish or the welfare of the Ameri- people that influenced him, or the tradition of the nation ce the foundation of the republic.

Certainly it was not the attitude and the utterances of the tion's great statesmen, including Washington, Jefferson, adison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Roosevelt.

The issue is fairly drawn between the public and the Presint, and the people should take the issue to the polls and fight out there, beginning with the immediate senatorial elections d culminating with the election of a progressive Democratic ngress and a progressive Democratic President, if that is the ly way in which this country can be kept to a traditionally nerican policy of MINDING ITS OWN BUSINESS.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

Wilbur Snobbishly Hits Education for Masses

"We cannot rise higher than our source," confesses Mr. ilbur in his first annual report as Secretary of the Interior.

Seemingly this is sadly so in the case of Secretary Wilbur.

Secretary Wilbur opposes the establishment of a departent of education because he is unable to view public educaon from the standpoint of the plain people of this country who e its chief beneficiaries.

Secretary Wilbur opposes giving to education an equal lace in the cabinet of the President with that now held by griculture, commerce, and labor because he views public eduation from the standpoint of the subsidized head of a highly ndowed private university.

It is as the spokesman of private education for private inrests that he says that "a department of education similar to e other departments of the government is not required."

It is in the same capacity that he insults the national uniersities at West Point and Annapolis by snobbishly asserting at "there have, fortunately, been no national universities."

It is in the same capacity that he reflects upon the work state universities throughout the country by insisting that eir "constant stimulation" comes from "these private instiutions" of one of which he is still the president on leave of bsence.

In view of his confession in his annual report that "we nnot rise higher than our source" and his demonstration that cannot rise high enough to view public education from the andpoint of the plain people instead of from the Presidential air of a privately endowed university, all recommendations in gard to education made by Secretary Wilbur ought to be nored by Congress.

Let the Congress ignore the opposition of Secretary Wilr to effective federal leadership in the promotion of educaon by the several states and pass the pending bill establishing department of education which would be headed not by Secary Wilbur but by a secretary of education in genuine mpathy with public education.

$36,000,000 Yule Pay Assures Merry Christmas

Christmas payroll in Pittsburgh $36,000,000!

Within a small sum of that of last year, and $10 per fam-, or more than $4,000,000, in excess of the Christmas payroll 1927!

This information is based on computations announced by seph C. Nevin, manager of the Pittsburgh branch, Federal serve Bank, that three dozen million dollars will be released banks in Pittsburgh for circulation during the Christmas riod.

Mr. Nevin predicted that the present holiday season will a great one. One can readily imagine that it will be with ch an enormous amount of money to make Christmas merry. lready there is evidence that buying has swelled the current mercantile business. Many really are giving attention to the shop early" slogan and they, of course, will find themselves have been better served than those who delay.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

Anonymous Indignation

MR. BUGS BAER:

After reading your article entitled, "For Mercy's Sake," I cannot resist letting you know of the disgust you arouse in me. The very cheapness of it is amazing. I am certain that you must be the only one in the world to ridicule the deed in the way you have. Your article is not clever nor funny, but only cheap, cheap as your understanding of human nature, love and suffering.

"Bugs" Baer

LOUISE T.

The article in question dealt with a young Englishman who slaughtered his mother in France and pleaded self-defense, adenoids and bad weather.

Considering that the young man only killed his ma, we want to say that Louise T. is easily disgusted.

As to our understanding of suffering, Louise T. forgets what happened in Wall street last month.

The above is a real letter. We merely censored one ladylike expression in order to print it.

Louise T. seems incensed by our indorsed statement that the young man should have been a sportsman and given his ma a five-yard start.

Either that, or he should have staked her to a gun and made the duel even.

We don't know what Louise T. does for a living. But we hope she ain't a trained nurse.

The habit of killing the wounded and infirm is characteristic of the animal world. That's why we eat broccoli.

The injured wolf is immediately chewed up and absorbed by the lupine huddle. But he has an advantage over an old, sick lady in that his false teeth are not reposing in a glass on the dressing table.

He can bite back. Louise T. is wrong about the cheapness of our human nature and love. We are sentimental and hopeful and spent Thanksgiving Day looking for a wishbone in corned beef hash.

If any single person in this vale of sorrow and investments has the right to end another person's life, then we must apologize to Bluebeard.

He was a good man. But he hung them up on their dates.

Louise T. may be sincere. But, personally, we don't care to meet a good Samaritan with a blackjack.

IT WAS EVER THUS

By Herbert Kaufman

MR. HOOVER begins to discover that the framers of the Constitution designed Federal machinery with a stronger BRAKE than motor.

The real power of the government is vested in Congress, not the Executive.

And whenever an obdurate House or Senate decides to exercise its CONTRARY authority, the best laid Presidential plans must eat humble pie.

Such a situation is now in the making at Washington, and unless party leadership, of a more brilliant character than that which showed in the last Session, has meanwhile quelled the rebellion within Republican ranks, a period of wrangling, stalemates, and aborted public business may be expected by the country.

To what extent Mr. Hoover's message shall furnish oil for the Administration's troubled waters, the sagest looker-on dare not so SOON estimate.

THE blocs, coalitions and cross-alliances, germinated by the Tariff issue, may yet fructify into formidable seditions with recruits from both parties.

Re-alignments of traditionally co-operating states are quite in the cards. A decisive conflict for Senate control, between industry and agriculture, can only be fore-fended by bold and shrewd helmsmanship.

If PAST experience is a reliable criterion, the national exigencies suggested by stock-market collapse and subsequent economic surveys, will not likely heal organization ruptures, or bring the "Sons of Wild Jackasses" back to the GOP fold again.

Confusion is worse confounded by the several recent deaths of tried and true bellwethers, whose successors to strategic committeeships are reputedly NOT as prone to march to OLD GUARD tunes.

BUT, for the President's consolation, let it be said that he is no Christopher Columbus discovering any ORIGINAL worlds of trouble.

Adverse majorities have defied White House will since Hector was whelped.

A hundred years ago, it was pointed out that our system "prevents the adoption of any permanent and far-sighted policy, tending slowly but surely to augment public wealth and prosperity.

"One man will not plant that another may reap the harvest of his labors.

"In short, it is an inherent and monstrous evil that American statesmen must legislate for the PRESENT, and not for the FUTURE—that they are forced, by the NECESSITY of their situation, to follow the policy most in accordance with the immediate prejudices of the people, rather than that which is calculated to promote the highest and best interests of the community."

AND again, quoting NOT from contemporary sources, but from an 1883 pundit, "One of the great evils, is the sectional spirit apparent in all the proceedings of Congress. Measures are estimated not by their tendency to benefit the WHOLE Union, but by the degree in which they may be made to subserve PARTICULAR interests.

"One portion of the states is banded against another—every species of trickery and cabal is put in requisition to secure such local objects as may be conducive to the advantage of given districts."

In some respects, we don't seem to have changed VERY much since Andrew Jackson ALSO locked horns with Capitol Hill.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

HAVE you looked them over lately, those gangs of men and women, boys and girls, going to work?

And if you have, are you seeing what I think I'm seeing . . . THAT THE WOMEN LOOK STRONGER THAN THE MEN?

Note those girl workers . . . their pep . . . the vigorous clatter of their feet, the independent tilt of their chins, the alertness and awareness of their eyes . . . ever see anything LIVELIER than those youngsters? But how about the boys with them? They're slim and sleek and dapper . . . they're great wisecrackers . . . they're frequently clever and efficient. But isn't there something lacking lately? Honest, now, have they as much stamina as the girls? DOESN'T IT STRIKE YOU THAT BOYS ARE GETTING MORE LIKE GIRLS . . . AND GIRLS MORE LIKE BOYS?

All I know is that you see the shop windows filled with pink silk undies for male . . . AND A LOT OF THE MALES ONE MEETS LOOK AS IF THEY WORE 'EM!

The story is even plainer on the married women's faces. With every year they face harder competition and carry heavier responsibility. Have you noticed how, gradually, their lips set in a stubborn fighting line, and their eyes become ruthless? They're formidable, those married women workers. They're doing something to human history. With their double shift, they're facing the sort of drill that turns men into "shock troops." What is it doing to them?

Few men realize that women workers do carry a double shift. . . . THAT SUCH WOMEN ARE ACTUALLY WORKING HARDER THAN MEN. But they are. Taken job by job . . . woman job against man job . . . the factory or office . . . and their stints stack up pretty evenly. The boy in the box factory as against the girl in the laundry, cannery and restaurant . . . the specialty shop saleswoman as against the automobile salesman . . . the stenog as against the billing clerk . . . the male executive as against the female . . . their hours and loads are on a parity. But here's the rub:

THE MAN'S JOB STOPS WHEN HE LEAVES THE OFFICE . . . THE WOMAN'S JOB GOES ON.

The bachelor steps out for an evening's amusement, the married man reads his paper and tunes in on the radio. But the single girl helps ma around the house or, if she is living alone, cooks and cleans in her own apartment. She adds at least two hours of work to her eight before she is free. The married woman often doubles her hours, for she comes home to serve her husband, her children and carry on the housework as though she had no other occupation.

INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY DOES NOT EMANCIPATE THE AVERAGE WOMAN FROM HOUSEWORK. SHE MERELY ADDS THE TYPEWRITER TO THE BROOM.

Whereupon, about 9,526,843 indignant males will ask: "Well, then, why don't she get out of industry?" For exactly the same reason that men don't get out of industry, brothers. She can't. Ladies must eat.

So mama and sis get out and hustle besides Dad 'n' Bill. BUT THEY CARRY TWO JOBS TO THEIR ONE. What's the result? Go out and look at that gang in the street and figure the result for yourself.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

THIS is the blind spot; at this point there are no sense-cells at all, so no appreciation of the image is possible. Under normal conditions the blind spot of one eye is covered by a sensitive part of the other so its existence is not suspected.

The characteristic thing about the eye is the precision of the spatial information that it can obtain. By means of its nose a mouse can tell that there is a cat about somewhere; by means of its ears, it can hear him moving and locate him roughly; but, by means of its eye, it can get precise information of the enemy's whereabouts—and that, after all, is the most important thing to know.

H. G. Wells.

SENSATIONS OF POSITION AND MOVEMENT

We have already remarked that the muscles, tendons and joints are provided with minute sense organs of elementary structure, sensitive to such stimuli as the tension in a muscle or the degree to which the two faces of a joint slide over each other. By means of these organs our impressions of the relative positions of our parts are derived.

If, for example, we close our eyes and allow some other person to move one of our arms into a new position we have no difficulty in feeling what position the arm has been put into. Such sensations are due to these simple organs in the muscles and joints.

The central nervous system is continually receiving impulses from these organs, and such impulses play a very important part in controlling movements.

Obviously, if the central government wants to put the right hand into any particular position the muscles that must be called into action depend on the position that the movement starts from.

During complex acts, such as walking, impulses are constantly streaming in from the joints and muscles, informing the central government what stage in the walking process has been reached so that it may know what to do next. This point may not seem very evident to the reader, but it is amply proved by the symptoms of diseases, such as locomotor ataxia, in which the sensory nerves of the legs are put out of action, while the motor nerves are unimpaired. There is no loss of power in the muscles, but there is a surprising loss of control. Even in the early stages the patient has to look at his legs while he is walking to get some idea of what to do next; usually he exaggerates his movements, raising the feet too high at each step and putting them to the ground with a stamp.

In the later stages, walking becomes quite impossible; when an attempt is made the legs are thrown about in all sorts of directions without any effective result.

Thus, in spite of well-nourished muscles and intact motor nerves, the patient's legs are paralyzed as far as any useful activity is concerned.

In addition to these important sense-organs there is yet another group, a group of very elaborate and specialized sense-organs, situated in the head, from which we get impressions of the position and movements of the body as a whole.

The labyrinth of the inner ear, as we have seen, is a holiday bag of complicated architecture, embedded in bone. Moreover, only a part of it is concerned with the perception of sounds. On its left is the spirally coiled cochlea, where sound vibrations are converted into touch-stimuli; in the middle there is a bag, the vestibule, and on the right lie the structures with which we must now concern ourselves.

It will be seen that there are three arching tubes, the semi-circular canals, each leading out of the vestibule, sweeping round in a regular half-circle, and opening again into the vestibule. It is important to observe that these three canals lie in three planes at right angles to each other. The posterior canal lies in the plane of the page, while the other two stand out perpendicularly from it; at the same time the planes of the superior and lateral canals are perpendicular to each other.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Many printed rumors that Brione, the little Italian isle in the Adriatic, whither the Gene Tunneys fled from publicity, is booming, are not exaggerated. Glittering folders picturing its charms are racked in travel bureaus and returning voyagers say it is becoming an exclusive haven.

When Tunney, already angry over the intimacy of the "Gene and Polly" tabloid headlines, was trying to escape the journalistic pack in Paris, a friend told him of the isolation of Brione. They paid a visit and found it an ideal hideaway for their interrupted honeymoon.

There were scarcely more than a handful of sojourners there then—chiefly retired Englishmen and wives living in villas or at the lone hotel. Tunney found a sequestered place overlooking the sea. Here he and his bride walked, rode and swam unmolested—for a few weeks.

But the champion was still newspaper copy, despite his retirement, and correspondents "barged over." News was flashed to all corners of the globe bearing a Brione date line. Idle rich cruising in their yachts began to drop anchors nearby.

The drousing village suddenly awoke. The island is owned by a rich and retired Viennese who gained the island through inheritance and was spending declining years there. He has been stirred by the possibilities. A big gambling casino and three hotels have passed the blue print stage.

The social tide first set in late last summer when Vincent Astor's yacht lay off Brione. Tom Chadbourne steamed up in his palatial boat. Otto Kahn dropped over from Paris. George Bernard Shaw arrived, and the island got another shower of publicity.

Another inspiring figure out of the rough and tumble world of fistiana is James J. Corbett—still the debonaire, clear-eyed Gentleman Jim of a dimming generation. He lives at Great Neck, the theatrical colony, and is frequently routed over a vaudeville circuit. At times he is seen in midtown on way to the Lambs. His step is springy, his shoulders squared and he seems perenially poised as though waiting the familiar gong.

They were discussing the newest of comedians, the hollow-eyed Charles Butterworth and his success this season. "But," observed a critic, "he cannot sing or dance. He can only make people laugh."

"Did you ever hear of Kreisler?" ventured a listener. Adding: "He only plays a violin."

In the New York telephone directory there is listed: Charles Smith, atheist. Mr. Smith is president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, and is quite proud of his job.

A scurvy trick is being employed by bootleggers who lose a customer. They learn what rival lands the business and wait for a day or two after an order is placed. Then they phone excitedly, saying it is the new bootlegger and a discovery has been made the delivered goods are bad. It not only results in a severe fright, but in the hurried destruction of the liquor.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

THERE was a Scotchman that had lost his roll somehow, and he seemed to be up against it. Well, he met another fellow in Hoboken, where things is kinda different to what they are in a lot of towns, and the friend says to Sandy, "Well, I'll tell you, if you're really hungry and broke, come to this here saloon on the corner with me. They got a free lunch."

So Sandy went with his friend, and he stepped inside. But he looked around and started out.

"See here," his friend says, "ain't you hungry no more?"

"Aye," says Sandy. "But it'll niver do today. The sign says, 'Free Lunch from Nine to Six,' and it's half-past one already! I'll come back tomorrow!"

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

HAVE you the opinion that you are about as near perfect as it is necessary for a man to be?

And do you feel that you have a right to those certain little infractions of social laws in which you indulge?

Perhaps you consider your little misdeeds not very serious anyway.

By comparison you like to think you are considerably better than most men whom you know—sort of superior to them.

Are you as charitable in overlooking their faults as you are when you consider your own?

Do you not get quite a little satisfaction in enumerating the detrimental things you know about other persons? And, while you are relating the rumors, do you not add a bit to the scandal you hear and by your manner indicate that all has not been told?

Knowing yourself as you do, why should you desire to assist in circulating damaging reports about anyone?

Are there not many things that might be said about you that might contain enough of truth to be embarrassing?

What right have you to help spread evil statements about anyone?
